WALDRON'S

CITIZEN BITTEN BY DOG

IT IS THOUGHT SOME ACTION SHOULD BE TAKEN.

Complaints About Wandering Canines Are Constantly Heard—Let the Dog Catchers Get Busy.

Many complaints are being heard on the streets from citizens about the large number of dogs which infest every part of the city. One well-known insurance agent is nursing a bite he received a few days ago while riding on his bicycle. He is very hot under the collar that the Council does not do something to prevent these canines running all over the city.

Last year a young man succumbed to the injuries he received when he was bitten by a dog and a similar tragedy may occur again.

The argument is put forth that if a man does not care enough for his dog to look after him he should be taken in charge by a dog catcher and destroyed. The by-law is not enforced and the animals can snap at whoever they will.

Especially in the summer when people are motoring, bicycling and walking so much it is thought that some action should be taken to put a curb on the nuisance.

It is nearly time for the authorities to get at work when dogs are being bitten on the city streets in broad daylight by wandering canines.

Movies to Promote Safety.

The first moving picture railway car in Canada is being inaugurated by the Canadian Government system. The safety department, organized in 1914, has done excellent work.

The figures for 1915 are not yet available, but in 1914 and 1915 members of the safety committees all over the line reported the correction of over 6,500 unsafe conditions and practices. During these two years also 23 fewer employees were killed, a decrease of 60 per cent.; 407 fewer employees were injured, a decrease of 29 per cent.; three fewer passengers were killed, a decrease of 50 per cent.; and four fewer trespassers met death.

Hon. Frank Cochrane has now authorized the fitting up of a car for the exhibition of moving pictures dealing with the dangers of taking chances on the railway work. It will spend a week at each of the terminal points.

May Can Grayfish.

The possibility of obtaining grayfish on the Pacific coast in the winter season promises to create a larger supply of this fish, for which at present the demand will exceed the available stocks, while at the same time it offers the fish packers of the North-West an opportunity to put their canning machinery to profitable use during the period when ordinarily it would be idle after the close of the canning season.

It is nearly time for the supply of grayfish on the west coast to start until just before the salmon begin to run. They grayfish are not found in the winter on the Atlantic coast, but are present there in the summer.

The result of this arrangement is that a winter pack can be made upon the Pacific and a summer pack upon the Atlantic.

Acts as Canadian Club.

The Brant Historical Society is planning to incorporate with its society the idea of the Canadian Club, of which there is not one in Brantford. A committee has been named to arrange for a series of addresses. It is thought this will serve the purpose of the Canadian Club.

A Noble Family.

A Scottish-Canadian family's tragic sacrifice in the war became known on the departure from Ramsgate of Nurse Murray and her brother, Corporal Murray, who wore three gold stripes on his sleeve. They are the only surviving children of Colonel Murray, of Toronto, formerly of the Black Watch. Two of Colonel Murray's sons were killed at Ypres, two fell on the Somme, and the younger daughter was killed by a shell while a nurse at a Belgian clearing station.

WHO GAVE KING BAD ADVICE?

Toronto Telegram.

Whoever is advising the Crown to bless Canada with a bumper crop of titles and honors is giving the King bad advice. His Majesty the King does not spill titles out of the fullness of his royal favor as a village philanthropist might upset a pailful of candies in a scramble for the contents of the pail.

The King's counsellors in Ottawa, and Britain should be advised to keep the Sovereign's name clear of association with the output of a title factory. The King is brought nearer to the people when the name of George V. is used in connection with the distribution of honors to Canadian soldiers. The King is not brought nearer to the people when his Majesty's name is misused in connection with the distribution of titles to civilian favorites.

The Canadians on the latest list of birthday honors are just as eminent and deserving as the Canadians on any other list of King's birthday or New Year's honors. British institutions are not strengthened, the King's name is not exalted in the hand, by the tendency "to stuff the country so full of knights that their feet will stick out of the windows of our own Canadian home."

No Political Distinctions.

