BIG SCHEME DISCUSSED

PAGEANT TO PICTURE KINGSTON'S INTERESTING HISTORY.

Meeting Held in the Board of Trade Rooms—Committee of Five Was Appointed.

An immense pageant to illustrate the history of the City of Kingston from the time of Count Frontenac to the present was advocated at a meeting held in the Board of Trade rooms on Monday evening. It was decided that the time was not opportune yet, but a committee of five will keep the matter before the public and bring it up again soon.

The idea as explained to the meeting is a splendid one. It would involve every person of the city, and with every person giving their support it would be a grand success. The object would be to furnish money to the Red Cross Society and to educate the citizens to better appreciate the history on which this city is founded.

An historical pageant such as the one outlined would last for three days. It would be held in the open air and be a grand and spectacular review of the march of events for several hundred years back. This city is alive with landmarks and stories that could be converted into pageant form. It would mean an immense amount of work, but the results would most certainly justify such an effort.

After a lengthy discussion at the meeting it was finally decided that Mayor J. M. Hughes, R. Meek, Miss M. Redden, Miss B. Bureau and Mrs. Kennedy would be the committee of five to take up the scheme. At a later date when the time would be more favorable they will bring it up again by calling a meeting and decide if conditions would warrant action at that time.

"DRY LAW" WAS VIOLATED

FINE OF $200 AND COSTS OR THREE MONTHS FOR WOMAN

Accused Declared She Was Ignorant of the Law, and That It Was Unfair to Impose Fine on Her—Another New Drink for the Tipplers

Ignorance is no excuse for a violation of the Ontario Temperance Act. In Police Court Tuesday morning, Mrs. Ethel Biccum, who lives at 282 Ontario street, was found guilty of a violation of the "dry law," and was fined $200 and costs, or three months. With her little boy about seven years of age, the accused sat through the hearing of the evidence, but offered no defence, apart from a statement that she did not know that she was doing wrong when she kept liquor in her house, that she needed it for sickness, and that she thought it was unfair that she should be fined.

"There should be signs up so people can read about this new law," she told the Magistrate. "I'm very sorry," but I do not make the laws," replied the Magistrate.

Three maple syrup cans were brought into the court room by Constable Samuel Arnel. The latter, and Inspector McCammon, who made the seizure in Mrs. Biccum's home, which is situated over a warehouse, declared that the cans contained liquor.

Since the Temperance Act went into effect we are hearing about new drinks every day. The bartenders of the old days are not in it with the way some of the tipplers can do it out these days. A young fellow, gathered in for being intoxicated, said he did not drink liquor. He bought two bottles of invalid wine, and mixed some Jamaica ginger with it. Although he declared it was not liquor, the mixture was such as to fill the bill all right for it made him tipsy that a policeman had to run him in.

"We'll remand this case for a day," remarked the Magistrate, "and in the meantime we will have a look at the port wine."

The charge against another young fellow, who was drunk in a house was dismissed.

C.M.B.A. NOT MOVING

Grand Secretary Behan States That Head Office Remains Here.

J. J. Behan, grand secretary of the C.M.B.A., was asked as to the statement that the grand executive at a meeting in Montreal last week had decided to move the head office from Kingston to Montreal. Mr. Behan replied that the executive had not discussed the matter at all. The head office would remain in Kingston so far as he knew. This will be good news indeed, as the C.M.B.A. employs quite an office staff.

Death at Erinsville.

Friends in this community were grieved to learn of the death of Neil Carroll on Wednesday May 9th. The deceased had been in ill-health for some time nevertheless his death was a shock to his many friends. Mr. Carroll had been in an hospital in Kingston for some time but was removed to his home last week. He had been a life long resident of this community and his quiet genial disposition won for him a host of friends.

His remains were conducted to the Roman Catholic Church at Erinsville on Friday where a solemn requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Carey. After which the interment took place to the family plot. There are left to mourn his loss an aged mother, four brothers, Patrick, John Daniel and Michael, and two sisters, Mrs. K. Lynch and Mary.

"And Still Another."

W. Burden, 85 Division street, generously offers $5 in gold as a special prize at the Kingston Industrial Exhibition, 25th-27th September to the employee of the Canadian Locomotive Company for the best collection of vegetables grown in his garden during this season. Mr. Burden hopes the employees of the works will please note Mr. Burden's generosity. Any further information will be courteously given upon application.

If the special prize proposition appeals to the Board of Education and the Increased Production Committee as an aid to greater production it is to be hoped Mr. Burden will hear from them during the next couple of weeks. There are still three classes open for special prizes.

Secured Seed Potatoes. Meetings of the Finance and Agricultural Committees of the Greater Production Committee, were held on Monday afternoon, when some routine matters were attended to.

The chief item at the meeting of the Agricultural Committee was the announcement that a carload of potatoes would arrive in the city on Tuesday afternoon and that they would be sold at the rate of five cents a pound, or $4.50 a bag of ninety pounds.

The Ottawa papers noting the refusal to allow the Kingston commandant of the Veterans to attend a convention, calls him a doctor and a South African veteran. But before these statements are accepted the bona fides should be produced. The Whig has asked for them several times. Ructions in the kitchen—swarms of roaches all over it. Nothing any good until we used "Keating's." We sprinkled it over night and swept the roaches up next morning—dead. "Keating's" kills roaches. Tins, 10c, 25c, 35c. Be sure it's Keating's.
