MILITARY CIRCLES.

Officers of the 14th Regiment, C. D. F., have sent out 275 individually addressed circulars to men who should join that unit.

Another would-be recruit has been rejected by a medical board from joining the 14th C. D. F., making the third.

Lieut. H. L. Howe has been appointed to the 72nd Battery.

Col. G. Hunter Oglvie, A.A.G., has left Brockville for Renfrew on inspection duty.

Lieut. O'Brien has been appointed to raise a reinforcing draft of fifty men to the 253rd Q.U.H. He will commence this work immediately.

Lieut. Thoburn, Ottawa, will raise a railway construction draft.

The 14th Regiment, C.D.F. bugle band, which is made up of several boys from the city, turned out on 253rd's departure, and made a splendid appearance.

Major G. I. Campbell, chief recruiting officer, is still on the sick list, but was able to come to Kingston and say farewell to the 253rd Q.U.H. Tuesday.

Major J. M. Wilson, who has been acting as Director of Dental Services for the Dominion for several days, during the absence of Col. Clayton, has returned to the city. Capt. S. H. Simpson has been acting A.D.D.S. here in the absence of the major.

Thursday evening at Military Y.M.C.A. the ladies of St. James' Anglican Church will entertain the soldiers to a concert and social evening. Refreshments will be served. All soldiers are welcome.

Last Wednesday evening the 14th Regiment Band held their first practice since the band was disorganized some time ago. Another has been called for to-night. It is felt by many citizens that one band in a city the size of Kingston is not enough and the 14th band available again will be very much welcome.

Join the 14th Regiment for Home Defence. Apply at the office in the Armouries. Phone 185.

There is a sign in the door of the 14th Regiment office in the Armouries, reading, "14th Regiment Office; Walk In." Young men are being urged to call at this office and frankly talk over enlistment for home or overseas service.

Lieut. Reginald Orde, Ottawa, who was recently invalided home after serving in the Royal Field Artillery for two years, both in France and in Mesopotamia, and who has for some weeks past been acting as an artillery instructor at Kingston, has been given the command of the 67th University of Toronto Battery with the rank of captain. The 67th Battery is at present stationed at the Exhibition Camp, Toronto.

THEATRICAL NEWS.

At the Grand.

To-night will be the last chance to see Charlie Chaplin in "The Cure," Billie Burke in the seventeenth chapter of "Gloria's Romance," and Gladys Coburn in "The Primitive Call." For Thursday and Friday an excellent bill has been secured. The programme includes a Vitagraph Blue Ribbon Feature, Peggy Hyland, with Marc Maedermott in "Babette." The story of a girl who saved a man's soul without knowing the miracle she wrought. Gently in its unfolding; sweet in its play of forces, "Babette" is an emotional play which is as loving as a mother's caress. Other pictures to be shown are a two-reel Universal drama, a comedy film and the Pathe News. This, together with two polite vaudeville acts, will complete a first-class bill for Thursday and Friday only.

Stop! Look! Listen!

On Saturday, April 28th, matinee and night, at the Grand Charles B. Dillingham's mammoth musical production, "Stop! Look! Listen," will be presented, direct from its phenomenal run in New York City. The production is the work of Irving Berlin, who supplied the music and lyrics, and Harry B. Smith. It is one song after another, and between times they dance. There are twenty-four members in the comedy, all of them pleasing and some better than others. One of the especially attractive features of the attraction is the beauty chorus, airy and active, and trained to the minute. It is also beautifully costumed; in fact a typical Dillingham beauty chorus. Sale of seats will begin on Thursday morning.

At Griffin's.

The popularity of the two popular costars, Wallace Reid and Anita King, who appear in the feature photoplay at Griffin's, was attested to last evening when capacity business greeted the two players. "The story of 'The Golden Fetter' is original and presents many unusual incidents which afford the large and handsome Mr. Reid an opportunity to display his splendid histrionic talents. A popular serial, "The Secret Kingdom," is attracting new admirers with each episode, and is one of the best stories yet been produced in serial form. This bill is made complete with a splendid vaudeville act which pleased all present. The above will be presented this evening and tomorrow evening.

At the Strand.

"A Girl of the Timberlands" the Strand Theatre last evening and should draw another capacity house for the last performance to-night. Constante Talmage in the titular role has amazing opportunity for a display of her wares, and makes the best of the character. "The Purple Mask," comedy films and a good vaudeville specialty round out the bill. For Thursday, Friday and Saturday the management has secured that famous Belgian production, "The Man Who Stood Still." Lew Fields will be in the principal role, supported by a worthy cast. There will be comedy films and the Helen Holmes serial "Lass of the Lumberlands," and polite vaudeville.

Who Gets the Diamond?

Hundreds are anxious to know how this wonderful serial story will finish. Two more episodes at the King Edward Theatre will tell the tale. Special all afternoon programme Thursday. Eight reels. Free admission.

OBITUARY

The Late Mrs. Lillian Pixley.

Mrs. Lillian Pixley was born in the township of Storrington in 1851, and passed to her reward on the 22nd February, 1917, being in her sixty-sixth year. She leaves a husband, one son, Ezra, Sydenham, one daughter, Mrs. James Scott, Westbrook; one sister, Mrs. John J. Blackaby; three brothers, Hezekiah, Washington and Wellington Vanvolkingburg, together with many friends to mourn her loss. Mrs. Pixley was a good woman, one that "feared God and eschewed evil." She removed to Sydenham some fifteen years ago, and lived an exemplary life. She was a devout Christian, and died in the triumph of faith. An appropriate sermon was preached in her home by her pastor, Rev. F. A. Read, from Rev. xiv 13, on the occasion of her funeral.

Charming Spring Suits!

Entirely distinguished from the models of other years, these new spring suits possess a style of their own. The great variety of styles and their decidedly new features is the reason for the large number we have already sold.

AT $20.00 we offer a number of decidedly new models, with only one of a kind.

AT $25.00 we are ready with quite a range of very choice designs.

AT $15.00 we have just received a few smart styles.

And many other makes up to $35.00.

Afternoon Dresses

A taffeta dress is always a taffeta dress, but this year it is a little more besides, it has become a necessity.

We are showing a number of new styles just received, ranging in price from $18.95 to $42.00.
