Successful Dance Held.

The Junior Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire held a successful dance at the Elmhurst Convalescent Home on Monday evening to raise money to furnish the new recreation room of the home. Part of the R.C. H.A. band furnished music. The chaperones were Mrs. T. D. R. Hemming and Mrs. G. Gunter Ogilvie.

Deserters Going Overseas.

Capt. James Graham, provost marshal, will leave to-night for Halifax with eight men who have been held as deserters. The men are to be placed with overseas battalions.

Coming to Griffin's.

America's sweetheart, Mary Pickford, in "Less Than the Dust," Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Feb. 1st, 2nd and 3rd.

Miss Isabel Atkins was presented with a nurses' engraved silver wrist watch on the eve of her departure from the Oddfellows' Relief Association to go into training as a nurse at the General Hospital.

The case of Radage vs. Smith, which was heard at Osgoode Hall on a reserved point, will come before Judge Leavelle on Monday next. The General Hospital Women's Aid Society met Monday. Mrs. J. C. Connell and Mrs. H. W. Snelling were appointed visitors for the coming month.

Dr. J. W. Edwards of Frontenac is a characteristic address in parliament, blames the Liberal leader for disparity in recruiting.

It was $14,000 not $14,000 the people of Trinidad gave for Red Cross purposes in eleven months.

MILITARY CIRCLES

E. S. Reynolds, son of Judge Reynolds, Brockville, serving for two years as a sapper with Queen's Engineers, has gone to London to receive a commission. For the past two years he has been actively engaged in the trenches and other work of the engineering branch of the service.

Officers of the 253rd Queen's University Highlanders are receiving Argyll and Sutherland Highland plaid for dress uniform.

Rev. Canon W. F. Fitzgerald on Sunday morning conducted divine service at Fort Henry for the members of the 14th Regiment Guard. This is the first divine service conducted for the men of the guard since moving to Fort Henry quarters. Canon Fitzgerald gave a splendid sermon on "The Cause of the War and the Responsibility of Those in Khaki."

Pte. Harry Saunders, of the 14th Regiment Guard, is critically ill in the Osgoode Military Hospital, suffering from pneumonia.

One of the families suffering through the recent fire on Patrick street, in which two houses were wiped out, was Pte. Frank Guirey, of the 14th Regiment Guard. The members of the Guard and the fort staff are showing their sympathy in a tangible way.

George Henry Clow, better known as "Harry," the second eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. David Clow, Brockville, has enlisted with the 72nd Battery, Kingston. "Harry" is only sixty-two inches in height and just past his eighteenth birthday.

The Lindsay Post says of the new O.C. of the 252nd Battalion: Major "Rod" Porter's many friends will congratulate him on his appointment. He entered the ranks of the 45th Battalion at an early age, and by dint of close application to matters military his advance was rapid.

His ability as an officer was recognized after war was declared, when he was appointed on important recruiting work in this section as well as in other parts of the province. Latterly he was attached to the divisional headquarters, Kingston, where he was assigned important work, and where he was looked upon as an efficient officer, whose work has produced splendid results. He is immensely popular in his home town, and as successor to Lieut.-Col. Glass, O.C. 252nd Battalion (who has asked to be relieved) can be depended upon to work with zeal and enthusiasm in order to recruit the battalion up to strength.

Capt. Thackaray, chaplain of the artillery units, was at headquarters on Tuesday before leaving for Ottawa on recruiting duty.

Lieut.-Col. P. S. Benoit, Royal Canadian Engineers, has been transferred from Halifax to Kingston to take over the duties as officer commanding the Royal Canadian Engineers, which was held formerly by Lieut.-Col. C. J. Burritt, now on the headquarters staff at Ottawa. Capt. P. Palmer has been acting C.R.C.E. since Col. Burritt left. Col. Benoit has a splendid experience as military engineer, and should be a valuable man to the district.

Sergt.-Major Taylor, who has been on the engineer staff here for the last six years, has been transferred to Winnipeg and will leave on Friday to take over his new duties. It is deeply regretted in military circles that such a valuable man to the district should have been changed to the west, but the causes for the transfer bring nothing but credit to the popular foreman of works.

Lieut.-Col. F. M. Bell, deputy director general of medical services, headquarters staff, Ottawa, was at headquarters on Tuesday in conference with officers there.

It is reported that Warden C. G. McKnight, of the Frontenac County Council, has secured a commission in the Forestry Battalion for overseas service.

LOOK LIKE WINNERS.

Depot Battery Boys Ahead in Intermediate O. H. A.

