

WOMEN'S LIVELY SESSION

ELECTED AS PRESIDENT.
ELECTED AT PRESIDENT

Of the Kingston Branch of the National Council at a Special Meeting in the City Hall on Monday Afternoon.

At a special meeting of the local branch of the National Council of Women, held in the City Hall on Monday afternoon, the following officers were duly elected:

President—Miss A. M. Machar.
Vice-presidents—Mrs. S. Oberdorfer, Mrs. C. Constantine, Mrs. E. T. Steacy, Mrs. W. G. Jordan, Miss E. Muckleson.
Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. J. Wright.
Recording Secretary—Miss I. Roman.

Treasurer—Miss H. Chown.
The election of officers at the annual meeting of the Council held a month ago was protested by a number of members, who held it should have been done by ballot. As a result, Mrs. Plumpre of Toronto, a member of the National Council executive, was invited to preside at the special meeting, and she directed the proceedings in a most nautical manner.

The City Council chamber was not nearly large enough to accommodate the women and the meeting was held in the City Hall, which place was more than half filled.

The first announcement by Mrs. Plumpre was to the effect that she had brought ballots with her from Toronto, and to insure a satisfactory election two scrutineers should be appointed. Miss Machar selected Miss Etta Smith and Mrs. Macmillan, the other presidential nominee, Miss May Chown.

The first question that aroused a great amount of argument was by Miss Mowat, who asked if convenors of standing committees should have a vote. Miss Machar said that they should have, while Miss Mowat contended that such was not in the con-

GIRLS! BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

Hair Becomes Charming, Wavy, Lustrous and Thick in Few Moments.

Every Bit of Dandruff Disappears And Hair Stops Coming Out

For 25 cents you can save your hair. In less than ten minutes you can double its beauty. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and charming as a young girl's after applying some Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or ragged, faded dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yep—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and just try it.

situation. Mrs. Plumpre asked: "Is it the custom?" She added: "Your constitution is so incomplete. Will you take the vote of the meeting or accept my judgment?" After a lengthy debate a standing vote was taken and it was decided that the convenors of standing committees should not vote.

Mrs. J. F. Macdonald asked if those present voted as their societies dictated or personally, or whether there was any way of detecting votes of this kind.

Mrs. Plumpre replied that this depended on the honesty of the voter. Then the question arose as to whether the Queen's Alumnae Association, the Blue Cross Society or the Home for the Aged representatives should vote. Each had sent its application and the fee to the secretary.

In the case of the Queen's Alumnae the application with the dollar had been sent on March 5th, but had been returned on March 6th. Miss Machar took objection to the way the meeting had been called and explained the reason for refusing the request.

The request of the Home for the Aged then came under discussion. A standing vote was again needed and the majority declared against giving these societies a vote.

Miss Mowat at this juncture asked that only representatives be counted in the voting as she represented four votes, but they counted only as one in the standing contest. Mrs. Plumpre ruled that the delegates should have enough interest in the affair to be present and vote for themselves or suffer in consequence.

Miss H. Chown brought up the question as to the character of the meeting, which was a special one, and whether other business beyond that of electing new officers would be dealt with. Mrs. Plumpre stated that it was a special meeting for the election of officers only.

The fact that on March 1st an application and a dollar had been sent by the Queen's Alumnae to the Council executive, and on March 5th the fee had been returned was thoroughly aired. Miss Machar said that it was irregular to accept the application.

The discussion then drifted to Miss Roman's answer to Mrs. Wright's request for affiliation of the St. John's Ambulance Society.

Bringing the matter back to the point at issue, Mrs. Plumpre ruled that the officers of last year were still in office until new ones were elected.

Then Miss Mowat and Miss Machar had an argument as to the legality of the annual meeting on February 17th which Miss Mowat said had been called at one day's notice in spite of parts of the constitution, which, she said, "Miss Machar as president absolutely refused to adopt."

