CHEMICALLY SELF-EXTINGUISHING

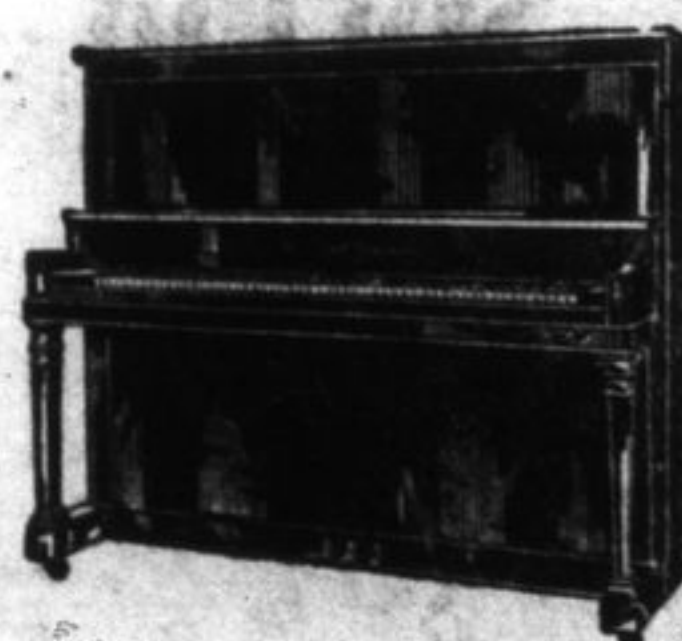

What do these words mean to you? They mean greater safety in the Home—Surely something that interests you keenly!

Perhaps you have noticed these words and the notation "No fire when blown out" on our new "Silent Parlor" match boxes. The Spliffs or sticks of all matches contained in these boxes have been impregnated or soaked in a chemical solution which renders them dead wood once they have been lighted and blown out, and the danger of FIRE from glowing matches is hereby reduced to the greatest minimum.

NEWS FROM THE DISTRICT

CLIPPED FROM THE WHIG'S MANY BRIGHT EXCHANGES.

In Brief Form the Events in the Country About Kingston Are Told—Full of Interest to Many.

The Alexandra Hotel, Wellington, is under the management of M. Sine, formerly of Queen's Hotel, Bancroft.

Robert Irvine, Deseronto, has closed his store for a few weeks to take a well-earned vacation in travelling.

Wellington Boulter is building a new silo and also installing an Empire milking machine at his farm, Deseronto.

Mr. and Mrs. George Morrison, New Boyne, celebrated their golden wedding June 13th. About one hundred were present.

Gordon Ross, of the Bank of Montreal, Picton, has been transferred to the Peterboro branch. The new accountant will be Mr. Crow.

On June 29th Rev. R. Calvert, B. D., united in marriage at Soperstown, Orman James Reed, son of James Reed, and Miss Pearl Danby, daughter of Benona Danby.

At Pembroke Tuesday G. H. Devine, Annapolis, son of P. Devine, Pakenham, and Miss Margaret M. Jones, youngest daughter of Mrs. Isabella Jones, Griffith, were united in marriage.

D. C. Meves, M.D., Toronto, has very kindly erected a memorial window in memory of the late Daniel Ferguson, Trenton, in memory of his father and mother, the late Elijah W. A. Meyers and Sophia B. his wife.

F. W. Danby, supervising principal of the public schools, Smith's Falls, tendered his resignation on Thursday night, and it was accepted. He has accepted a position as teacher of mathematics, English and history in the new technical school at Ottawa.

Word was received on Tuesday that Pte. Daniel Ferguson, Nanawau, had been killed in action in France. Pte. Ferguson joined the 80th Battalion at Nanawau and became a first-class soldier. The community will sympathize with his mother in the loss of her only son.

Died of Wounds.
Brookville, June 23.—From the Record Office in Ottawa came the news that George Wilkins a Brookvillian had died of wounds in France. Wilkins is only twenty years of age, and went to the front over a year ago with a reinforcing draft of the first heavy artillery of Montreal. He took part in some of the recent battles in which the Canadians distinguished themselves.

Substitute For Butter.
Cobourg, June 23.—After a spirited discussion in which many members took part the County Council for Northumberland and Durham voted down a resolution submitted by J. C. Fowlds to memorialize the Government to allow the use of oleomargarine as a substitute for butter.

Clipping Their Sheep.
Cobourg, June 23.—Messrs. Wellington and Leon, well-known breeders of Hamilton Township, have clipped seventeen pounds of wool each from a number of their sheep. They are sending the whole clipping to the Co-operative Sheep Breeders' Association for disposal.

Soldier Nearly Blind.
Brookville, June 23.—Writing from a prison camp in Germany, Pte. Bert Story, a Brookville soldier, says that he is practically blind, but is living in hopes of having a final operation on his eyes.

