

Ride Ride--Ride

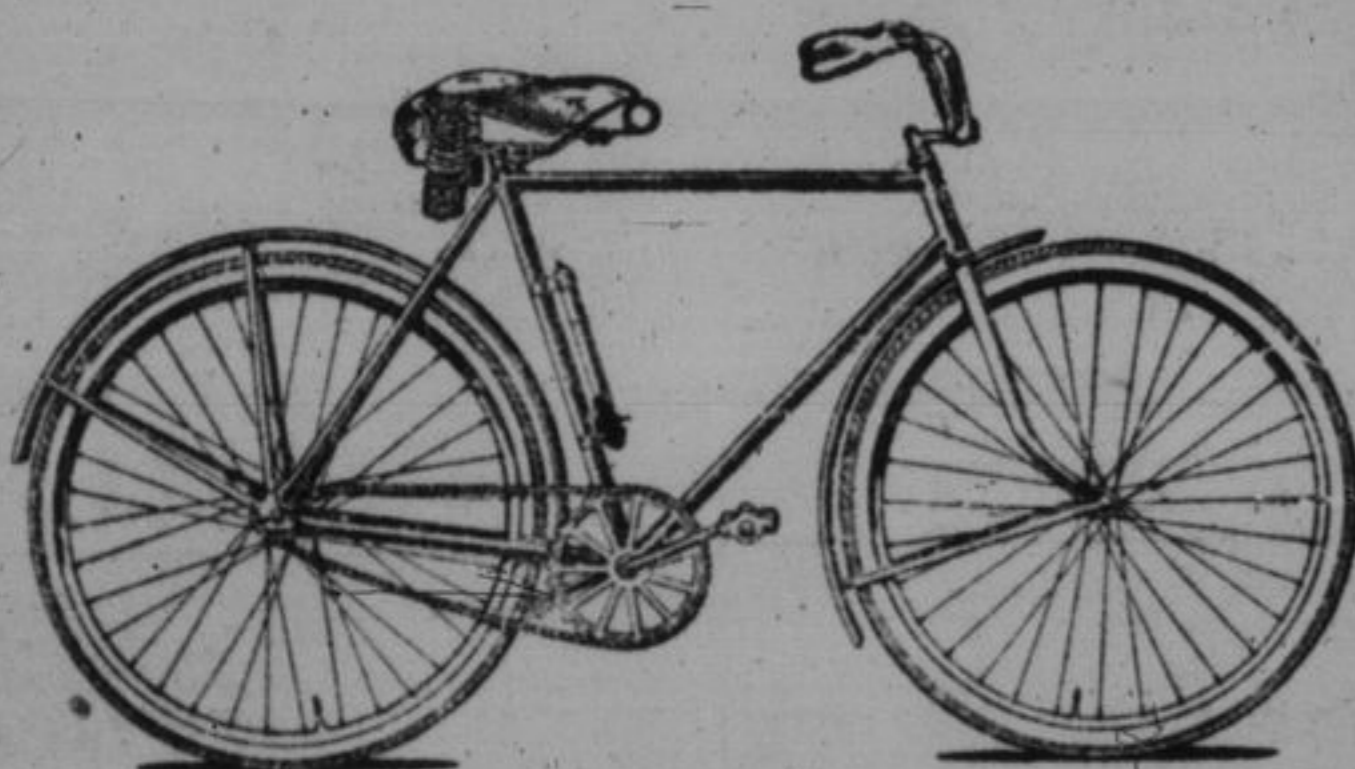

Everybody ought to ride a bicycle this spring. It's healthy, it's handy, and this is the year to save money.

It has been proved that it is cheaper to ride a bicycle than ride in the street cars.

Now is the Time

To pick out your favorite Massey bicycle or the new Indian.

GLIMPSE AT THE LEAGUES

CHICAGO LOOKS GOODS IN THE AMERICAN.

But Detroit, Boston and New York are also well-balanced teams—it is All New York in the National. In the American Baseball League, Boston, Chicago, Detroit and New York stand out as the best balanced teams. Many experts are favoring Chicago to win a pennant this year. They bank on the comebacks of the Comiskey hurling corps, at one time as good as they ever. Jim Scott is said to be showing better than he has for several years and Rob Russell is having success in his efforts to get in shape. There are apparently two holes, good sized ones, on that chance line in Jack Barry and one at shortstop. Chick Gandil may fool the multitude and prove himself to be just the man the White Sox have been looking for. Anyway it is certain that neither Jack News nor Fournier is capable of doing a major league day's work.

