HAD HER WISH GRATIFIED

DROPPED DEAD AT THE HOME OF HER LIFE-LONG FRIEND.

Mrs. Jane Purdy Passed Away on Monday Morning While Visiting Mrs. Ferris, Barrie Street.

After expressing the wish many times that she might die at the home of her life-long friend, Mrs. Ferris, at the corner of York and Barrie streets, Mrs. Jane Purdy, a well-known Kingston resident, had her wish gratified on Monday morning. The deceased was in the habit of walking down to the home of Mrs. Ferris about three or four times a week, and many times was heard to say: "When I die I hope it will be at her home." On Monday morning she took the walk from her home on Nelson street, and going in the front door spoke a word of greeting to Mrs. Ferris, who was upstairs. She walked as far as the kitchen and dropped dead on the floor from an attack of heart failure.

James Reid's ambulance was called, and the remains were taken to her late home at 266 Nelson street, where she had been residing for some time.

The deceased was seventy-one years of age and a Methodist in religion. There are no survivors, her husband having died seven years ago.

CORP. JAMES ATKINS RETURNS FROM FRONT

First Portsmouth Boy to Return Welcomed Home on Saturday Afternoon.

Corpl. James Atkins, the first Portsmouth boy to return from the front, arrived on Saturday afternoon, coming directly from the Ontario Military Hospital, Orpington, England. Corpl. Atkins left Kingston with the 14th Regiment detchment, under the late Capt. George T. Richardson. After practically continuous work in the trenches, he left France at the end of June last, going to the Ontario Hospital. Here he received excellent treatment, being under the care of Kingstonians. Among the staff of this hospital whom he met was Capt. Edward Ryan, formerly superintendent of Rockwood Hospital. Capt. Ryan, besides his usual hospital work, goes to various hospitals, keeping track of Canadians and bringing them as much as possible into the one centre.

Corpl. Atkins sailed from England on the S.S. Grampian, arriving in Canada last week. He was welcomed home by Mayor Hughes, Reeve Halliday and Councillor M. Kennedy.

A CLOSE CALL FROM DEATH

W. J. TURKINGTON SUFFERED A BAD FALL.

Fell Downstairs at Charles Donoghue's Elevator and Suffered Serious Injuries to His Shoulder—Saved by Pile of Empty Bags.

W. J. Turkington, residing at 44 Main street, and employed at Charles Donoghue's grain elevator, had a narrow escape from death on Saturday while he was at work in the elevator.

He was upstairs handling a bag of grain. He got it too near the railing, and in his endeavor to save it from going over he slipped and fell down the stairway. There was no railing to prevent his going over. He fell a distance of fourteen feet, and it is a miracle that he was not killed. The fact that he fell on a pile of empty bags is believed to have saved his life, as it was the means of breaking the fall.

Mr. Turkington suffered serious injuries to his shoulder, the ligaments being badly strained.

QUEEN'S GRADUATE KILLED

CAPT. H. JARMAN GAVE UP HIS LIFE IN GREECE.

He Went Over With the Doctors in 1915 and Saw Service in Greece With the Imperial Forces.

Capt. Harry Jarman, killed in action on Jan. 15th, was overseas in May, 1915, with the Queen's University Medical Corps, having been given his degree of Doctor of Medicine just before the close of his final year in order that he might take advantage of the opportunity to give his services in the splendid work which cost him his life. Shortly after his arrival in England he was attached to the R.A.M.C., and given the rank of captain. He spent six months in France, and was then sent to Greece, from which place letters were received from him frequently telling of his work and expressing the hope that he would be spared to visit his home again at expiration of his second year. He was a son of G. L. Jarman, Bancroft.
