WALDRON'S

EX-MAYOR GRAHAM WEDS

WAS MARRIED TO WOLFE ISLAND LADY WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Ceremony Was Performed at First Baptist Church Parsonage by Rev. Douglas Laing—Couple Serenaded by Salvation Army Band.

The marriage took place on Wednesday night of Miss Emma Gertrude Walker, daughter of Edwin J. Walker, Wolfe Island, and Ex-Mayor Christopher J. Graham. The ceremony was performed at the parsonage of the First Baptist Church at 7 o'clock. Rev. Douglas Laing officiating. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mabel Walker, while the groom was supported by Ald. H. W. Newman.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party drove to the home of the groom at 464 Princess street, where a supper was served. The guests included the immediate relatives of the bride and groom.

Ald. Newman and Ensign Smith, of the Salvation Army, delivered happy speeches, in which they tendered the best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Graham. The bride was the recipient of a beautiful collection of gifts. Both Mr. and Mrs. Graham are active workers in the Salvation Army, and during the evening the members of the Army band serenaded Mr. and Mrs. Graham at their home.

The many friends of the bride and groom throughout Kingston and district will extend congratulations. The groom's gift to the bride was a sunburst of pearls; to the bridesmaid a crescent gold brooch with pearls, and to the groomsmen a diamond pin.

Corcoran-Lynch Nuptials.

St. Brendan's church, Rockport, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding on Monday last, when Rev. Father Cullinane united in marriage Miss Mary Lynch, second daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Lynch, to Mr. H. Corcoran, of Kingston. The bride was attired in her travelling suit, and was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Leo Groudeau. The groom was supported by Augustine Lynch, brother of the bride. After the ceremony and a nuptial mass, the bridal party were driven to the home of the bride's brother, Augustine Lynch, where a dainty luncheon was served after which the young couple left for their home in Kingston.

PERMANENT HIGHWAY IS NOW SUGGESTED Militia Engineers Working on Plans for Road to Barriefield Camp.

The Militia Department proposes to build a permanent highway between the end of the causeway and the Barriefield camp, and suggests that the cost be borne in part by the Department, Provincial Government, County of Frontenac and City of Kingston. There is two miles and a quarter of road, and if as planned a road twenty-four feet wide is constructed, there will be a total of over 35,000 square yards.

There are two plans under consideration. One is to have the road built of macadam with a tarred surface. This will cost some $60,000, would take about eight weeks to build, and would have a grade of well over seven per cent. The other is to have the cut through Barriefield hill completed—about 45,000 cubic yards of limestone—and having a road of less than four per cent. grade laid out. This road would be absolutely permanent, being of concrete all the way. The cost would be $120,000. This would take six months to build.

Both of these costs would be reduced greatly if the finished surface of the road is made eighteen instead of twenty-four feet.

The engineering department is making efforts to have the proposal brought to a successful issue so that it can be completed this year.

CHARGE AGAINST GIRL FAILS.

Her Sister Will Appear for Trial in July Assizes.

Peterboro, Feb. 22.—Last evening the jury in the Supreme Court, over which Justice Sutherland presided, returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of Annie Douglas, Westwood, who was charged with having murdered her infant child. Her sister, Alice Douglas, against whom the grand jury returned a true bill on the charge that the girl disposed of the body with the intention of concealing birth of the child, was liberated on bail of $4,000, to appear at the next court.

On July 4th, 1918, Annie Douglas gave birth to a child which died the following day. Odor of turpentine was detected on the body by the nurse, who notified a doctor, but no action was taken at that time. Later when Inspector Miller, of Toronto, was making investigations in Ashbodel Township, he found the body of the Douglas child buried in an out-house and, following an inquest, the two young women were arrested.

MILITARY CIRCLES.

A week ago the Whig published the fact that the 235th Belleville Battalion was moving to Ottawa to take over the quarters vacated recently by the 297th Battalion. The official announcement was made to this effect on Wednesday, or just a week before the information was first given to the people through the Whig.

Serjt. W. H. Pritchard, Corp. K. E. Goodchild and Pte. H. G. Edwards have returned from Montreal, where they were recruiting for the 253rd Queen's University Highlanders.

It has again been brought to the attention of this office that complaints are not being paid to officers on the streets. Any infringement of this order will be severely dealt with. Orders of 253rd Queen's University Highlanders.

That the 72nd Queen's University Battery is proving popular among the following recent enlistments at Ottawa: W. C. Bethune, Interior; Norman Talcott, Interior; R. A. Farrow, Customs; Oliver Shaw, Militia and Defence; Joe Meisner, Militia and Defence; Charles H. Bland, Civil Service Commission; William Loftus, Militia and Defence; S. J. Plunkett, Militia and Defence; Edward Cunningham, External Affairs; Fletcher Bradley, Customs; N. Fagan, Post Office. The 72nd Battery is composed largely of Civil Servants, professional and university men.

Miss Monie Milburn, Belleville, is in Kingston to attend the Military School of Nurses, having attained her appointment for overseas.

The 253rd Battalion is gradually assuming shape here with the various detachments arriving in the city. So far the physique of the men is higher in standard than any battalion that has been raised, and when mobilization is completed, Lieut.-Col. P. G. C. Campbell should have one of the best units in the country. Eight men from Vancouver arrived on Wednesday. Pipe-Major Alexander Dair, of Ottawa, brought thirty men in the city on Wednesday. This number includes four other trained pipers and the men who will be used in making the 253rd Queen's University Highland band of pipers.