Detroit will start the season in the same fix as formerly—a lack of an adequate hurling staff. New ones must be developed or the old ones must improve if the rest of the league continues at the old rate. Boston's ability to keep the old machine from rusting. He will get the same start as was given Bill Carrigan a year ago. The team is a wonderful one, capable of winning any pennant, if it is in the right shape. New York, a young team, full of pep, punch and speed, may prove the dark horse of the race. Bill Donovan has assembled a fine outfit of men for the Yankees and is bound to cut a big figure in the fighting. Connie Mack is sending out optimistic signals from his Florida training camp and it may be that the former demon world's series winner will get a running start for more fame and glory. He has some excellent material from which to build.

The National League seems to be all New York with a remarkable infield defence, and a lugging outfield to back it up. McGraw's hurlers are not the best in the league, but his hitters will snarl many a dinner for the other pitchers. The Braves appear to be the most dangerous offensive of the G-men, with the Phillies and Dodgers running in the order named.

THE BEST TEAM EVER.

Splendid Tribute Paid to Dentals by Winnipeg Free Press.

Winnipeg, March 22.—Commenting on the Toronto Dentals' victory in the Allan Cup games, the Free Press says:—"Winning the Allan Cup on strange ice before a strange crowd which sympathized with their opponents in both of the series they had to play, Toronto Dentals came through with flying colors as the finest netting that ever represented the Queen City in amateur hockey since hockey has become the national winter sport of Canada. 'Jerry' Laflamme has the distinction of leading the victorious team through with the most coveted trophy in Canadian amateur sport. Winnipeg has been compelled to bow down to their superior skill at the game, having witnessed their triumph over the stalwart Saskatoon Pilgrims and their sensational last-minute victory over the Winnipeg Amateur Patriotic Hockey League champions. The defenders of the trophy, after having the cup almost tucked away, were tied up on the series by the brilliance of the Dentals. Experienced, versed in all the tricks of the game, and blessed with splendid physiques, Dentals shine in a light that is sufficient to show them as a grand aggregation."

Here's A Sensible Rule.

A new rule will be followed in the National League this season which will have a tendency to shorten the time of the game considerably. Pitchers will be permitted to throw only three balls before the inning starts. Under the former rule, the pitcher was allowed to throw five balls to the catcher for "warming up" practice, the batsman refraining from occupying his position in the batsman's box during that time.

Many of the slow pitchers take up considerable time pitching five balls, so President Tener will send out an order before the season opens limiting the number to three pitched balls for "warming up" purposes.

Billy Miske, who originally was to have boxed Christie in Brooklyn last night, has gone back to St. Paul again to give his injured hand a rest.

MOST GRACEFUL INFIELDER.

Was Larry Lajoie, Now Managing Toronto Leafs.

Grantland Rice, of the New York Tribune, in discussing the leaders in the different positions in baseball, hands Larry Lajoie, manager of the Leafs, the palm of the infielders. Rice says:

"The most graceful infielder that ever lived—the most natural—the one embodying the greatest amount of rhythm, beyond any doubt was Napoleon Lajoie, just retired from the main circle after twenty years. Lajoie in his prime, although weighing 196 pounds and standing over six feet, was a section of human poetry in his work around second base. In place of starting for a ball he seemed to glide. There was always a certain careless, relaxed ease in the way he handled even the hardest chances without even the semblance of effort. He was far more graceful than Eddie Collins, though no more effective, and even the lithe, willowy Johnny Evers was back of the big Frenchman in natural grace of play. Lajoie's play at times gave out the appearance of indifference, whereas it was only the utter lack of waste motion. And he was at natural and as graceful at bat as he was around second base.

Lajoie's closest rivals were Jimmy Collins at third, Bill Bradley at the same job, and Hal Chase at first. These all had symmetry and rhythm beyond measure, their work bringing a delight beyond any results obtained."

SPEAKER'S BATTING Has Been Greatly Helped by His Golf Play.

There has always been a quotation in the minds of baseball managers as to the extent to which golf may affect the players. Some of those who are in the clubs in the National and American Leagues have forbidden their players, especially their best bat-men, to play during the season, while others have imposed no restriction.

On the contrary, there is to hand a statement from Tris Speaker, who actually gives golf the credit for having helped him to boost his batting average so that last year he led both leagues in batting.

Speaker says that he played far more golf last year than in any previous season, that he knows the injunction to "keep your eye on the ball" has aided him as has no other advice and practice. He states that the deliveries of pitchers which fooled him the year previous had not troubled him last season, because he had eyes trained to follow the ball up to the plate.

