

YEAR 84, NO. 132

KINGSTON, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, JUNE 7, 1917

SECOND SECTION

"IN HOC SIGNO VINCES."

By William T. Ellis.

The key to Christianity is a cross. Without the event on Calvary the religion of Jesus is inexplicable.

All roads to helpfulness lead over a rocky crest called in the Hebrew, "Golgatha." Sacrifice must precede service.

And why God's message laughed to scorn? "Your cheek hath known no Judas kiss."

It was only shame that the rabble saw in the dreadful spectacle upon the central one of these three crosses; had their eyes been open they would have beheld sovereignty there.

A Tragedy's Suggestive Side. What was the keenest suffering of the Man who hung suspended there in agony until His heart broke?

The pang which fairly rent His heart was that His people whom He had lavishly served, and passionately loved, could do such a deed.

And He still covets comradeship. The women at the foot of the cross were a comfort unspeakable to the dying Saviour.

Comrades of the Cross. Nothing outside of himself can really shame or injure a man. It was no humiliation to Jesus to die with the malefactors on either side of Him.

And He still covets comradeship. The women at the foot of the cross were a comfort unspeakable to the dying Saviour.

himself, than over the sin of the wrongdoer. Such was the magnificent spirit of the Crucified. Man's sin was the Redeemer's sorrow.

A Great Man Among Little Men.

Even crude souls catch the pathos of the plight of Napoleon on the Island of St. Helena, when subjected to the petty indignities and insults and slights of a small-souled official.

When the cross, with its heavily burdened upon it, was finally dropped into its socket, a wretch that must have racked every nerve fibre in the sensitive body, a squad of soldiers kept watch before it.

And He still covets comradeship. The women at the foot of the cross were a comfort unspeakable to the dying Saviour.

cross—disciples who know the fellowship of suffering. No sorrow, no sacrifice, no shame can be too great to bring one into a comprehending communion with the crucified Christ.

The End of it All.

Few events are final; most are but means to an end. The cross was not Christ's extinction but His coronation.

Mary saw in that hour what the angel announced had meant when he declared: "Thou shalt call His name Jesus; because he shall save his people from their sins."

"Thorn-crowned His blessed Head, Blood-stained His weary Head, Cross-laden He was led For me!

"Pierced were His hands and feet, Three hours over Him beat Pierce rays of noontide heat For me!

CANADIAN GUNFIRE DAZES

GAS ALSO GREATS ALARM IN HUNGARIAN BRESTS.

Fight For Dugouts—Dominion Troops Have Exciting Experience South of Souchez River.

London, June 7.—Beach Thomas, describing in the Daily Mail the encounter between the Canadians and the 56th Bavarian division says that seldom have advance and repulse trod so quickly on each other's heels.

Much of it was hard fighting, but it was quick fighting, for the enemy had been terribly punished by shell fire and gas. Some of the 100 prisoners taken were quite dazed, and they told alarmist stories of the effects of our gas before the attack opened.

The Canadians worked with furious energy to make the position firm. One of their businesses was to erect steps in the trenches, for in some places we were occupying an extension of lines occupied in-force by the enemy.

Lively Letters Were Written by Sergeant-at-Arms, Who Placed Matter in the Deputy Minister of Justice's Hands.

Ottawa, June 7.—Colonel Henry R. Smith, Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Commons, assisted by the Department of Justice, has made it very clear to Hon. Albert Sevigny, ex-Speaker, and now Minister of Inland Revenue, that the property of the House of Commons belongs to it and must be kept in its custody.

HON. ALBERT SEVIGNY

A return tabled in the Commons discloses a somewhat sensational state of affairs in regard to Mr. Sevigny's ideas of the proprieties in shipping to his own residence at Quebec several hundred dollars' worth of the furnishings of the Speaker's apartment.

SUDDEN DEATH

Caused by Disease of the Kidneys.

The close connection which exists between the heart and the kidneys is well known nowadays. As soon as kidneys are diseased, arterial tension is increased and the heart functions are attacked.

It is a good insurance against such a risk to send 10 cents for a large trial package of "Anuric"—the latest discovery of Dr. Pierce. Also send a sample of your water. This will be examined without charge by expert chemists at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Simply ask for Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets. There can be no imitation. Every package of "Anuric" is sure to be Dr. Pierce's. You will find the signature on the package just as you do on Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for blood and stomach.

Worry, Despondency. Kidney Disease is suspected by medical men when patients complain of backache or suffer with irregular urination, disturbed, too frequent, scanty or painful passage. The general symptoms are rheumatic pains or neuralgia, headaches, dizzy spells, irritability, despondency, weakness and general misery. Worry is a frequent cause and sometimes a symptom of kidney disease. Thousands have testified to immediate relief from these symptoms after using Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets.

by his orders to Quebec, and respectfully requesting him to return them to the custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms. On the 12th of February Mr. Sevigny wrote back saying that he would go to Quebec in a few days and would give orders for the return of the articles. After much further correspondence the articles arrived in Ottawa.

Mr. Sevigny's Explanation.

The Hon. Albert Sevigny made a statement in the House yesterday in reply to some reports appearing in the newspapers in connection with certain effects taken from the Speaker's apartments and sent to Quebec. He declared that he had borrowed these articles during the recess with the full knowledge of the officials and had returned them.

The Peterboro Career of Sir Joseph Flavell.

Peterboro, June 7.—It is gratifying to Peterboro that another of her sons has risen to the top in the person of J. W. Flavell, who was created a baronet in the birthday honors.

Sir Joseph was born in a cottage on Union street, which still stands. In 1888 he married Clara Elsworth, a Peterboro girl, daughter of Rev. Mr. Elsworth, pastor of the Methodist church at that time, and who resided where Mr. Conroy's residence now stands. His rapid ascent in the business world started from when he became manager for Davis & Co., is attributed to his splendid business principles.
