

DEATH OF DAVID A. GIVENS

CITY SOLICITOR OF KINGSTON PASSED AWAY ON MONDAY.

Born in Kingston Sixty-four Years Ago—An Alderman For Seven Years—Succeeded D. M. McIntyre. The citizens learned with deep regret at noon on Monday of the passing of David A. Givens, City Solicitor of Kingston, who died in the General Hospital after two weeks' illness of heart trouble.

The late Mr. Givens was 64 years of age. He graduated in arts at Queen's University in 1878 and for some years taught English and French in the old Grammar school when Dr. A. P. Knight was head master. Afterwards he went to Toronto and studied law, graduating at the Ontario Law School. Owing to ill-health he spent three years in California and Arizona, and then returned to Kingston, where he practised law until stricken a fortnight ago.

Mr. Givens served seven years in the City Council as representative of St. Lawrence ward, and was one of the city's most active aldermen. For a year he was chairman of the Light, Heat and Power committee before the Utilities Commission came into being. In 1909 he contested for the mayoralty but was defeated by Ald. D. Couper. In 1912, when D. M. McIntyre, K.C., was appointed chairman of the Ontario Railway Board, Mr. Givens was chosen by the City Council to succeed him as city solicitor of Kingston, and for the past five years he served faithfully in that capacity.

In religion Mr. Givens was a Presbyterian and in politics a conservative. He was a member of the Ancient St. John's Masonic lodge of Kingston.

Surviving him are two sisters and one brother: Mrs. Neilson and Miss Givens of Montreal, and W. R. Givens, proprietor and editor of the Kingston Standard. His sister, Miss

Why Hair Falls Out

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub well into the scalp. After a few applications all dandruff disappears and the hair stops coming out.

SPECTACLE FRAMES

Correctly Fitted to The Face Are An Essential An Properly Fitted Lenses Are to The Eyes.

A lens should be mounted exactly opposite the pupil of the eye. In any other position it will cause strain and have a tendency to produce double sight. The bridge or nose piece should fit so well that wobbling will be impossible and it should bear equally at all points. The right way is just as easy as the wrong.

Givens, was with him when he died. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made owing to the absence of deceased's brother who recently went to Florida to spend a few months.

At the City Hall, the news of the death of the City Solicitor was received with sincere regret. Mayor Hughes was deeply affected by the passing away of Mr. Givens, while all the aldermen were also grieved at his death.

Mayor Hughes spoke of the careful manner in which Mr. Givens had all ways given matters coming before him, and stated that in his death the city had lost a valuable citizen and a man who always had the interests of the people at heart. The City Clerk, City Engineer and all the other civic officials paid a warm tribute to the deceased.

The Late R. Gaskin. After an illness of over two years, caused by an accident, Capt. Robert Gaskin, formerly of Kingston, died on Sunday in the Watertown, N. Y., Sisters Hospital. The deceased was born in the city about forty-five years ago, but of late years had been living across the border because of the fact that he was sailing on American registered steamers.

Some years ago he fell from the second storey of his home while working and he never fully recovered from the effects of the injuries he received.

The late Capt. Gaskin was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gaskin, 193 Union street, west, and is also survived by his widow, formerly Miss Bantford, of Wolfe Island, and one son, John.

The remains were brought to the city on Monday morning from Watertown. Rev. A. Brown will officiate at the funeral service.

The Late Major J. R. Barber. The death occurred at his home in Georgetown, Ont., on Saturday, of Major J. R. Barber, brother of Mrs. J. O. Hutton, of this city. Deceased was in his seventy-seventh year, was president of the Barber-Ellis, Ltd., paper dealers and envelope manufacturers, with which he was connected over forty years. He was also interested in many other companies.

In 1898 he served in the Ontario Legislature for Halton County in the Liberal ranks. He served as reeve of Georgetown, was also warden, and served on the high school board. In his younger days deceased was active in the Canadian militia.

He saw service in the Fenian raid, and was decorated for long service. He was a Presbyterian.

The Late R. Stevenson. With the death of Robert Stevenson in the Wellesley Hospital, Toronto, on Sunday night, Kingston lost one of its most prominent and popular business men. The deceased was born at Belleville about fifty years ago, and on the death of his brother-in-law, the late Phillip Bajus, he took charge of the Bajus brewery here, and since then carried on the business most successfully. He was the son of Robert Stevenson, now residing in Belleville.

On Tuesday last he went to Toronto on business. On Thursday he was stricken with pneumonia and was taken to the Wellesley. The remains were expected in the city on Monday afternoon. The funeral will be held on Tuesday and the remains taken to Belleville for burial.

The survivors of the deceased are his father, three sisters: Mrs. P. Bajus, city; Mrs. T. Shanks, Hamilton; Miss Jennie Stevenson, Belleville; and three brothers, William in the city and John and George of Chicago. Deceased was a member of St. Andrew's church, and a Mason.

DR. L. F. GOODWIN SPEAKS

To Anna Mater Society on Experiences at the Front.

The regular meeting of the Anna Mater Society was held on Saturday evening in Convocation Hall. Dr. L. F. Goodwin gave a most interesting account of his experiences at the front.

