OPENING OF THE EXTENSION TO THE SALVATION ARMY CITADEL SATURDAY EVENING

Col. J. McMillan, Chief Secretary For Canada East, Turned the Key—Mayor Hughes Gave an Address.

The week end was an exceptionally busy one for the local members of the Salvation Army. It marked the official opening of the new extension to the Citadel and also the first visit of Colonel J. McMillan, Chief Secretary of Canada East.

On Saturday evening a largely attended meeting was held in front of the Citadel on Princess street. Following selections by the band and the singing of a number of hymns the Salvationists proceeded into the Citadel where the official opening ceremonies in connection with the new extension took place. The visiting secretary turned the key, declaring the building open for use. Mayor Hughes was then called on for a few words as secretary. He complimented the adjutant on the work and then called for a special offering. The sum of $100 was raised.

During the service the band and the songsters gave several numbers. On Sunday morning Colonel McMillan conducted a holiness service at which there was a good attendance. On Sunday afternoon the colonel gave an address on "A Trip to Australia and Back" having had that experience as part of his twenty years work in the antipodes.

There were two open-air services on Sunday evening after which the colonel gave an address in the Citadel.

Schooner Horace Taber Has Been Sold to Collingwood Parties. The Movements of Vessels Reported Along the Harbor.

The schooner Kitty Wells, which was sunk in the harbor at the foot of Princess street, was raised by Capt. Moon, of the schooner Mary Ann Lydon. The schooner went down some few weeks ago, and was a source of great nuisance to the movements of vessels and Harbormaster William McCammon gave orders to have it removed.

The schooner Horace Taber, a well-known coal carrier in this port and Gananoque, has been sold to Collingwood parties and will be used on the upper lakes, where she was formerly engaged.

COLOSSAL OPERATIONS Demand Mobilization of Country's Financial Resources.

More than one million pounds of high explosive was blown up under the German forward trenches on the first day of the British advance in the Ypres salient. It is a war of unprecedented magnitude. The tremendous amount of high explosive used on one day only supplies an indication of the colossal nature of the whole struggle. Expenditures of money are on the same giant scale. The Dominion is carrying a financial burden unprecedented in its history. If it is to be carried successfully, the financial resources of the nation must be mobilized and utilized.

It is for the purpose of such mobilization and utilization that the National Service Board has launched its present national campaign for thrift. The object of that campaign is to save every possible cent that it may be invested in Government War Savings Certificates and so help directly in the winning of the war.

True economy dictates investment in the War Savings Certificates. Your money is guaranteed and the return is excellent. In addition you are doing real war service. Save and give.

HOW ABOUT THE 'BURG?

Young Men Will Require a Short Form Passport.

With the first run of the steamer Thousand Islander, many of the young men in the city are wondering if they will be able to take the Friday trips to Ogdensburg now that new regulations have been passed to check the immigration of young men of military age to the United States. The Whig was informed that a young man with good intentions would have no difficulty in alighting and spending a few hours in the burg if he obtained the necessary permit from the immigration inspector. On the first trip a short form passport will be issued if for a pleasure seeker which require no photograph. For every subsequent trip, however, the fuller passport with photograph and verified by a minister or some government official will be necessary.

HE WAS A "PEACH AT SLINGING RIVETS" Youngster Wanted to be a Shipbuilder During the Summer Months.

Schools have closed and the youngsters are looking forward to their vacation with characteristic light-heartedness. A large number of the pupils were dismissed and given their standing some time ago on condition that they do several months' work with farmers or in other lines of work which are essential at the present time.

A large number of the lads and girls are going to camp on the banks of the St. Lawrence, but many more are looking for a "job." On Monday morning the Kingston Shipbuilding Company had a number of applicants at an early hour for work on the trawlers which the company are constructing. One young lad declared that he was a "peach at slinging rivets."

It was the same at many other of the industries in the city, and each of the boys seem to realize that this is the time for industry on their part to do their little bit in helping to "keep the homes fires burning" until their brothers and friends can come home from the seat of war to resume their vocations in the industrial life of the nation.
