ITCHY SALT RHEUM

Sometimes Called Eczema—Removed by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Salt rheum is one of the worst and unfortunately one of the most common of all diseases. How it reddens the skin, itches, oozes, dries and scales, and then does this all over again! Sometimes it covers the whole body with inflamed, burning patches and causes intense suffering, which is commonly worse at night. Local applications may do some good, but they cannot permanently relieve. The disease will continue to annoy, pain and perhaps agonize, until the blood has been purified and the general health improved.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla, the good old reliable family remedy. It has given perfect satisfaction in thousands of cases. Insist on having Hood's Sarsaparilla, for no substitute acts like it. Get it today.

New Serial Story.

On Saturday, May 12th, the Whig will commence the publication of a new serial story entitled "Gold," by Stewart Edward White, the renowned novelist, explorer and hunter. This story was reviewed in the Whig's book review page when it first appeared in book form a couple of years ago, and it was then noted as one of the finest and most interesting stories of the day. The Whig, therefore, counts itself very lucky indeed to have been able to secure this splendid serial for its readers.

The scenes are laid in California during the days of the gold fever of '49, a most thrilling period in the history of the west. Law and order were unknown then, but the fellow who transgressed the rules of the majority received short shift at the hands of the vigilantes. Mr. White has made that feverish time live forever in history. It is a very wonderful piece of work. He has recreated the past, and we go with bated breath through the scenes he pictures with so much vividness. Part of the story is laid in Panama, which was the route taken by the gold seekers. If your heart has ever beaten a little faster at the thought of those adventurous days, you will follow the fortunes of this little party of four with real delight.

Remember the first instalment of this vivid story will begin on Saturday, May 12th. Be sure and read the opening chapters.
