A Memorial Service.

St. Alban's church, Stella, was the scene of a very impressive service on Sunday evening last. The church was suitably decorated for the occasion. The rector, Rev. Mr. Dixon read portions taken from the burial service and Dean Starr preached a very able sermon, taking his text from the book of the Psalmist: "His leaf also shall not wither," and during his remarks spoke in very feeling terms of Lance-Corp. Wemp, who fell in action in France, in whose behalf the service was held.

CPT. "PETE" CAMPBELL HOME.

'Varsity Football Star Back From Front on Short Leave.

Capt. Gordon C. ("Pete") Campbell, of 'Varsity rugby fame, who left for the front in August, 1914, as an officer in the 48th Highlanders, and has been in France ever since, is at his home in Peterboro on a month's leave of absence, his first since the war began. Capt. Campbell is one of Canada's best-known athletes, and has made good decisively in the big game in France. He is a staff officer on the front line. He expects to return to France in the course of a week or two.

Jimmy Archer, the Toronto product, who has been one of the leading catchers in the major leagues for a number of years, has been unconditionally released by the Chicago Cubs. He expects to sign with another major league club.

The Secret of a Good Cigarette

—If a cigarette is made from Pure Tobacco —nothing but a high grade of mild tobacco leaves, sun cured and properly mellowed by age;
—if the tobaccos have been skillfully blended so as to bring out all the best qualities in the different grades used;
—then your cigarette will be cool and smooth both to your throat and tongue and you will be able to smoke practically whenever you want to without feeling any effect from it.

That's the secret. PURE Tobacco—nothing added—naturally cured. Properly matured. Skillfully blended.

In fact Pure Tobacco in a cigarette is just as important to your health and enjoyment as Pure Milk, Pure Food, or Pure Water.

Try these Pure Tobacco Cigarettes, CRAVEN "A." You'll soon make them your steady smoke.

The Two Johns.

John K. Tener and John McGraw
One fine day pulled something raw;
"He's a bum, take it from me!"
Said John McGraw of John K. T.
John K. T. remarked, says he:
"Take it back, or hear from me."
So John McGraw knocked on the door
And says, "Say, boss, now don't get sore;
I said them things, and mean them, too,
But that's betwixt just me and you.
I'll write a piece—to save the game—
And say the sport scribes are to blame;
And then I'll say to them next day
They ain't to blame—and then you say:
"It's too late now; it's closed," say you.
And then it's closed, and so—we're through,
With me a liar and you a dub—
But the games comes clean from the whitewash tub;
And the writing guys, for what they wrote—
They're stung, eh, Johnny?—they're the goat."
So, John K. T. and John McGraw
One fine day pulled something raw.

PICKING BASEBALL STARS.

Is a Man-Sized Task—Some Comparisons Made.

Picking the leading baseball player in a named position is a man sized task. To draw a comparison between certain players is overstepping the bound of sane criticism at times. To say that Babe Ruth or Walter Johnson or Grover Alexander is the best pitcher in the game might be true, but it would be sure to start an argument over the merits of his rivals.

For instance, it can hardly be said that Arthur Fletcher or Roger Hornsby is the best shortstop in the National Leagu merely because it is true that they lead as hitters. Neither can it be said that Maranville or Bancroft or Wortman is the best because he is a flashy, fast and accurate fielder. Each man's worth has to be considered.

From a strictly defensive standpoint, it probably is permissable to announce Maranville as the premier, with Bancroft and Wortman running close behind. Everett Scott, of the Red Sox, doesn't rank with Hornsby and Fletcher as a hitter, but he is a better fielder than either. However, that does not entitle him to be called the best shortstop in the game.

Comparison of the same sort may be drawn from almost every position. Ty Cobb, of course, stands alone as an offensive player outfielder. As a fielder he is not a Tris Speaker.

One might pick Babe Ruth as the best southpaw, but that hardly pronounces him the best pitcher.

Horse Owner His Own Doctor.

By a recent act of the Legislature of Illinois provision is made for licensing stallions for public service in the Sucker State with the customary certificate of soundness from a licensed veterinarian. The affidavit of the owner of the horse will hereafter be sufficient to satisfy the law. And if the owner admits his horse has curbs, side bones, bog spavins, string-halt, navicular disease and a few other minor defects of form or function he can still get a license this feature of the law apparently having been framed to promote veracity among stallion owners rather than to improve the breed of horses. But if an owner can see a bone spavin or a ringbone on his own horse he will be denied a license for the animal. Illinois owners are not yet authorized to certify the pedigrees of their stallions when making application for license, which seems rather inconsistent and inconvenient, but the legislature will meet again next winter, when any defects in the new law can be remedied.

Baseball at Camp Borden.

Capt. Lou Scholes, director of athletics, has issued a circular letter to the O.C's. of all units in Borden Camp asking for the entry of teams in the Outdoor Baseball League for the Camp Challenge Cup. As soon as they are in a schedule will be drawn up and play may be started next week. This series will in no way interfere with the Softball Indoor League, which is in progress now, but which has been somewhat delayed this week by the frequent rains.

Harvard Eleven Enlist en Masse.

The student athletes of Harvard University have yielded to none in America in their patriotic devotion to the call of their country. The Crimson's star athletes in all branches of sport have enlisted almost en masse, this being especially true of the members of the football team. Of the Varsity team that was defeated by Yale in the bowl last November there is not a man who is not in the national war service. Of the ends, Harte and Coolridge are at Plattsburg; Caner, tackle, is with the Norton-Harjes ambulance unit in France; Wheeler, tackle, is in the naval reserves; Snow, a guard, in the naval reserve; Captain Dadman, with the American ambulance unit in Frence; Harris, the centre, is at Plattsburg of the backfield. Rabinson, quarterback, and Thatcher, halfback, are at Plattsburg, while Casey, halfback, and Horween, fullback are in the naval reserve.