Dr. Goodwin as the commencement of the war offered his services to the Canadian government and was attached to the Second Battalion as a subaltern. He was at Valcartier Camp and Salisbury Plains and was later sent to the front. He was with the late Capt. George Richardson and the Kingston boys. Dr. Goodwin gave an intimate account of the conditions at the front as he viewed them. Many interesting anecdotes were related of experiences that had come to him as well as an accurate description of trench life.

After spending many months at the front Dr. Goodwin was sent to England to do chemical research and later was returned to Canada. In view of the invaluable services he could render in the matter of chemical research he was attached to the Imperial Munitions Board with the rank of Major.

The annual meeting of the Women's lawn tennis, basketball, field hockey and ice hockey clubs was held and the new officers were elected.

No Street Car Service. The storm on Monday completely disabled the street car service of the city. Desperate efforts were made in the morning to continue a service, but with such a heavy wind it was impossible.

THIRSTY SOLDIER CHARGED WITH BEING INTOXICATED IN PUBLIC PLACE.

Had All the Details Leading up to How He Secured the Liquor, but the Name of the Man Who Secured it Was Omitted.

Frank Dupont, wearing the King's uniform, was just minus details in one particular when he was arraigned before Magistrate Farrell in the Police Court on Monday morning, charged with being intoxicated in a public place. He admitted being drunk, and told all the incidents leading up to how he got the liquor, but the most important part so far as the court was concerned, as regards the man, he was unable to give. He could not give the name of the man who had secured him a bottle, so the Magistrate remanded him to jail for a few days to give him time to brush up his memory.

His story was to the effect that he met a man on Princess street, and that he asked him where he could get drink. Dupont must have been pretty thirsty, as he said he had not had a drink for six months—pretty long time for a thirsty soldier. At any rate, this man he stopped was not over anxious to try and oblige him, stating that it was not a very easy matter to get liquor in Kingston. However, Dupont finally got him to deliver the goods. He said the man went away, and he waited on the street until he returned with the "wet goods," for which he was ready to pay as high as $3. Dupont looked rather surprised when the Magistrate said he would adjourn the case, believing that he had told a story that would be taken by the court.

TAKING UP THE CASE.

The Veterans' Association Will Look Into His Needs.

A case of neglect of a returned soldier is told of a man who went overseas in "A" Company, 21st Battalion, wounded at Dickybush in February, 1916, and is walking the streets of Montreal living on charity. A Kingston man, overseas with the 21st Battalion, returned from Montreal yesterday. While in the Bonaventure Station he met Pte. Kelly, also of the battalion, and found him without underwear, wearing a discarded old suit and not a cent of money in his pocket. Work was absolutely impossible because his right side is partially paralyzed and gradually withering. The man who told the story to the Whig was present when Pte. Kelly was hit while cleaning out an old communication trench. After being in various hospitals in England he returned to Kingston last year, going into the Elmhurst Convalescent Home. He was discharged, and because he has lost the use of his side he is unable to do anything. He made a plea for assistance from the military authorities, but his case was turned down.

The Whig's informant turned the case over to the Veterans Association on Monday morning.

PRISONERS TO GO NORTH.

All Will Be Gone Inside of Two Weeks.

Lieut.-Col. H. E. Date, Commandant of Fort Henry, it is understood, is very much opposed to the removal of the prisoners of war from the fort to the camp in New Ontario. The imprisonment of such men as those at the fort would be a very difficult task in view of their repeated attempts to escape while here. With a wire enclosed camp in the northern woods it would be even more difficult to keep them in.

The Whig is informed that all the prisoners will be out of the fort by March 15th, and that train arrangements are already being made.

CONDUCTED MEMORIAL SERVICE

At the United Depot Church on Sunday Evening.

A memorial service for Mary Jane Love was held in the Depot United Church on Sunday, March 4th, at 7 p.m. Mrs. Love was born at Loboough, Ont., on Jan. 30th, 1842, and died some nine months ago on June 2nd, 1916, in her seventy-fourth year and at the home of her son, Sergeant Isaac D. Love, Kingston. After a suitable service in the home of Sergeant Love her remains were taken to Verona for burial on June 5th, 1916. Rev. B. Pierce, her pastor, performed the burial services, and by request conducted the memorial service for the departed mother. His subject was, "God the Christian's Portion" and among other comforting thoughts said: "Man is immortal and after death all true believers continue to live with Christ in Heaven. We are all one family, one church, one army of God. The head is Christ, and the upper members are in heaven, and we, the lower members, are upon the earth. We should so live here as to add to the joy of the angels and saints in glory. The days of separation would add also to the joys of reunion in heaven." He felt assured that Mrs. Love had lived and died in Christ, and was now with Him in the church above, while we remembered her in the church on earth. The service was much enjoyed by the mourning friends and congregation.

Local customs officers, with William McCammon, license inspector, paid some attention to the route from Cape Vincent, N.Y., on Sunday, and as a result a number of people were "held up" with liquor in their possession and made to pay some duty.

One member of the party had a brand new pair of shoes in his possession, which he had purchased across the border, and he was called upon to pay duty for them, too.

The offenders were given quite a surprise when they were rounded up. It will be remembered that just a short time ago a number of young people were "help up" in a similar manner and called upon to pay duty as well as a fine.

R. R. F. Harvey, organist at St. George's Cathedral, was in Montreal over the week-end. Rev. F. C. A. Whalley preached the sermon and also presided at the organ.