It may be, he added, that he was due to have a big year, anyway, and that the golf aid was not so great as he imagined, but he himself lays his great 1916 advance to the increase in the powers of concentration which are forced on one by the game of golf.

Why Wagner Won't Report.

Here's what Hans Wagner says about his failure to report for spring practice with the Pittsburg Club:—"Money hasn't anything to do with my playing. I am satisfied with the salary clause in the contract which has been offered me, but I am not satisfied that I will be in condition to go through another hard campaign on the diamond. Until I am satisfied that I could get into condition to play without hurting myself I will not sign."

At Hot Springs Alderbaran won the feature event at six furlongs, running the distance in 1:12 4-5, equalling the track record and beating Bed Time Stories by two lengths. Dimitri was third.

Jack Britton and Ted Lewis are to box in Cincinnati on March 26th.

SPORTING NOTES.

Rube Marquard asserts the Giants will not win the pennant this season.

Chinese university baseball nine of Hawaii may not again visit this country until the spring of 1918.

A league to enforce peace might have trouble in securing umpires who would not cater to the home team.

"Silence is golden," says the proverb, but you can never make ball players, boxers and other orators believe it.

Twelve English horses have won the Grand Prix, against two victories by French horses in the Derby.

Among the visitors at Hot Springs is Otto Stifel of St. Louis, who is now out of racing but who owned Colonial Girl when she won the $20,000 World's Fair Handicap at St. Louis.

Norman McFarlane's three racers, Beauty Spot, Schenker and Teeligh, the latter a three-year-old maiden, have wintered well in Kentucky. Schenker will again be liberally entered in events for Canadian-owned horses. He weighs 1,050 pounds, much higher than at any time last season.

Samuel Ross, the Washington horseman, has two imported two-year-olds by Grey Eagle in training at Benning track. Grey Eagle is a colt whose dam is Memoria II, by Melton, and Lady Grey is a smart filly from Princess Caprice by Marco. Four other imported two-year-olds are also in the Ross stable.

During its stay in the west the Allan Cup has been the means of collecting for Winnipeg charities the sum of $20,000, according to C. C. Robinson, Western representative of the trustees. Dr. Secombe becomes bondsman for the cup while it is to be held by the Dental College of University of Toronto.

The ladies of Montreal play about as nice hockey as the professionals, according to reports from the East. In a game in the eastern city they had to call out the police to stop the riot.

A Chinese pugilist is said to be on his way to America from Australia, Clarence Taggie Chen.

It is said that the "Zulu Kid" knocked out of Young Ahearn in his conviction that he is through as a boxer.

Darcy Won't Enlist.

That Les Darcy, the Australian pugilist, has little or no intention of enlisting in a Canadian regiment is a certainty. A Toronto boxing promoter, who has been prominent in the ring game for years, recently wrote the champion "Slacker" to the effect that he would receive a warm welcome if he would join a Toronto regiment, but Darcy replied that he had other plans in view. He also said that he thought if he donned the khaki it would be with an Australian unit, but that he was hopeful of engaging in a few bouts in the United States before he joined the colors. It can be judged by this that Darcy is not overly eager to wipe out the stain upon his name. He has been given every opportunity to rehabilitate himself in the eyes of the world, but evidently patriotism is a secondary consideration with him.

Female Ambition.

In Britain there has been a marked increase this season in ladies' football, chiefly because teams are made up from munitions workers. At Chesterfield about 1,500 people witnessed a match between teams of girls employed at local manufacturing establishments. The whole of the proceeds were given towards the fund being raised by the local tradesmen for the Chesterfield Hospital.

New World's Hurdle Record.

Robert Simpson, world's champion hurdler, established a new world's records in the 50 yard low hurdles by negotiating the distance in six seconds at Kansas City. The record was made in the annual indoor dual track meet between Missouri and Kansas universities, which the former won 46 to 39. Simpson ran for Missouri. The former record for the 50 yard low hurdles was 6 1/2 seconds.

Easy to slide a tie through

"My this is great," one man said, in reference to the ease with which he could slide his tie through a W. G. & R. collar. "Why, I spent a $1.50 tie last week trying to pull it through another make of collar. Me for W. G. & R. collars after this."

The ample and uniform tie space (see arrows in illustration) in W. G. & R. collars in all sizes is a great tie and temper saver. It's a boon to mankind. Get collar-wise, men—wear
