Football a Misnomer.

Football is a fraud, so far as the name of the sport is concerned, and it's a Harvard alumnus who makes the discovery. Because of that, Richthe name of the gradiron pastime to be changed Football leads one to believe that there is some connection between the foot and the ball. There generally is, when Charley Brickley or kickers of the age are doing the trick, but Mr. Francis, by delving into the mathematical phase of the game, has liscovered that on the average the ball is klicked only once in nearly twenty plays, and that "football" as a itle for the game is a gross misnom-