The Depot Batteries team, which has practically clinched the championship of the Kingston Intermediate section of the Ontario Hockey Association, is made up almost entirely of Ottawa boys. They now lead the race with three wins and one loss, and have only one more game to play, which they also expect to win. They will play off with the Peterboro sextet. They suffered their only loss at the hands of the Belleville aggregation on the latter's ice by the score of 8 to 7.

The Depot Batteries squad is the only soldier team in this part of the country to make any kind of a showing in the O. H. A. series. All the other khaki sextets have been overwhelmed. Four members of the Depot six are from the 72nd Battery, namely: Joe Tubman, Bertie Burke, Ivan Roy and Jack Grimes; while Fred Tobin, Bill Spence and Billy Burnett, who also form part of the squad, are Ottawa boys with one of the units centered here. Great interest is taken in the sport by the members of the batteries, and as a result the team has a large following. Capt. O'Leary is manager of the team and Capt. Hamilton looks after the coaching. Sergt. Roy Anderson is their press agent.

THEATRICAL NEWS

At the Grand.

Last night's bill drew forth favorable comment from the merry multitude at the Grand. Lionel Barrymore appeared in a five-reel feature, "The Brand of Cowardice." This picture, portrays in an exciting manner the experiences and adventures of a young soldier and beautiful girl in the zone of trouble on the Mexican border. Billie Burke, America's leading serial film star, was seen in the fifth chapter of "Gloria's Romance." This instalment is mysterious, deliciously thrilling, baffling and most fascinating. Other films were "Onda of the Orient," a three-reel feature. "The Plumber's Waterloo," a comedy, and the "Pathe News." The Gregories presented a pleasing singing and bird imitation whistling specialty that was well received. Programme repeated to-night.

"Aladdin-And His Wonderful Lamp." Kingston is to have its first English pantomime on Wednesday Jan. 31th, matinee and night at the Grand Opera House when the well-known author-manager E. Stuart Whyte presents his elaborate production of "Aladdin-and His Wonderful Lamp."

"Aladdin is a classic among pantomimes, founded upon the stories in the famous Arabian Nights, it takes precedence over those of less pretentious origin, such as nursery rhymes and old proverbs. With all of its scenes laid in China and its characters Chinese, the costumes and settings admit of lavish investiture and a predominance of picturesque color schemes. There are two honest hearts in China, the possessors of them being Aladdin and the Princess So-Shi, whose course of true love runs as smoothly as a nineteen thirteen Ford on a provincial highway. The pantomime is in five acts, or scenes, and will be presented here by a company of thirty-five distinguished artists, not to forget the perfect beauty chorus.

At the Strand.

Do you like a mystery picture? Do you enjoy a picture that holds you in suspense until the very end—a tale so full of mystery that you never notice the passing moments? Such a story is "Somewhere in France," the new triangle play, co-starring Louise Glauco and Howard Hickman, by the late Richard Harding Davis, now showing at the Strand. "Somewhere in France" is a thrilling war drama of mystery and secret service intrigue, and it is sure to fascinate you. Then there's Fred Mace in "Bath Tub Perils," a mile of Keystone fun and frolic. Other good reels and polite vaudeville, with Frank Nash, banjoist, complete an up-to-date programme.

Coming to Griffin's.

In her new play, "Less Than the Dust," Mary Pickford has the role of a little castaway of English birth who has been reared among natives of the lowest taste of India. The scenes are all laid in India and England and are remarkably faithful pictures of both lands in scenic sets of great beauty and wonderful effect. One of the scenes shows a street with its shops and bazaars and all of the color and ever changing views of an eastern thoroughfare. Another shows the British garrison. Then there is a great stone temple and the pool of the sacred waters while another effective picture is made of a storm in the desert, and there is a battle between natives and British troops. The story is full of dramatic force, and Miss Pickford's part is a blending of the delightful comedy, winsomeness and innocence that give her partrayals such an appealing, girlish charm. Through all of the changing scenes there is a human love story of which the little castaway and a dashing young officer are the central figures.

OLD-TIME REMEDY MAKES PURE BLOOD

Hood's Sarsaparilla has been and still is the people's medicine because of its reliable character and its wonderful success in purifying, enriching and revitalizing the blood and relieving the common diseases and ailments—scrofula, catarrh, rheumatism, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, that tired feeling, general debility.

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies and enriches the blood, and in so doing renders the human system the greatest service possible. This medicine has been tested for years. It is perfectly pure, clean and absolutely safe, as well as of peculiar and unequalled medicinal merit.

Get Hood's, and get it now from any drug store.
