SHALL WE WIN OR QUIT FIGHT?

Subject of An Address By Arthur Hawkes At Niagara Falls.

THE OTTAWA ATMOSPHERE

IS THE MOST RECEPITIVE IN THE WORLD.

If Canadians at Home Are Willing to Quit Why Should Our Men at the Front Be Given the Same Chance? Niagara Falls, Ont., June 20.—"Shall we win the war or quit the war" was the subject of an address by Arthur Hawkes in the City Hall here last night, at the opening meeting of the non-partisan campaign for the Prime Minister's Military Service Act, which has been undertaken by the Ontario supporters of the recent National Unity and Win the War Convention at Montreal. Mr. Hawkes said the most dangerous domestic situation in Canada since 1837 and the gravest crisis of the war compelled patriotic men to take any step which clearly revealed itself as imperative. Win the war citizens everywhere had called for strong action. Sir Robert Borden had done three things which had rallied non-partisans to his side. He had staked his political existence on a policy of reinforcing the men at the front. He had opened wide the door to a non-partisan government, by obtaining the resignation of each member of the cabinet, he had made it possible for men of all parties and of none to combine for an administration which would make of machine politics one of the most blessed casualties of the war. Especially for those who had always refused the yoke of an unscrupulous machine politician. The only thing to do now was to sustain the Prime Minister in the free course he had marked out.

A union government was now essential to national stability, Mr. Hawkes declared. The Ottawa atmosphere was the most receptive in the world. The capital was a great inferno camp, far removed from healthy patriotism of the country. Sir Robert was really appealing to the country which must manifest its devotion to the reinforcement question as paramount, while insisting that with all speed, convenient or inconvenient, all the resources of the country be organized for the war.

"Your money or your life," was the only principle on which enough forces could be swiftly marshalled to defeat the damnation of Berlin. Vague talk about "next year" could not be accepted by a nation that was alive to its own peril and was sensitive to its pledged word, to the appeal of the dead in France and the living who soon would die there.

"The mistakes of the past said Mr. Hawkes must not be allowed to excuse united action against the enemy. 'Why didn't he?' was no answer to 'Why don't you?' The duty at hand was so urgent that it gave no opportunity for abuse of distant people. When we had recovered our own slackers who had fled to the United States and had shown that we realized the appalling urgency of the war and had got rid of the talk that the United States might keep up the dwindling Canadian fighting force, we could perhaps sit in the seat of the scornful.

HOW WOUNDED ARE CONVEYED FROM BATTLEFIELD AFTER A PUSH ON WESTERN FRONT

This is one of the methods employed in carrying the wounded to the rear, where aid and comfort are at hand; that is, such comfort as can be given at quick notice. In the above case the wounded man is being carried to a hospital on a stretcher placed on a carrier made of long wooden slats bolted together in the centre. It is a revival of a very ancient method of transit still, of course, practised in the East.

"If we were willing to quit, why shouldn't our men at the front be given the chance of doing what the people at home were willing to do. To state such a possibility was to make our duty clear. A country that was quarrelling within itself could not be a win the war country."

DYSPEPSIA Most Difficult to Cure BUT B.B.B. DOES IT.

Dyspepsia is one of the most difficult diseases of the stomach there is to cure.

You eat too much; drink too much; make the stomach work overtime. You make it perform more than it should be called on to do. The natural result is that it is going to rebel against the amount of work put on it. It is only a matter of time before dyspepsia follows.

That forty-year-old remedy, Burdock Blood Bitters, will cure the dyspepsia, and will cure it to stay cured as we can prove by the thousands of testimonials we receive from time to time.

Mr. Neil A. Cameron, Kiltarlity, N.S., writes: "I am writing you a few lines to tell you what your great medicine Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. I was troubled very much with dyspepsia for the past two years. I was recommended all kinds of medicines, but they did not help me any. At last a friend advised me to try a bottle of B.B.B. I took four bottles and was totally cured. I will gladly recommend it to all sufferers."

B.B.B. is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

6,000,000 WOMEN MAY GET VOTE

British Reform Bill Now Before the House of Commons.

RULE OUT A REFERENDUM

STRAIGHT VOTE FOR OR AGAINST THE PRINCIPLE.

The Franchise Will Double Present Electorate—Men Voters May Outnumber Women by Over Five to Three.

