CAPE VINCENT IS CLOSED
TO ALL PASSENGER TRAFFIC FROM THE CITY OF KINGSTON

A Foolish Regulation Forbids Passengers Entrance to the United States Through Cape Vincent.
A suggestion was made a few days ago to the Department of Labor of the United States Government to have the Cape Vincent immigration office make its examinations at Kingston instead of at the Cape and thus solve the difficulty of passengers landing at Cape Vincent now. This is being done at Morristown and Ogdensburg. The Department of Labor has answered with a very caustic letter stating that it would not consider such a proposal.
Kingston people cannot cross to the United States via Cape Vincent, no matter what amount of head tax they offer to pay or how urgent their business. They can not enter the port of Cape Vincent under any consideration.
This blocking of the States from Kingston's usual entrance is having such a detrimental effect on business and on the convenience of the people of the district that pressure of the most severe kind should be brought to bear on the U. S. Department of Labor to have the foolish regulation of May 1st rescinded. It makes it imperative that the Canada Steamships lines build a $5,000 building at the Cape before a service can be carried on. This company can deal with any hope of financial success as the business does not warrant such an outlay.
The people of Kingston are being made the "goat" between the two parties, and to-day the United States through the port of Cape Vincent, is closed to Canadian traffic.

THE FRONTENAC DEANERY
SESSIONS HELD TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY AT WOLFE ISLAND

Canon Gould Gave Splendid Address on the Work of Missions.—Resolution on Death of Bishop Mills.—Bishop Bidwell Held Confirmation Service.
Meetings of the Frontenac Deanery were held at Wolfe Island on Tuesday and Wednesday, when the members had a most interesting and profitable time.
Among those who were present for the supper on Tuesday evening, were the rector of Wolfe Island, Rev. Thomas Leech, Rev. J. O. Crisp, Archdeacon Dobbs, Canon FitzGerald, Rev. J. de Pencier Wright, Rev. A. O. Cooke, Rev. F. G. Kirkpatrick, Rev. Mr. Pringle, Sharbot Lake, and Rev. T. W. Savary.
Following the supper the rector, Rev. Mr. Leech and Dr. William Spangle, welcomed the members of the Deanery, to the village, and parish.
Rev. Dr. Gould, general secretary of the M.S.C.C., replied on behalf of the visitors, and gave some interesting reminiscences of his ministry in Kingston, and his work in Palestine.
In the evening, a missionary meeting was held, at which Archdeacon Dobbs acted as chairman.
Dr. Gould spoke on the subject, "The War and Christian Missions," and told of the evil effects it was feared the war would have on the work of missions. However, these evils had not occurred. Since the war contributions for the work had been larger, and the people had been given a new vision of the call to service.
Archdeacon Dobbs also spoke on the question of missions, pointing out how the people had been made to realize as a result of the war, the great need for missionary work.
Wednesday morning, holy communion was celebrated by Rural Dean Crisp, and during the morning a business session was held.
A resolution of sympathy was passed and ordered to be sent to Mrs. Mills and Major Arthur Mills, in the death of Bishop Mills, and a similar resolution was passed on the death of Canon Grout, clerical secretary of the diocese.
A resolution was also passed, in connection with the resignation of Canon Forneri of St. Luke's church. The members expressed their appreciation of his work in the ministry, and especially at St. Luke's church. The sympathy of the members was also extended to Canon Forneri, in the death of his son, Lieut. Forneri at the front.
On motion of Canon FitzGerald, a hearty welcome to the Deanery was extended to Rev. J. de Pencier Wright, the new rector of St. Luke's church.
Rev. S. E. Harrington, of Sydenham, was unable to be present, and he sent a letter of regret which was read.
Rural Dean Crisp gave an address on "The State of the Church in the Deanery", in which he presented a very interesting statement, summarized from the different reports of the parishes. Discussion followed.
A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the rector and his parishioners for the splendid luncheons provided at the sessions.
On Wednesday afternoon, the members heard a report from Prof. H. Mitchell, on the council for social service, and an interesting discussion followed.
Bishop Bidwell conducted the "The Quiet Hour" which was followed by special prayers, and an address by Bishop Bidwell.
Wednesday evening, at 7.30 o'clock, a confirmation service was held by Bishop Bidwell. There were seven candidates, and the Bishop delivered a most appropriate address.

The suggestion carries with it the idea of having veterans of all campaigns as members, but without voting power. The officer approached is deciding on a convenient date, and an announcement will be made shortly.

Who Owns the Road?
The Board of Works members had a conference last night with Chief Engineer Chapleau of the Public Works Department, Ottawa, with regard to the roadway leading to Cataract Causeway. Mr. Chapleau had asked the Board if it intended maintaining this piece of road. The question arose as to the ownership of the road, the Board being under the impression that it belonged to the Government. If it did, the Government would have to maintain it. Mr. Chapleau promised to have the question of ownership looked into.

WHY MULLOY DIDN'T COME
A Good Story Told By The Canadian Courier.
The Canadian Courier publishes an article under the title "Win-the-War-Mulloey," who works for an idea bigger than himself and sees it with the blind man's eyes. The article is decidedly interesting. This story is told as to Mulloy's tact:
Once upon a time Principal Gordon, of Queen's invited Mulloy to his house to meet a brilliant blind student. Mulloy had a sudden fit of unexpected illness. He did not arrive; the principal tried to arrange the blind man's meeting again. Once more Mulloy took suddenly ill; even worse than before. He failed to arrive. Some time later, when a distinguished man came to town—a man with both eyes in good working order—Mulloey was one of the company. So was the principal of Queen's.
"Oh," smiled the principal, "how is it, Mulloy, that both times I tried to—"
"Oh, that's all right, principal," snapped Mulloy, "I couldn't come. No. Look, principal. Just take a parallel case. Principal Grant, your predecessor, had only one arm. Suppose he had been invited to your house to meet all the one-armed men in this neck of the woods—do you think he'd have accepted the invitation?"