There are now 278 men in the 253rd Q. U. H. Battalion.

Lieut.-Col. P. G. C. Campbell was able to be on duty on Thursday after an illness.

T. J. Shaw, 424 Lower Rideau street, who has been working at Locomotive works, has enlisted in the 253rd Q. U. H.

Major F. B. Eaton, the lately appointed A. D. of Supplies and Transport, arrived in the city on Thursday morning to take over his new duties. He is a returned officer and has had experience at London, Ont., and should be a valuable addition to the headquarters staff.

Major R. D. Ponton, Instructional Cadre, was at headquarters on Friday, having completed a course at the Toronto School of Musketry.

Capt. Grant, quartermaster, 253rd Q. U. H., Ottawa, was in the city on Thursday to report for duty.

Capt. Gen. T. D. R. Hemming, G. O. C., and Lieut.-Col. W. J. Brown, G.S.O., were expected to return from Ottawa this (Thursday) afternoon.

Owing to pressure of work in the D. A. and Q. M. G. Department at the Armouries a redistribution of the available space has been made. This department has an individual record of each of 35,000 soldiers.

Capt. A. A. Clark, 139th Battalion, Brighton, was at headquarters on Thursday.

Among the returned soldiers to arrive here a few days ago was Serjt.-Major W. J. Barrett, W.O., of the 1st Battalion, Canadians. He has had such an extensive experience in military work that his appointment as garrison sergeant-major has been made.

Capt. Burnham, M.P., 93rd Battalion, Peterboro, has called the British War Office an offer to raise a contingent of Canadian girl clerks for France to relieve men for the trenches. Capt. Burnham has opened lists at his office to receive the names of young women willing to meet the demand for female help.

THEATRICAL NEWS.

Wilson in "My Killarney Rose."

"My Killarney Rose" is the title of a new Irish song-play written by Wilson, the singing dialect comedian, in which Mr. Wilson will make his appearance at the Grand Opera House to-night, in addition to an interesting story of Erin told in a pleasing manner by a capable company there are numerous stage settings which lend interest to the performance. The comedy part of the play is fresh, bright and original, there being several quaint types of character that will prove a pleasant diversion to the spectator. In addition to this, the different scenes afford a chance for the introduction of a number of new songs by the star. These are not "lugged" in, but, on the contrary, fit in naturally as a part of the play.

At the Strand.

Dorothy Dalton will be seen at the Strand for the last three days of this week in a new Triangle play called "The Female of the Species." It deals with an unusual love tangle in which an unscrupulous woman obtains possession of another woman's husband, when the latter is deprived of his memory through an accident. The wife is confronted with a difficult problem in trying to regain a husband who has no recollection of her. But right finally wins and the siren loses. Miss Dalton is seen in the last named role, and is said to give an unusual characterization. Other good reels including a mile of Keystone fun and frolic, and Bob McLoughlin, an old Kingstonian, in a high-class vaudeville turn, complete a well selected programme.

At Griffin's.

The cruel, merciless methods of the "third degree" are relentlessly exposed in the most graphic manner in the Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play Company's production of "The Yellow Pawn" showing at "Griffin's" to-day, Friday and Saturday, and in which the clever and popular costars, Cleo Ridgley and Wallace Reid appear.

This Paramount picture has to do with the intrigues of a district attorney, jealous of his wife's infatuation for a young artist, and the methods he employs in a vain endeavor to send an innocent man to the gallows. This stirring element of the drama is sweetly contrasted by a tender love story, which gives Cleo Ridgley and Wallace Reid more than ample opportunities for the display of their well-recognized talents.

Miss Ridgley, known for her beauty and vivacity, as well as her splendid dramatic ability, has won for herself a place among the leading photo-dramatic actresses of the country, while Mr. Reid has the distinction of being one of the most popular, widely known and able of the younger generation of stage and screen favorites.

"The Yellow Pawn" has to do with artist life in the fashionable Bohemian set in New York City, and deals with the love affair between the wife of a district attorney and a famous painter.

How the artists' Chinese servant brings about a terrible situation and later rectifies it makes a theme of absolutely unusual intensity.

We also show on the same bill episode six of that great serial, "The Shielding Shadow," another of the "Musty Sufferers" laugh provoking comedies, with a Mutual Weekly depicting events of importance in various parts of the world. Our vaudeville, "The Barbers," novelty entertainers, are a team of high-class bicycle and slack wire artists.

Voluntary Rationing Schemes—What London Markets Show.

London, Feb. 22.—A return from the London Central Markets states that the week before the introduction of the voluntary rationing scheme the supplies at Smithfield aggregated 6,895 tons. Last week the second week of voluntary rationing, the supplies totalled 5,957 tons, a decrease of 1,836 tons, nearly 27 per cent. "The result, so far as London is concerned must," says the return, "be considered satisfactory, as it indicated a diminished demand. The principal distributive centre shows that a large section of the populace of the metropolis is loyally restricting the consumption of meat within the limits laid down by the food controller."

Lord Balfour of Burleigh was elected chairman of the Carnegie Educational Trust on nomination of Lords Bryce, Haldane and Shaw, succeeding Lord Elgin.