(Peterboro Examiner) The words Liberal and Conservative should for the moment be erased from the national lexicon, and the name patriot be made to combine in the formation of a government, national in character and aim and possibilities of service.

THEATRICAL NEWS

At the Grand.

For tonight the Grand offers a bill that is certain to please everyone. Valeska Suratt is starred in the Fox five-part drama of the White Lights, "The New York Peacock."

The dramatic story woven around a woman with the charms of a Cleopatra and a heart of stone; and an unsuspecting country youth, cast over night into the encompassing swirl of the big city with $100,000 to put through a war contract for his father. The life you've heard of but never lived—the dizzy, swirling, White Light Life of New York, you can live one night with safety by seeing Valeska Suratt with the Empress of Fashion, in this truly great photoplay. Supporting Miss Suratt is a cast of unusual strength, and includes Harry Hilliard and Claire Whitney, two screen stars of established popularity.

Two acts of first class vaudeville, consisting of Gales and Raymond, a comedy singing and dancing pair, and Jack Denton, a singing comedian. The Pathe News and three reels of good Universal pictures, round out this pleasing bill for to-night and Friday only.

Vittorio Trevisan in "Faust."

The first Bass with the Boston-English Opera Company, which will be heard at the Grand Opera House on Saturday, June 9th, matinee and night, is said to be the most versatile man on the operatic stage. He has won his greatest laurels as Mephisto in Gounod's "Faust," his interpretation of this role being the essence of sardonic fiendishness, and it is almost unbelievable to one who has heard him as Mephisto one night and as the jolly barber in the "Barber of Seville" the next night, that the good-natured barber, bubbling over with mirth, could be the "Devil" of the night before.

Signor Trevisan is an Italian by birth and education, and he has sung in the greatest opera houses of Italy and France. Signor Trevisan will sing the role of Mephisto in "Faust," which will be given in English and to hear this gifted artist in himself a rare lesson in the art of singer acting.

At Griffin's.

In keeping with the progressive policy of this theatre the management of Griffin's has secured George M. Cohan's first photoplay, released by Artrcraft pictures, "Broadway Jones."

Ever since the early days of the motion picture, George M. Cohan has been approached by various big motion picture interests with flattering offers, but it was not until a few months ago that he finally decided to branch out into this field.

At the head of his own company he commenced activities in the motion picture art with the same enthusiasm and energy that has marked his great success in theatricals. Selecting "Broadway Jones," conceded to be his biggest stage hit and which was written and produced by himself, he makes his bow as a screen star, and that the film version of this play will even score a greater success than the original play is freely predicted.

This splendid picture will be shown today, Friday and Saturday, and in addition there will be a Famous Players feature "The Dummy" starring Jack Pickford. Also the fifth episode of the wonder serial "Patria," featuring Mrs. Vernon Castle.

At The Strand.

The Triangle comedy drama, "Night and the Man" featuring Carmel Myers and Elmo Lincoln will be exhibited at the Strand for the last three days of this week.

The story concerns a physical culture trainer at a millionaire's sanitarium. Among the patients is a steel manufacturer suffering from indigestion. By a vigorous course of exercise, Lincoln, the trainer gets the millionaire in fighting condition. This so pleases the erstwhile dyspeptic that he invites the trainer to his home, there Lincoln succeeds in foiling the plot of foreign agents who attempt to steal plans of a submarine destroyer, which the manufacturer to construct for the government.

This courage and powerful physique prove irresistible to the millionaire's daughter. But the young Hercules has made the acquaintance of the cook, a genius at pie baking. Thus he is torn between two loves—brains and beauty. "Fatty" Arbuckle in a three reel comedy entitled "Fatty and Mabel Adrift" and Helen Holmes in "A Lass of the Lumberlands" will also be shown.

(Mrs. Fanny Stone, Sacket Harbor, N.Y., was killed and Henry Earl and Mrs. Nellie Sparks, Watertown, N.Y., injured when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a train.
