WALDRON'S

THEATRICAL NEWS.

To-night Stop! Look! Listen!
"Stop! Look! Listen!" the attraction announced for the Grand tonight is a show of girls, costumes, scenery and dancing with dialogue that is scintillating and it all moves nimbly to ragtime. The chorus and show girls are ravishingly beautiful, all handsome and fresh young women, splendidly costumed. The costumes are as full of harmonies of line and color as they are of happy fantasy. They are delicate and decorative and could be worn indeed nowhere else and by no other than the Big Girls and Little Girls that carry them off so well. There are frills, hoops and yards of illusive tulle, there is fur, there are summer things for Honolulu and settings that are new and good in idea.

At Griffin's.
Marvelous Mary Pickford again displayed the reason for why she is the universal favorite in screenland last evening to capacity business at this popular playhouse. Her wonderful personality combined with an exceptionally attractive vehicle go to make up one of the most complete forms of entertainment ever presented to a discriminating public. In keeping with the story which tells of the extravagant display of wealth, many costly scenes were built for this subject, including a beautiful conservatory, with its lily pond, playing fountains, rare birds and immense botanical display. Enhanced by artistic lighting, and new effect in motion photography these scenes present a fitting background for the beautiful little star.

The second feature "One Day" presents a story that has an interesting plot, and thrilling scenic effects, among them a rainstorm, a sensation of fight aboard a sinking ocean liner, and the overthrow of a king by a mob large enough to people a town. Joanne Iyer is cast as "Opal" a young girl who becomes Queen of Versailles, of which "Paul," played by Francis Sutherland is King. The final episode of "The Shielding Shadow" clears up all the mystery surrounding this interesting story, and makes everybody happy. Tonight will be the last opportunity to witness the above great programme.

At the Strand.
For the first three days of next week another exceptionally strong bill of photoplays and vaudeville has been arranged for the Strand. Heading the bill will be Wilfrid Lucas the famous Canadian screen star in "A Love Sublime" one of the most recent releases from the Triangle-Fine Arts Studio. It is a human interest story of the slums. The settings are described as realistic and original. On the same bill will be shown Francis Ford and Grace Canard in the fourth episode of "The Purple Mask." There will also be some rib-ticking comedies and polite vaudeville which round out a first-class programme for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Dumped Into Ship.
Charles Andre had a narrow escape on Friday from losing his horse and cart. While dumping material into the water at the de Pont barracks the bank gave way, and horse, cart and driver went in. Artillerymen came to the rescue and saved Mr. Andre and his outfit, and he is grateful for the timely assistance. In his plunge he lost $14 out of his pocket.

Saturday Afternoon and Evening.
A meeting of Robert M. Murdoch, of Chicago, in the Orange Hall, ground floor. Afternoon at three o'clock. Subject, "A Sure Path to Spiritual Prosperity." Evening at 7 o'clock. Subject, "The Great Salvation." The hall is roomy, well lighted, well ventilated and comfortable in every way. You will be made welcome.

First Game of Ball.
The first game of baseball in the school league was played at the cricket field, Friday evening, when Frontenac school defeated Macdonald school by 10 to 6. Bruce Thompson was umpire. Six schools are in the league as follows: Frontenac, Macdonald, Louise, Central, Victoria and Sydenham. On Tuesday Victoria and Sydenham will play.

Greater Production.
A greater production meeting will be held at Tichborne Monday evening, April 30th, at 8 o'clock. Addresses by W. D. Black, M.P.P., Rev. J. D. Boyd, and Reeve J. A. Kennedy.

Boys For the Farms.
Samuel Lilley, Boys' Secretary of the Y.M.C.A., was in Nanawac and Deseronto this week, where he took up the question of getting high school boys to work on farms. At Nanawac he signed up 67 boys, and at Deseronto he got 20.

MILITARY CIRCLES.

The 14th Regt., orderly room at the Armouries will be open to-night until nine o'clock.

"Join the 14th Regt., for Home Defence" office at the Armouries open all day and every evening—phone-185.

Carroll Ashby, son of Mrs. Ashby, William street, a native of Virginia, left today for Washington to join the United States navy.

Military Y.M.C.A. Soldiers' social hour will be conducted as usual at the military Y.M.C.A., Sunday evening. Bright song service. Special music. All soldiers welcome.

An interesting story in military circles is that of a captain of the 253rd Q.U.H. His first appearance was with the American Legion in Toronto but a automobile accident made it impossible for him to go overseas. He enlisted in the local artillery as a gunner transferred to the 253rd and almost immediately promoted to the rank of captain. He was "on the carpet" for being in Buffalo in uniform and persuasively recruiting, and on his return was given leave to go to Brockville. The next item in his short but very interesting military career was his detention at Quebec, being unable to give a satisfactory reason for his being there. The officer did not proceed overseas with the battalion being still under medical treatment and he left on Saturday for Ottawa where headquarters wants him.

Col. G. Hunter Oglvie, A.A.G.H., has returned from an inspection trip to Brockville and Renfrew.

Major-Gen. Otter, who is in charge of Internment Operations for the Dominion was in the city on Saturday in connection with the removal of prisoners from Fort Henry to Kapuskasing.

A military funeral was accorded the late Pte. George Twort who died at the Mowat Hospital on Friday. The funeral was held on Saturday morning to Cataract Cemetery, the R.C.H.A. Band, returned soldiers, Mowat Hospital patients and a firing party from the Special Service Company attending.
