Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood. and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. Ludendorff has never been inter-viewed, Mr. Swope tells us. Sometimes he has sat beside Hindenburg when this general was being interrogated by newspaper correspondents. On these occasions Ludendorff throws in a remark now and then. "We do not think of peace, he observed once. "No way but war leads to peace." Again he remarked, "There is no blind fate. Numerical superjority and danger exist only for the weak. A firm will commands fate." Hindenburg, as we know, is much more loquacious, and as he talks he now and then glances at his silent adviser with the idea of noting times in his fits of talkativeness. especially after having fraternized with what Lloyd George called the most deadly of England's foes, Hindenburg has attributed his success to his subordinates, and those who have followed Ludendorff's career suppose that it is chiefly this subordinate that he has in mind. mystery of the Battle of Tannenburg, and the defeat of the Russians in the Mazurian marshes have never been explained either by Russia or Germany, and it is said that Ludendorff since he devised the scheme which won the notable German victories.
