GARDEN PLOTS LOOK GOOD

KINGSTON IN HELPING WELL IN GREATER PRODUCTION.

Success Attends the Efforts of the Citizens—Potatoes May be Cheap as the Result.

The Greater Production Movement, which was inaugurated early in the spring through the zeal of some of Kingston's prominent men in an effort to combat the high cost of living, has brought forth fruit. One has only to go through the different sections of the city to see the plots of formerly vacant land covered with all kinds of garden truck. The back lawns of a great many of the homes in the city have been converted into gardens, and the economical and patriotic citizen is overjoyed to see the tiny plants grow larger and larger. The new experience of gardening to many men has proved itself a wonderful health builder, and to the business man who has been engaged in mental labor all day has proved to be a wonderful relaxation.

Hundreds of plots are situated in various parts of the city. Queen's University has set aside several acres which are being cultivated with zeal by the professors, their wives and children. A number of citizens are obtaining fine results at the General Hospital and various societies have under cultivation some fine vegetables. It is to be expected that a number of the gardens have not attained the desired results, but this has been largely due to inexperience, and better prospects are in view for next year. The "grubs" and birds have eaten much, and various remedies have been prescribed to combat their ravages. However, in the majority of cases the gardeners will receive abundant results from their venture.

Frightened by the high cost of potatoes, a great quantity of these have been planted, and both in and out of the city it is reported that there will this year be an excellent crop. One local police constable predicted that potatoes during the summer would be selling for seventy-five cents a bag. Although this may be a somewhat low estimate there is no doubt but that the abundance of the supply will lessen the demand, thereby causing a decline in the price of not only potatoes, but also of other vegetable lines.

People are generally waiting for Hon. W. J. Hanna, the newly-appointed food controller, to make some move against the cold storage houses and the speculators who would rather shovel out potatoes by the roadside than lower the prices. The movements of the food controller are being eagerly watched, and it is to be hoped that he will relieve the situation.

Nevertheless, there is many a housewife in the city this year who will be independent for her provisions of vegetables, and when she wants to make a potato salad or have vegetables for lunch, all she will have to do will be to run to the back lawn and pull the tubers from the ground.

The war has brought to each household the realization that this is the time to save and serve, and that the waste of the smallest morsel of foodstuffs is a crime. Twenty million men are consuming instead of producing, and it is the duty of the people who are attempting to fill their places to save all material until the world is once more moving in the right groove and the unhappy war is brought to an end.

CANADIAN AVIATOR CREATES A RECORD

Wins Victoria Cross, Distinguished Service Order and Military Cross.

Although only nineteen years old and a young Canadian aviator, Captain W. A. Bishop, Owen Sound, has created a record in the way of decorations for bravery and gallantry at the front. Word has been received at Ottawa that he has won the Victoria Cross. Previous to the awarding of this great honor he had been decorated with the Distinguished Service Order and the Military Cross. He is said to be the only man alive to have won these three decorations.

Up to June 10th the young aviator had brought down twenty-one German airplanes, two balloons, and had been in fifty-seven combats. He has been congratulated by Sir Douglas Haig, and Premier Sir Robert Borden has recently written a congratulatory letter to his father W. A. Bishop, registrar of Grey County.

A letter from France gives the official account of the deed which resulted in Captain Bishop being recommended for the Victoria Cross. It appears there was a Hun aerodrome of the latest scouting machines which had been giving the British some trouble, so the matter was placed in the hands of Captain Bishop. He left the ground one morning alone, before it was light, and flew straight to the aerodrome. He found seven machines on the ground, some of which had their engines running. One of them "took off," and he fired fifteen rounds at it from close range, sixty feet up. The machine crashed to the ground.

A second one taking off, he opened fire with thirty rounds. This one crashed into a tree. Two more machines were starting off, and Captain Bishop climbed. He engaged one at a thousand feet. Firing his last bullets of the drum, the machine crashed three hundred yards from the aerodrome. Captain Bishop changed the drum, and again started to climb. A fourth German airplane came after him, and he fired the whole drum into the new enemy. The Hun airplane soon beat a retreat. Captain Bishop then returned to his own lines in safety, but with his machine considerably shot up by machine gun fire from the ground. The aerodrome was armed with machine guns.

VESSEL LOST HER RUDDER

THE STEAMER JESKA HAD TRYING TIME UNTIL RESCUED

Steamer Jex Rushed to Her Assistance When She Met With Trouble on Saturday—Movements of Vessels Reported Along the Harbor.

A ship without a rudder. Such was the condition of the steamer Jeska, which cleared on Saturday morning for Oswego after sailing a short distance from Kingston, and as a result the S.O.S. call was sent to Kingston. In record time, the steamer Jex, which was unloading coal, made the trip to the scene, and succeeded in getting the disabled vessel into port.

The steamer City of Dresden arrived from Oswego with a cargo of coal.

The steamer Kingston smashed into a pier at Toronto, and is now in dry dock for repairs.

AN APPEAL FOR BOYS

Who Have Need Now of Furlough in Canada

Plans are under way to petition the Minister of Militia to arrange for furloughs to the Canadian boys who have spent the past three years in the trenches. Mrs. W. H. Gimblett, 179 Queen street, is moving in the matter. She asks all who are interested to bestir themselves and help us to attain this privilege for a few months furlough away from the sights and sounds of war to enjoy a much-needed rest in their own homes and country.

In view of what has happened it is felt the remnant of that brave body who have made, and are still making, history for our grand Dominion should be given at least a few months furlough away from the sights and sounds of war to enjoy a much-needed rest in their own homes and country.

A great many of the first contingent were from the Mother Land and when on furlough could visit their homes. Not so with the Canadians. Their furloughs were with comparative strangers; they missed the home touch, the home associations. To give them this would require three months, and this is the hope of the mothers. They intend to ask for it. The boys deserve it; the mothers are worthy of it in view of all the dread tasks the men have performed and the bravery and endurance they have displayed.

Garrett O'Connor, Niagara, Ont., writing on the subject, says: "Have these noble boys done enough, or should we demand that they do more for us? I can hear very true-souled man and woman who reads this timely appeal cry: 'They have done, if anything, more than their share; bring the dear boys home to rest and love in Canada.' They are, alas! few in number, for grim war has made awful inroads on our first contingent; so it should not be difficult to relieve them."

"A year ago I tried to start a movement for relief, but though I wrote to many papers the matter was not taken up by men and women high in public affairs, so I failed. Now I have sent a similar appeal to the Toronto, Ottawa, London, Montreal and other papers, asking members of parliament, mayors, councils, patriotic societies and other bodies to appeal to the Militia Council to grant our boys the rest they have so grandly earned."

"Can it be that the movement will fail? I will never believe it, but I do believe that every true man and woman in Canada will make a special effort to assist in bringing our dear boys home for rest. Neighbors it is a glorious privilege to assist this cause. Give your aid to it now, and never rest until you have accomplished something. It would seem to me that the member of Parliament who helps this worthy cause will be one of the most popular men in Canada. This is the appeal of one who loves and admires our super-heroes. Shall it be made in vain?"

Renfrew Presbytery on Tuesday considered the call of the Rev. Mr. McOdum, Pembroke, to Halifax. After due consideration the call was granted, and Mr. McOdum and family will likely leave for the east at the end of the month.
