EARLY MORNING BLAZE

FIRE IN SHED BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN INCENDIARY.

Damage Estimated at About $500 Done to Property Owned by the Street Railway Company—Military Guards Notified.

It is believed that a deliberate attempt was made by some party or parties to burn down a shed at the rear of the street railway company's barns and owned by the street railway company.

At 2:57 o'clock on Monday morning the firemen were called to the scene and found the shed in flames, and before the fire was extinguished damage estimated around $500 was done and there is no insurance. A large pile of railway ties were stored in the shed, and a goodly portion of these were rendered useless for railway purposes. The firemen used three lines of hose.

Military guards on duty in the rear of the car sheds, state that on two occasions earlier in the night, a fire was discovered in the shed and extinguished.

A shed belonging to Mrs. Vanalstyne also suffered damage.

AEROPLANE PASSED OVER CITY SUNDAY

It Was From the Royal Flying Corps Camp Near Deseronto.

At about 11:30 a.m. Sunday the citizens were surprised at the hum of an aeroplane. After an immense circle through the skies it came close to the city and passed in a southern direction. On its first trip over the city the plane was so close that the figure of the pilot could be clearly distinguished.

Inquiry revealed the fact that the aeroplane was one from the Royal Flying Corps, which recently established a base at Mowhawk Camp, near Deseronto. This plane was one of two squadrons which will soon be stationed there.

THE LATE MRS. S. W. DAY

MET A TRAGIC DEATH AT HER HOME

She Was Burned as Result of Her Clothing Catching Fire—The Burial Took Place on Sunday.

On Saturday afternoon Adelaide Isabella Waggoner, wife of Sydney Wellington Day, 279 University avenue, met an accidental death at her home.

On Saturday afternoon, Mrs. A. Thompson, and two children, Miss Irene and George, arrived in the city from Los Angeles, Cal., Mr. and Mrs. Day were waiting for them to be driven from the train to the house. Mr. Day went to his front steps to wait and the deceased, after speaking to him there, walked back into the house. She was not gone more than five minutes when her husband happened to go back into the hallway. He noticed smoke through the cellar door and grabbing a pail of water rushed downstairs. On the floor of a one-time elstern, which was reached by a couple of steps up from the cellar floor, he saw his wife stretched out. Her clothes around the upper part of her body were burned. It is supposed that Mrs. Day had lighted a match to locate a bad odor and her dress caught fire. Drs. J. W. Campbell and Day arrived shortly afterwards.

The fatality is deeply regretted by many friends through the city and district. Mrs. Day was well and favorably known. It will be remembered that her son, the late Lieut. Calvin W. Day, met death on the battlefield at Langemark two years ago. Lieut. Day was the first Kingston officer to fall on the western front.

The late Mrs. Day was born at Glenburnie sixty-four years ago, the daughter of the late Charles L. Waggoner and being one of a family of ten. A sister and brother predeceased her. The other survivors are Mrs. John Briggs, Utica, N.Y.; Mrs. Arthur Taylor, Toronto; Mrs. A. Thompson, Los Angeles; Mrs. Percy Harrison, Norfolk, Vir.; Archibald H. Waggoner, Chicago; Alexander C. Waggoner, City; Charles A. Waggoner, Brandon.

Beside her husband and brothers and sisters, two sons A. E. Day, barrister, and Dr. H. E. Day, and one daughter, Miss Mabel Day, all in the city, survive.

The funeral was private and was held from her late residence to Cataraqui cemetery on Sunday morning. Rev. Alfred Brown, pastor of Sydenham street church, of which the deceased was a faithful member, assisted by Rev. G. Y. Clendinnen, conducted the service at the home, and Rev. William Craig officiated at a short service at the cemetery.

The Late Miss M. G. Curragh.

On Monday Matilda Gertrude Curragh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Curragh, 10 Stuart street, passed away after an attack of typhoid fever. The deceased was born in the city nineteen years ago. She had made many friends who will deeply regret the cutting off of her young life.

The Late Mrs. W. Davidson.

On Monday morning at 3 o'clock, death came after a short illness to Mary McCartney, daughter of the late William McCartney and wife of William Davidson, 12 Sixth street.

The deceased was born in the city forty-two years ago. She was a member of St. Leo's church. To mourn her loss there are her husband, four children Lois, Frederick, Lillian in the city, and Bryce Davidson, a prisoner of war in Germany; also four sisters, Mrs. William O'Brien, Mrs. S. McCullough and Miss Gertrude McCartney, city, and Mrs. Groves, New York, and one brother Alexander in the city.

The Late Mrs. W. C. Bruton.

Ida May Lee, wife of William Charlton Bruton, 261 University avenue, died on Sunday after a lingering illness. The deceased was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ira Lee, the latter now being a resident of Prince Edward county. The late Mrs. Bruton was born at Odessa, fifty-two years ago and lived in Kingston for the last few years. Beside her husband and mother there are left to mourn her loss, three children, Miss Marion Bruton, Mrs. Turner and Mrs. D. B. Watson at home, and one sister Mrs. Earle, Vancouver.

The deceased was a member of Sydenham street Methodist church. The funeral will be at Napanea.

The Late Mrs. H. Gillings.

On Sunday Mrs. Helen Gillings, died in the General Hospital after six months illness. The deceased was born in England forty-nine years ago but came to this city when her husband went overseas. She had been residing on Lower Charles street.

The Late Samuel Knapp.

The funeral of the late Samuel Knapp was held on Sunday afternoon from his late residence Battersea to the Methodist church. A large number attended to pay their last respects to the deceased. Rev. Mr. Stewart, Battersea, assisted by Rev. Mr. Carson, Inverary, officiated. The pall-bearers were William Knapp, S. Ruitan, S. Keeler, F. Knapp and S. Knapp. One daughter Mrs. Thomas Shannon, Sudbury, and two sons Reuben and E. Knapp survive.

Death at Hartington.

The death occurred on May 5th at Hartington, of George M. Smith, aged sixty years, after a lingering illness. He suffered a paralytic stroke in February. He was born at Loughboro, was a Methodist in religion, and a member of the quarterly board of the church for over thirty years, very faithful and true to his church. He will be greatly missed by his many friends, and companions. He is survived by his wife, one son and one daughter, Elmer Smith of Verona and Mrs. C. B. Pitcher of Hagersville. The funeral took place on Wednesday May 9th, to Hartington Methodist church, and thence to the cemetery at Sydenham. Rev. Mr. Humphrey, of Harrowsmith, officiated, assisted by Rev. J. Medcof. The pall-bearers were William Leonard, James Walker, Charles Leonard, Matthew Trousdale, Benson Babcock, Stephen Martin. Among the relatives present were Rev. and Mrs. C. B. Pitcher, of Hagersville, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Watertown, N.Y.

IN CONGREGATIONAL CHURCHES

Rev. T. De Courcy Rayner Preaches Mothers' Sermons.

At the First Congregational church a good congregation gathered last evening to enjoy the special Mothers' Day service, which was conducted by the pastor, Rev. T. De Courcy Rayner. Many of the congregation, including the pastor, wore flowers in honor of their mothers. The sermon topic was "When Mothers Fall," the text being: Psalm xxvii, 10, "When my father and my mother forsake me, then the Lord will take me up."

During the service Rev. Rayner sang two very delightful solos, "I Hear the Voice of Jesus Say" and "There's a Beautiful Land on High."

In connection with the Mothers' Day service at Bethel Congregational church on Sunday morning Rev. T. De Courcy Rayner preached a very appropriate sermon, taking as his text "He saith unto his mother, 'Woman behold thy son'; then saith He to that disciple, 'Behold thy mother.'"
