NEW ORANGE HALL OPENED

WITH MUCH CEREMONY ON THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

Grand Master McLean Dedicated the Building—Speeches Delivered Before Large Gathering in the Evening.

With all the ceremony and ritual of the Orange Order, the new Orange Hall on P. Innes street was dedicated to the order on Thursday afternoon when a large number of members of the highest orders of the lodge were present. The new hall was fairly well filled with members for the event.

Grand Master Capt. E. H. McLean, Grand Master of Ontario East officiated. He was assisted by H. C. Hocken, Grand Master of Ontario West, and ex-mayor of Toronto; E. T. Esary, K.C., London, Past Grand Master of Ontario West; Duncan Munroe, Cornwall, Past Grand Master of Ontario East; Judge Scott, Perth, Past Grand Master of British Columbia; E. F. Clarke, Belleville, Grand Secretary of Ontario East; William E. Lee, Toronto, Grand Secretary of British America; B. Kirk, Toronto, Grand Master of Young Britons; William Banks, Toronto, Secretary of the Legislature Committee, and Past Grand Master of Ontario West; A. A. Gray, Toronto, County Master of York County; William FitzGerald, Toronto, and Capt. William Crawford, Toronto.

Concert in Evening.

A concert and addresses by prominent citizens of the city and district and high officers of the Orange Order were given on Thursday evening. The musical numbers were of as high an order as the addresses which were by some of the best speakers in the Dominion.

W. F. Nickle, M. P., opened the meeting with a few appropriate words. Mayor J. M. Hughes presided and introduced the speakers. Charles Webster said the trustees had turned the hall over free of debt and with a good rent roll.

Bro. H. C. Hocken, Toronto, Grand Master of Ontario West knows the ambitions and objects of the Orange order probably better than most of its members, and in his remarks he showed the way in which the association is being built up. He stated that the Orange association is really the only Canada institution which is teaching Protestantism. This is a duty which has not been taken up by the churches.

In opening he congratulated the Orangemen of Kingston on their enterprise in making such a fine home for the Orange order. He said that he knew of some of the Orange buildings through this country, but none were any better than the local edifice. He congratulated the architect on his splendid sense of proportion and design. The beauty of the building is bound to bring an increased membership.

Mr. Hocken then turned his attention to the bases on which the Orange order has been built up. "The Orange order is one of sincerity and tolerance," he said. The memoirs of Sir Richard Cartwright showed this when it was said the Orangemen have long memories, but could not be bought.

Orange Order Not Intolerant.

The Orange order in Canada had at times been grossly misrepresented, the speaker said. This was manifestly wrong. The case of Mrs. Darcell of Quebec proved that point. The Orange order has already spent $7,000, and were prepared to spend $7,000 more to prove that the civil law is higher than the ecclesiastical law. This woman is a Roman Catholic, a French Canadian Roman Catholic.

USE "TIZ" FOR SORE, TIRED, ACHING FEET

No More Puffed-Up, Burning, Sweaty, Calloused Feet or Corns.

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-cracked, aching, burning, corn-pestered, tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot tortures. Get a 25 cent box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.

ISAAC ZACKS

farmer of Rockland, near Ottawa, had his farm rescued from a priest who was trying to foreclose a mortgage. This was done by the Orange order, which is tolerant, declared Mr. Hocken. It believes that every man has a right to worship his God as he pleases. It holds, however, that in its opinion the Protestant religion is the best form and was prepared to teach that doctrine.

On political grounds it intends to defend the interests of the public schools and the welfare of all boys and girls of the province, and holds that all should be in one set of schools. In 1908 the Orangemen of Ontario East and Ontario West decided that two sets of schools in Ontario were enough and prepared themselves to fight against French schools.

They have, consequently, fought so far and will continue to fight until every Ontario child gets an English education. In a democracy such as Canada is, the dangers of illiteracy is the greatest of all. The Orangemen are fighting for education and a united Canada.

