WALDRON'S

MILITARY CIRCLES.

A helpful meeting was conducted in connection with the soldiers' social hour at the Military Y. M. C. A. hall Sunday evening. The attendance was very good. Rev. George Clendennin, of Brock Street Methodist church, gave a short address on the application of religion to practical everyday life. Miss Annie Tweedell rendered a beautiful solo. The meeting was in charge of the secretary, Mr. Greenblade.

Military Y. M. C. A., Tuesday evening, 7.30, illustrated lecture, "The Story of the Union Jack," followed by a lively sing-song of popular choruses. Every soldier invited.

ARREST OF FREE AT CAPE VINCENT

Chief of Police Recalled Description and Nabbed Man in Barber Shop.

Brockville, March 19.—Arthur Free, the young farmer wanted in connection with the murder of Mrs. Hattie Hill at Seely's Bay, March 2nd, was arrested by Chief of Police Wylie at Cape Vincent, N. Y., Saturday night. Wylie went into a barber shop for a shave, and noticing a stranger and remembering the description furnished by Chief Burke of Brockville, questioned Free, and finally placed him under arrest. Inspector Boyd, of Toronto, of the Provincial Police, and Constable Cornelius Bradey, of Seely's Bay, who had been in the vicinity for a week, were found twenty miles from Cape Vincent on the telephone, and upon arrival in the village Bradey, who was a neighbor, identified Free. The latter will be brought here to-day for trial. Free since the murder had made his way to the river front at Lansdowne, crossed the river on the ice, and had been closely followed by officers on both sides of the river. He had been a tenant on Mrs. Hill's property. His wife is a grand-daughter of Mrs. Hill's deceased husband.

DOES NOT INDICATE That All Danger in Russia Is Yet Past.

(Special to the White.) London, March 19.—Characterizing the Russian revolution as one of the landmarks in the history of the world, Premier Lloyd George announced in the House of Commons to-day that the form of the resolution which England should send to the Duma re new government would be discussed Thursday. The Prime Minister said, however, that information received does not indicate that all danger in Russia is past.

THEATRICAL NEWS.

At the Grand.

For to-night, to-morrow and Wednesday a pleasing programme has been secured for the Grand. Earle Williams, the well-known film star, who has gained popularity through his superior acting, will be seen in a superb feature, "Ardene Lupin," in five reels. Billie Burke, the incomparable stage favorite, will appear in the twelfth instalment of "Gloria's Romance." This chapter excels in its intensely gripping plot the completely absorbing interest sustained throughout, and the unusually quick action which keeps the whole two reels alive from start to finish. An exceedingly interesting two-reel Universal photoplay, a comedy with one thousand laughs, which is guaranteed to make the most whimsical shake with laughing, and the Pathe shows will be shown. A fine bill of vaudeville will be seen. McIyar and Hamilton will be seen in a comedy singing and sensational acrobatic act, which comes highly recommended from the big-time vaudeville circuits. This bill be presented to-night, to-morrow and Wednesday.

"Intolerance."

One of the most important attractions of the current season is D. W. Griffith's colossal spectacle "Intolerance," which will appear at the Grand Opera House for three days, starting Thursday, March 22nd, with a matinee on Friday and Saturday.

In every respect this amazing work is absolutely different from anything ever before shown on any stage. Paris, of the middle ages, Babylon of the reign of Belshazzar the magnificent, Judea of the time of Christ, are depicted with such realism that one finds it difficult not to believe one is actually viewing the picturesque life of these historic periods. To convey any idea of the immensity or splendor of the Babylonian scenes is impossible by written word. This thrilling episode in itself, with its palaces and temples, its mighty battles and thousands of people, comprises a spectacle of even greater magnitude than Mr. Griffith's former famous work, "The Birth of a Nation." And mighty Babylon is but one-fourth of the wonders of "Intolerance." A symphony orchestra is carried.

At Griffin's.

One of the most charming pictures that has ever been seen at Griffin's Theatre will appear there to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday, when Marguerite Clark stars in the Famous Players' adaptation of the beloved fairy tale, "Snow White," which is the Paramount attraction for the first three days of this week. "Snow White" was directed by J. Searle Dawley, who has presided over all of Miss Clark's most recent successes. It will be remembered that Miss Clark starred in the stage adaptation of the Grim Bros. tale under the personal direction of Winthrop Ames at the Little Theatre, where the delightful play remained for two seasons. Mr. Ames very kindly placed himself at the disposal of the Famous Players in so far as his experience with the stage production was concerned, and loaned the producer all the costumes which were used in the stage presentation of the story. Realizing how important the seven little dwarfs would be in the picture Director Dawley spent a great deal of time in obtaining the services of seven real midgets. The adaptation of a fairy story for the screen affords the producer an excellent opportunity to employ the art of photography in depicting with scenes and other mystifying phenomena which can be produced on the screen with the greatest possible effect. In this respect the photoplay version of "Snow White" will undoubtedly approach more closely the fascination of the original Grimm story than did the stage play, which was necessarily limited in its magic effects. With the above charming photoplay there will be also shown the final episode of that popular serial, "The Crimson Stain Mystery."

At the Strand.

For the first three days of this week a well-selected programme has been chosen for this popular playhouse. Lillian Gish will be seen in a new Triangle play entitled "The House Built Upon Sand," and has to do with an iron-willed man and his butterfly wife. The play was written by Mary H. O'Connor, scenario editor of the Triangle studio. Ray Stuart, a new Triangle leading man, appears opposite Miss Gish. Charles Chaplin will also be seen in "The Vagabond," two thousand feet of fun and frolic. Other good reels and polite vaudeville will also hold the boards.