After remarks by Mrs. Plumpre, Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Bidwell, it was decided by a standing vote of 45 to 40 that Mrs. Plumpre's ruling would be binding. Mrs. Plumpre said that in view of the fact that this special meeting had been forced, no society which in the meantime had made application for affiliation should have a vote.

Mrs. H. Macpherson brought up the question as to whether new nomination lists could be received. This matter started a lengthy discussion until the subject was decided by the presiding officer, who said that while nominations of those unable to accept the positions could be cancelled and others substituted, it was decidedly unfair to have entirely new lists submitted.

At this point, Miss Machar announced that Miss Etta Smith would retire as scrutineer and Miss May Macdonnell would act in her place. The meeting then resolved itself to the question at issue.

Between the time it took to distribute the ballots for other elections, beside those for president, and the time that the presidential ballots had been collected, Mrs. Plumpre surprised the meeting by asking where the collected ballots had disappeared. They were finally located in the City Council chamber.

The election of Miss Machar and the other officers was greeted with applause and the meeting closed with short addresses expressing the thanks of those elected.

Mrs. Plumpre had a most difficult position to fill and at the close she was heartily thanked for her unbiased and good judgment on several important points.

The death is reported in Montreal on March 15th of Mary A. McIntyre, second daughter of the late Duncan McIntyre, Prescott.

G. W. Powell, Peterboro, secured the position of sanitary inspector.

THE R.M.C. BOXING BOUTS LOST STEAMER RECALLED

THEY WERE CONTINUED ON MONDAY AFTERNOON

Moore vs Roberts—Went three rounds Roberts outpointed Moore all through.

Roe vs Fleming—Went two rounds Roe was knocked out. Fleming showed good boxing ability.

Lazier vs Churchill—Went three rounds. The first round was pretty hard work with Churchill leading. Churchill was a surprise. He managed to land his right on Lazier's jaw in the second round. In the third Lazier was knocked out with a plunge on the jaw.

Third Series Novices Light Weight
Chesley and Ince—Went three rounds. The first was Chesley's also the second. The third was Ince's towards the finish. Chesley got the decision as he had more points in the first and so won.

Jackson vs Mackenzie—One round only. Jackson is a good boxer and tall. Mackenzie is small. He rushed Jackson from the start and knocked him out very quickly, landing with precision and force.

Buscombe vs Holmes—Buscombe got the decision in the third round. The semi-finals will be pulled off this afternoon and the finals on the 28th March.

MERELY RUMORS

About Evolution in Germany and the Kaiser's Death.

Rumors that there is revolution in Berlin and that the Kaiser had been killed swept the United States and Canada Monday afternoon with no apparent basis, so far as could be ascertained.

Apparently they were traceable to recent stories from Continental sources stating that there was unrest in Germany, and that the success of the Russian revolution might, in the opinion of some, embolden the people of the other European nations to take control.

THE NEWEST REMEDY FOR Backache, Rheumatism and Dropsy.

Kidney, Bladder and Uric Acid troubles bring misery to many. When the kidneys are weak or diseased, these natural filters do not cleanse the blood sufficiently, and the poisons are carried to all parts of the body. There follow depression, aches and pains, heaviness, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, chilliness and rheumatism. In some people there are sharp attacks in the back and limbs, distressing bladder disorders and sometimes obstinate dropsy. The uric acid sometimes forms into gravel or kidney stones. When the uric acid affects the muscles and joints, it causes lumbago, rheumatism, gout or sciatica. This is the time to try "Auric." Send for trial package. During digestion uric acid is absorbed into the system from meat eaten, and even from some vegetables. The poor kidneys get tired and backache begins. This is a good time to take "Auric," the new discovery of Dr. Pierce for Kidney trouble and Backache. Neglected kidney trouble is responsible for many deaths, and Insurance Company examining doctors always test the water of an applicant before a policy will be issued. Have you ever seen a bottle of water for twenty-four hours? A heavy sediment of uric acid sometimes indicates kidney trouble. The true nature and character of disease, especially those of the kidneys and urinary organs, can often be determined by a careful chemical analysis and microscopic examination. This is done by expert chemists of the Medical Staff of the Invalids' Hotel. If you wish to know your condition send a sample of your water to Doctor Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and describe your symptoms. It will be examined without any expense to you, and Doctor Pierce or his Staff of Consulting Physicians will inform you truthfully.

