CAMPBELL POWER SAVED THE CITY FROM AN ELECTRICAL POWER FAMINE.

Kingston Mills Water Power Furnishes Kingston With an Auxiliary Supply of From 350 to 500 Horse Power.

It was a lucky stroke the Utilities Commission made last spring when it was able to enter into an agreement with J. M. Campbell for a supply of water power from Kingston Mills. The fact that the city plant is securing from 250 to 500-horse-power of electrical energy through Mr. Campbell has saved Kingston from an electrical famine. All the coal in hand now would have been used up only for this auxiliary supply, and the locomotive works would likely have been the chief sufferer. The Commission contracted to supply that works with a lot of power, and even with the Campbell water power, the city plant has to run an engine all night to supply the works.

General Manager Folger stated on Friday morning that there is now twenty-five days' supply of coal on hand for the gas, electric and water plants. He is using every effort to get an additional supply of soft coal here during the next fortnight, and hopes to succeed. Coal that the Commission contracted for last spring at $10.25 a ton is now selling at $10.15. Owing to the continued cold weather and other conditions unforeseen, the utilities plants have burned much more coal than was figured upon.

PIRATES' JOYOUS SEND-OFF

Decorated Submarines Leave Kiel With Bark's Aboard.

Amsterdam, Feb. 16.—The Frankfurter Zeitung publishes a letter from Kiel describing the departure of submarines from the harbor, the day after the coming into force of the German proclamation of ruthless submarine warfare. It appears that the entrance to the submarine harbor at Kiel was decked with evergreens and military bands were provided for the occasion, while the submarines themselves were adorned with Christmas trees. The writer observes that evergreens and flowers had long been the fashion of "these grey sea devils when they go to sea for great undertakings," but a band on board a submarine is something new. He assumed the band would be disembarked somewhere "before the vessel enters the severe light, which is called by the order of February 1st, 1917, one of the most memorable days in the history of the great war." He says it is also new for a number of submarines to go together forming a squadron. He asserts that there were nine submarines in this grey cortege. The first was already half a sea mile ahead when the last turned on a northerly course. There were few spectators "of a spectacle never yet seen of those proportions," to watch the submarines going to meet in battle death or victory.

WOMEN TAXI DRIVERS

Number Applying For This Work in London Not Great.

London, Feb. 16.—The number of women who have already applied for licenses as taxi-cab drivers under the new regulation is not great. It will probably be a little time before any are seen at work. The necessary enquiry as to character, physical fitness, knowledge of London, and driving capacity will take three weeks. Proprietors are ready to give the women every support possible and resist strongly the men's threat to call out ten men for every woman employed in a garage. The manager of one firm said that twenty-five per cent. of the firm's cabs are lying idle. He failed to see why if women can pass the Scotland Yard test they should be prevented from employing them. Handling luggage appeared the only difficulty. If the men carried out their threat and women were available his firm would not hesitate to replace those who behaved disgracefully, entirely with women. There is not a plethora of men drivers to hire.

CABLEING TO SOLDIERS

Confusion and Delay Because of Faulty Addressing.

Ottawa, Feb. 16.—Some confusion and considerable delay in the delivery of cablegrams intended for Canadian soldiers serving in France, have arisen, the Militia Department reports, because in care of the War Office, London. Such messages have had to be forwarded from England by post. It is pointed out that cablegrams to members of the Expeditionary Force in France and should bear in addition to the number, name and unit of the persons for whom they are intended, the words "Canadians, France." Even these messages, paid for at full rates, may not be forwarded by telegraph in France and may be subject to some delays in transmission. The foregoing does not apply to messages which may be sent at the special non-minimum week-end letter rate to soldiers, sailors and nurses serving with the Canadian Expeditionary Force in France, which should be addressed in full, and which are always forwarded by the telegraph company by mail to France.