His Expert Fishermen.
Lanark, June 23.—The township of Darling is noted for its expert fishermen. Isaac has nothing on a Darling man when it comes to hooking real live ones. John A. McDougall, Brantford, is a worthy exponent of the piscatorial art, and when occasion arises does wonderful stunts with the rod and line. His latest feat bears a certain mark of the incredible, but is nevertheless vouched for by McDougall himself. He was out trolling in the Clyde and caught at one haul two pike and one duck. How did McDougall do it?

His Son Honored.
Bloomfield, June 23.—Major Raymond Meyer, in the King's birthday honor list for "distinguished service order," was born in Bloomfield, Ont., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rickerson Gorsline. He obtained his education in the Bloomfield public school, Picton High School and Trinity University, from which institute he was graduated with the degree of M.D. After graduation he joined the permanent Army Medical Corps at Halifax. He went overseas with the first contingent.

Irwin-Vandervoort.
Belleville, June 23.—Norman A. Irwin, teacher of physical culture and science at the Belleville High School, and Miss Marion S. Vandervoort, deputy registrar of Hastings County, were married here to-day by the Rev. J. N. Clarr. Owing to a brother of the bride having been recently killed at the front the wedding was of a quiet nature. The young couple were unattended, and after the ceremony left for a trip to Toronto and other places of interest.

Married in Brampton.
Lindsay, Ont., June 23.—The wedding of Miss May Elliott, Brampton, and Aird Flaville, Lindsay, took place at Brampton Thursday afternoon. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Flaville, of Lindsay, and is a prominent lumberman of Port Moody, B.C.

Verdict of Suicide.
Brookville, June 23.—The coroner's jury investigating the death of C. R. Ridd, whose body was found in a vacant house after being missed for several days, brought in a verdict of suicide by inhaling illuminating gas while insane.

MEDALS AND RIBBONS.

Some of the Decorations Worn by Returned Men.

By the medal ribbons they wear one may know what campaigns our soldiers and sailors have seen, and what special distinctions they have won. Such medal ribbons are always worn on the left breast. Any ribbons worn on the right are representative of medals awarded outside the army or navy, and are usually those given with life-saving awards.

The medal ribbon of the Victoria Cross has first place of all decorations on the tunic of a soldier or the jacket of a sailor. The army V.C. winner is entitled to wear the rich dark red ribbon, the sailor a blue ribbon.

Other medal ribbons worn by soldiers akin in color to that of the V.C. are those that go with the Order of the Bath, the French Legion of Honour, the Loui Service, or Good Conduct medals. Each of the above-named ribbons is a plain red or crimson.

The blue ribbon of the naval V.C. might easily be mistaken for the ribbon of the Khedive's Bronze Star, the Meritorious Service, or the Royal Humane Society medal for saving life. All are plain blue, of slightly different shades.

Other medal ribbons sometimes seen in Canada are those worn by the winner of the D.S.O. (red centre, blue edge), the D.S.O. Cross (blue, white edge), or the Distinguished Service medal (two white stripes on blue).

The Military Cross is easily known by the white edge and purple centre of the ribbon. The D.C.M. ribbon is red on each edge and blue in the centre. The Military Medal owner wears a blue, white, red ribbon.

Some members of the C.E.F. wear the medal ribbons that go with the special medals awarded for bravery in the field, but no authorized medal ribbon has been issued for the war. The "Allied" ribbon worn by some men is not an official award, and may be worn by anyone without challenge.

What marks the warrior who has been wounded is a strip of gold braid worn on the unit sleeve for each time wounded, or a strip of silver braid if sickness caused him to be invalided home.

Original members of the First Canadian Division may be recognized by the color of their shoulder straps. Capt. E. C. H. Moore, formerly a partner of the Coleman Baking Powder Company. The writer says: "I have just heard how Capt. Moore died. There are two stories told: one that he had taken a number of prisoners, and had ordered them back towards the rear of the line. The other story is that he entered a German dug-out and called the occupants to surrender. The Huns found that he was alone and called on him to surrender.

"Refusing they set upon him and bayoneted him. The last is the more likely story because when his body was found he was full of bayonet wounds."

A Hundred Years Old.
Perth, June 23.—The people of St. Andrew's church are looking forward to their centenary observances. One hundred years ago on the 24th of June the first minister of the Gospel arrived in Perth. This was the Rev. William Bell from Scotland, who immediately took up his work as minister of what for forty years was the First Presbyterian church, Perth. In 1857 by formal act the Second of the Presbyterian church in Canada in connection with the Church of Scotland, the First Church was merged into St. Andrew's. Services preliminary to the centenary will be held in St. Andrew's next Sunday.

CATARRH LEADS TO CONSUMPTION

Catarrh is as much a blood disease as scrofula or rheumatism. It may be relieved, but it cannot be removed by simply local treatment. It breaks down the general health, weakens the lung tissues, and leads to consumption.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is so successful in the treatment of catarrh that it is known as the best remedy for this disease. It purifies the blood. Ask your druggist for it.