KNOW YOURSELF!

Read all about yourself, your system, physiology, anatomy, hygiene, simple home cures, etc., in the "Common Sense Medical Adviser," a book of 1008 pages. Send to Dr. V. M. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 30 cents in one-cent stamps for a choice book—free. Occasional postage.

THE OONTE OFF THE BAY STATE SHOAL

At the Bay State shoal, between Rock Island lighthouse and Fine View, so named for the great side-wheel steamer of the Lewiston & Ogdensburg line that plowed its way half length over the rocks there many years ago, a large freight and passenger steamer, the Oonte, now lies sunken. Wreckers came to remove the cargo to barges alongside, the bow of the boat being out of water, but the stern so deep down as to nearly stand on end. The work was difficult and dangerous and a day later there was a hasty scrambling for safety by the workers as with an unwarmed plunge the boat went backward and down into water more than 100 feet deep. A year later, in midwinter, with the river frozen everywhere, excepting for a few small holes an acre or so in diameter in the swift waters about there, a company of adventurous wreckers with intent of appropriating without consent of the lawful owners of parts of machinery and cargo, came from some place down the New Jersey sea coast.

They worked many days, the divers going down to the bottom in icy waters swift as a rushing mill-race. Some parts of the cargo that had not been damaged by water were removed, and the job was abandoned to await summer temperature. Perhaps some of my readers may imagine the sensation, when loaded down with many pounds of lead to counteract the buoyancy of the air within a diver's helmet, they might step off the ladder at the surface to say perhaps goodbye to all on earth, to sink 100 feet in almost inky dark waters of zero temperature, but those fellows did it, the plunderer set up by them being proof.

One of the divers reported that at the steamer's stern there was a great pile of square timbers as wide as a village street, and higher than he could reach when standing on bottom. The fellows must have told truth, as he had never known or heard of the rafting business, the timbers probably being a part of a raft broken in two at the lighthouse rocks many years before.

Across the channel, a little way below Mr. Stone's cottage, another wreck, that of a large vessel, lies sunken in deep waters, but may be seen in calm weather when the water is clearest. The oldest settlers, some of whom were residing in log cabins in clearings in the woods when hostile Indians were plenty during the War of 1812, could give no information of this wreck. That there were entertaining affairs along there is certain, as farmers along shore dug grape shot from trees and plowed up cannon balls as large as croquet balls, the last one being found but a few years ago. Whether there was truth in the story that an old settler used to tell of an English fleet of war vessels that were anchored for the night, and two of the crew attempted to escape with a box of gold from the paymaster's ship, there has never been verification.

His story was that about all the guns, big and small, were discharged at the fugitives, who dropped the box overboard and escaped to the woods. There have been others who believed the cannon balls on land and the sunken vessel were the results of a small naval battle there in the War of 1812, but there is no record in history of such occurrence, the only way of determining being a search of American or English archives of about those times.

A half mile down stream from there is the Peel dock, where the sunken hulk of the steamer of that name lies so near shore that a hat may be tossed to the surface above it. A large anchor and chain was grappled up from there a few years ago, it undoubtedly being a part of the equipment of the ill-fated steamer burned and sunk by Bill Johnston and his followers in 1838.

A Remarkable Achievement.
Elsewhere in to-day's issue will be found a reproduction of the new building of the "Salada" Tea Company, now nearing completion in Boston, Mass. Every modern convenience for the cleanly and speedy packing of tea is being installed. It speaks eloquently for the popularity of "Salada" Tea in the United States, when it is claimed that this new building will be the largest in the world devoted entirely to the product of the Ceylon and India tea gardens. Those interested in the romantic history of the tea trade should write to Salada Tea Company, Toronto, for their little book entitled "The Story of the Tea Plant," for which there is no charge.
