Completely Restored To Health By "Fruit-a-tives"

382 St. VALIER St., MONTREAL. "In 1912, I was taken suddenly ill with Acute Stomach Trouble "and dropped in the street. I was treated by several physicians for nearly two years, and my weight dropped from ::25 pounds to 160 pounds. Then several of my friends advised me'to try "Fruita-tives". I began to improve almost with the first dose, and by using them, I recovered from the distressing Stomach Trouble-and all pain and Constipation were cured. Now I weigh 208 pounds. I cannot praise "Fruita-tives" enough". H. WHITMAN.

MY ATTENDANT SHAWS

(Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate) Carrying out a decision which had formed I prepared to take ample sleep during the day and keep awake night. I reached determination because of the terror which seized whenever I thought of lying helpless and unconscious in the huge I had no other thought at that time than that my fear would deprive me of the repose which nature required and that soon I would be physical and possibly a menta wreck. But as I formulated the details of my plan the thought occurred to me that by remaining awake st night I might learn the identity of my captor. I had no doubt that the ghost-like figure which had hovered about my bed the night before was that of the man who had ordered my imprisonment and who later had man bereft of his senses could have penned. If I could find a place to hide myself, or if I could control myself sufficiently to lie in bed and observe the man's entrance, watch him while he was in the room and see how he departed, I might not only learn who he was, but I might also discover the secret by which one could leave the mail-like chamber.

In order not to excite suspicion decided not to question my attendant, Jane, too closely about my surroundings when she came after preakfast to remove the table, but like many another resolution one soon was buffeted about by the tide of circumstances. She inquired gently of me if I had slept well and expressed regret when she learned

I had a bad night. "I can only hope that you will become accustomed to your surroundings in the near future and that you will be able to rest better," she said, sympathy apparent in her manner.

"It will be impossible for me to bedoes not become reconciled to her not know what I would do, but sum- to Kingston recently with a load of week. Mrs. Hill, Delta, was a guest fate. SIGNS OF COMPASSION You. I am quite sure of that." She spoke the last sentence as addressing herself, trying to convince herself of something.

"What assurance can I have that what you say is true " I asked. "None. But such is my belief." "And if you were mistaken, am not your jailer," she replied spiritlessly. "I am merely your attendant, I am not even responsible for your safe-keeping. My duty is to see that your wants are satisfied. When that is done my duty ceases." I lookel at her keenly. Something told me that this woman was serving a master whom she dared not refuse; that her task not only was distasteful, but that it was positively revolting to her; that she felt kindly toward me and would help me if she dared. I determined to sound her, "But you would not remain impassive while I was mistreated would you?" I asked. "It is not the nature of woman, especially of a woman such as you, to permit one of her sex to be injured without extending such protection as you can command. Suppose I should tell you that I shall rely upon you to aid me if the time should come when I required aid?" The woman was silent for a moment. When she spoke her words came rapidly and I could see that she was greatly moved. "I do not know what I would do," she said, "I do not wish to think of such an exigency. I prefer to think that you will not suffer much further inconvenience and that you soon will be free to go wherever you wish." "That does not answer my question," I persisted. "Can I, or can I not, rely upon your protection?" come either accustomed or reconciled hurriedly. "Wait until an attempt to my lot," I told her, "A person is made to harm you, If such an who has been treated as I have been attempt is made, summon me. I do