Mr. Hocken then said, "If Senator Landry does not stop this agitation against the principles which the Orange order stand for, I can tell you that he runs a grave danger of having even the separate schools wiped out."

Mr. Hocken added that he did not mean it as a threat or a plan of action, but in a significant manner he showed that the British North America Act was not like the laws of the Isles and the Perisians.

He closed his speech by eulogizing Canada. It will be a country of 175 millions, and he hoped it would become the greatest part of the great British Empire.

Dr. J. W. Edwards, M. P., Dr. J. W. Edwards, M. P., referring to the Orange order, said that no other order or organization in the Dominion of Canada had done so much to uphold the principles for which men are dying in France and Flanders.

"Any person," said the speaker, "who runs up against certain officials or dignitaries of a different religious view will be labeled as narrow-minded and bigoted. I speak from bitter experience." He added that any member of the Orange order had much to be proud of. Every person, Catholic, has much to be grateful to the Orange order for. It is the organization that is big enough to stand up for certain principles which are threatened to be turned aside.

One of those cases was the Manitoba School question. Here was a case of a change of government created by the Orange Association. Every person, when they pray, if they do, has reason to thank God and the Orange order for many things. The same may be said of residents of the United States, if they ever raise their eyes from their money-bags long enough to pray and thank God for the British navy. That navy has kept the seas clear.

In regard to the part that Canada and parts of Canada had played in the world war, Mr. Hocken has already subscribed 96 per cent of its allotment of the 500,000 men Premier Borden promised Great Britain. The Maritime Provinces have given 60 per cent; Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia over 100 per cent; but Quebec has given less than 20 per cent. Quebec province had as much at stake but instead of acknowledging their debt they have put a burden on the rising generation.

The bilingual question could have been settled long ago, before it attained its present proportions but for political cowardice, said the speaker, who took objection to junketing trips between the provinces of Ontario and Quebec by university professors, whether they call themselves the Bona Entente or anything else. The Orange order should unite to put any government out of power when it compromises on the French question.

Hon. W. D. Macpherson, provincial secretary, first referred to the immensity of the work that the officials in Toronto were now engaged in and the nearness that had come to making his visit impossible.

In regard to the Orange order, he mentioned the pride he took in being a member, and what other members had a right to be proud of. He congratulated the city and county on having such representatives as W. F. Nickle, Dr. J. W. Edwards, A. M. Rankin and Col. A. E. Ross, referring at some length to the latter's recent bereavement.

On behalf of the returned soldiers he appealed to his audience to do everything possible for them. "It is our bounden duty to stand up for the returned soldier," said the speaker. The Soldiers' Aid Commission wanted help, and he would request that all complaints be made so that full justice could be done.

Mr. Macpherson then turned to some of the principles of the Orange lodge, referring at length to the sacredness of the married state. The women deserved every consideration, and pure married life by fixed laws was a principle of the order.

Mayor Hughes added a few words to the close of Mr. Macpherson's remarks, asking that complaints of returned soldiers be sent in for investigation.

Capt. E. H. McLean, Grand Master of Ontario East, mentioned the fact that he had been born at Brockville, and knew of Kingston's history and traditions. He hoped that pictures of men like the late Capt. Gaskin, James Barney and others would decorate the new Orange Hall, as did those of other illustrious men decorate the City Hall of Kingston. He corrected Dr. Edwards' statement about lack of organization in the Orange order, mentioning the work that was being carried on by the Legislative Committee of the order. He made reference to Capt. T. A. Kidd, who was present, and who is grand master of the Young Britons.

A. M. Rankin, M.P.; T. M. Clark, grand secretary of Ontario East; Duncan Munroe, F.G.M.; George George Boyce, F.G.M.; and Benjamin Kirk, Toronto, were on the programme of speakers, but owing to the lateness of the hour only the first named was able to say a few words. During the evening J. M. Bankier,