London, June 19.—The Times says: The House of Commons will begin to-day consideration of the clause in the reform bill granting votes to women. Two days will be given to the debate and a decisive division will be taken to-morrow night. It is understood the chief anti-suffragist amendment making the change dependent on a referendum will be ruled out of order. There is little substance remaining to the amendments and every prospect of a straight vote for and against the principle of woman suffrage. The proposal in the bill is that any woman on the local Government register who has attained the age of 30 years shall receive the Parliamentary vote. Under the bill the local Government franchise in England and Wales is to be enjoyed by every person who can show six months' occupation as owner or tenant of land or premises. It is officially estimated there are one million women occupiers and five million wives of men occupiers of the specified age. If the compromise embodied in the bill is allowed to stand the men voters will outnumber women more than five to three. The effect of the franchise changes will be to double the present electorate.

The self-made fool ought not to receive as much sympathy as the born speculator. Stealing may be gain at the loss of reputation. Faith comes in for a lot of abuse in this world.

CANADA'S TRAINING SYSTEM

In Military Athletics To Be Adopted By U. S.

A signal honor has been paid Lieut. Col. Greer and Captain T. C. Flanagan of the Sportsmen's Battalion by the American military authorities, according to a despatch from Washington. Messrs. Greer and Flanagan visited the United States Government and gave Commissioner Fordick, who is in charge of the American training camps, the benefit of their advice as gained from their experience in Canada. As a result the United States Government have decided to adopt the Canadian athletic training system in its entirety. The best coaches in the world will be obtained and given sole charge of the sporting end of the training at each camp. Colonel Greer is quoted as saying: "The German soldier has no sport." "The Canadian soldier," he says, "is a machine; he is rigidly in his place. He can't understand the idea that fighting is sport to the British. That long line of men charging, laughing and kicking a football along ahead terrifies him. That is why you read of fifteen hundred or two or three thousand men surrendering in a body, with hardly any resistance." "The English and Canadians never surrender like that. They fight while they have a cartridge left or a leg to stand on. It isn't in the game to quit. It's against every principle of sport."

VICTORY IN HEARTS OF ALL.

Whig Receives Card From Alfred E. Lavell, at Salonica.

The Whig has received a card from Salonica from Alfred E. Lavell, in which he says: "It is a great privilege to have any part in this expedition. Its doings are not advertised, but they will some day be known, and then will be given a high place in the winning of the war. Without them Greece would be in German hands, a nest of submarines. How many supply and transport ships would have got through to Egypt and India? The difficulties have been enormous. Shells are only a part. But though there is snow on the mountain, and fever in the valleys, there is victory in the hearts of all. Salonica harbor reminds one of Kingston in many ways—but it isn't."

If wishes were wings very few of us would walk. Usually it means lost time to argue with the fool. A lot of folks send a dime on a dollar mission.

Advantage is what mankind at large seems to be looking for.

TOLD TO "MAKE UP."

Advice Given to Woman Who Complained Husband Abused Her.

On Tuesday morning, a woman called at the police station. She claimed that her husband abused her and wanted to know what she could do about the matter. After the particulars were given, the woman was advised to return and "make up" with the husband, but she declared that she did not like him any more, and that everything was off.

WAR IS HELL AND THEN SOME MORE, AS IS HERE CLEARLY DEPICTED

War is hell and then some more. The accompanying picture shows some of its horrors. Somewhere in France is the scene of this engagement, and while the battle rages the wounded are being carried off the battlefield by their comrades, while whizzing bullets arrest their movements.

July Records

HERE is a record of "Old Black Joe," by Louis Graveure, the world-famed baritone, that is nothing less than a perfect gem of inspired song-interpretation. The very soul of the whole dying darkey speaks in moving tenderness in each phrase, and as the soft, scarce-breathed last words die away, the hearer is left with tears in his eyes. And "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny" voices the longing expressed in the words with such rare, touching and true expressiveness, and the ending is so wholly beautiful, that the listener finds himself silent—enthralled!

Of the same class is Lucy Gates' rendering of "Aloha Oe," the Hawaiian farewell song, with the sweet sound of guitars and four fine male voices bringing out the tender beauty of her voice; Francis MacMillen's first recording (exclusively for the Columbia Company) of two of his own violin compositions; and the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra's recording of the "Barcarolle" from "The Tales of Hoffmann." These are indeed unusual

Added to these are patriotic selections, bugle calls, band music; songs by Vernon Stiles from Victor Herbert's "Eileen"; two beautiful ballads sung by Charles Harrison; trios, quartettes, humorous dialogues; drum-and-piano and bell novelties; saxophone selections and story-telling records, making a list that's a notable addition to the fine list of records with the "music-note" trademark.
