

Careless Shampooing Spoils The Hair

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is a plain mild soap...

Gananoque

(From Our Own Correspondent) May 23.—The steam barge Hinckley was in port this week with a cargo of coal. Capt. D. J. Kenney of the ferry launch Yennek has made satisfactory arrangements with the immigration department for the carrying of passengers between Gananoque and Clayton.

NO MORE WHISKEY FOR THE GUTTER

Carrying out the strict letter of the Ontario Temperance Act, Chief of Police Baillie has been pouring confiscated whiskey in the gutter. This is an awful waste when Kingston hospitals have to pay out money to purchase liquor.

The firemen report the loss of a brass cap off hose wagon No. 2 and would like the fender to return the same to the Brock street fire hall.

OBITUARY

The Late Mrs. O. Parsons. Many Kingstonians will regret to hear of the death on Tuesday evening of Olive Conklin, wife of the late William Parsons, and sister of Mrs. James Reid, Princess street, Kingston. The deceased had been a resident of Toronto for a number of years.

The Late Miss S. Walroth. Susan Walroth, aged fifty-one, a resident of Olden township, died in Kingston on Tuesday after a long illness. The remains were sent by James Reid & Co. to Toronto for burial.

The Late James Kane. The death of James Kane, which occurred Tuesday at his late residence, 67 Colborne street, brought sorrow to relatives and to citizens, who mourn the passing of an upright and conscientious citizen.

The late Mr. Kane was born in Maghera, County Derry, Ireland, and came to Canada in 1862, spending most of his years in Kingston City.

MILITARY FUNERAL HELD.

Returned Officers Were Pallbearers of Lieut. Terney. A military funeral in honor of the late Lieut. M. Terney, 2nd Battalion, who died on Monday evening, was held on Wednesday at 8.30 a.m. from the Hotel Dieu to St. Mary's Cathedral, and thence to St. Mary's cemetery.

The remains were taken on a gun carriage from the Hotel Dieu to the cathedral, where a solemn requiem mass was sung for the repose of his soul. The gun carriage was followed by a firing party and a long line of soldiers who have been overseas.

The pallbearers were Col. Ackerman, Major Goodwin and Birdall, Capt. Swaine and Macnee, and Lieuts. Newlands and Mills.

The following floral and spiritual offerings were received: From wife, wreath; mother and father, cross; sister Kathie, wreath; late fellow officers, 2nd Battalion, wreath; commandant and staff of the I.S. of T., wreath; Col. Perrault, flowers; ties with colours of Dublin Fusiliers; Major Goodwin, late of 2nd Batt., an old comrade, spray; W. A. Dewey, sheaf of roses; Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, cross; Mr. and Mrs. H. Cooke, spray of flowers; Mrs. Cooper and daughter, cross; Mrs. T. Walton, spray; Mrs. Parfait, cross; Mr. and Mrs. Williams and family, spray.

ANNETTE KELLERMANN In Neptune's Daughter at the Strand Theatre. "Neptune's Daughter" a photo-drama complete in eight parts will be presented at the Strand for the last three days of this week, and gives Miss Annette Kellermann a long pantomimic part to play, in addition to which she is shown in old and new feats of diving.

As a phantom of the sea, the picture has diverting and original qualities. Miss Kellermann, often called a mermaid, appears like one this time. Surrounded by some forty sisters she swims and dives about the shores of Bermuda.

After a long series of adventures, Annette loses the charm and has to remain a mortal, though an exalted one, for she becomes the queen of the handsome young king who has just overthrown a usurper to his crown.

Some remarkable scenes in this photo-drama show Miss Kellermann feeding a cave full of fish, doing his dives from perilous cliffs, struggling with a hired assassin on the water, and dancing classic dances as a woodland nymph.

TWO MOTIONS ENTERED Justice Middleton Will Hear Two Applications Regarding Wills. The docket of Civil Causes entered for trial at the Non-Jury Assizes to be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. before Justice Middleton will be two motions.

One is an application on behalf of Marion B. Lesslie, Executrix of the late Catherine Cronin for the advice and direction of the court as to the disposition of the legacy of $500 given by her will to "Mrs. R. T. Walkem to be disposed of by her for such charitable purposes as she may think proper." Mrs. R. T. Walkem predeceased the testatrix.

The other is an application for an order that the executrix of the estate of the late W. R. Acton, Gananoque, do forthwith pay to one Walter Harcourt Acton, executor of the estate of one James A. Acton, deceased, the instalment due on 3rd March 1917 of the legacy bequeathed to him and pay the other instalments of the legacy to him as they fall due.

At the Strand to-night, Chas. Murray and Louise Faenza, in "Maggie's First False Step," 2,000 feet of Keystone fun and frolic.

In a local theatre last night an outsider, who persisted in laughing at most pathetic scenes, received a jolt in the shape of a slap in the face from an irritated spectator in front of him. The incident caused quite a sensation.
