YOUNG GIRL IS INJURED

MISS MARGARET HUGHES HIT BY AN AUTOMOBILE.

Uncle Heard of Accident by a Coincidence—Scene of the Accident is a Dangerous Corner.

Miss Margaret Hughes, aged seven-tens years, who resides with her uncle, Lieut. Albert L. Hughes, Earl street, was severely injured on Monday night when she was struck by an automobile with number 16464 at the corner of Barrie and Princess streets. The young girl had been walking down Princess with two friends and was about to cross the street on the east side of the street. She had just stepped off the curb when the car hit her and threw her against the curb. She was stunned by the hard blow and suffered greatly from an injury to her leg.

The motorist drove his car around the corner to park it and then went back to the injured girl. A large crowd gathered and a call was sent in for an ambulance. Before it arrived, however, the girl was taken to the General Hospital in the automobile. There it was found that besides being severely bruised and shocked she had been badly cut in two places on her right leg. Fortunately her ankle was not fractured. Her injuries were dressed at the hospital by Dr. Mylks, and she is now resting in the institution.

Shortly after the accident happened efforts were made to communicate with her uncle, Lieut. Hughes, to inform him of the accident. He was away from his home, and the first intimation he had of the accident was when he was passing the house of J. S. Lyons at 234 Barrie street. Mr. Lyons, who had seen the accident was telling one of his neighbors about it when Lieut. Hughes went by. At the time Mr. Lyons was saying: "I think her name was Margaret Hughes." Whereupon Lieut. Hughes made inquiries and found that it was his niece who had been injured and that she had been taken to the General Hospital. It was a remarkable coincidence that he should be coming along at this time when the account of the accident was being given.

People who reside in the vicinity where the accident occurred were wrenched up on Tuesday morning when they saw the car escape very swiftly and that narrow escapes are often seen. Another claim made by them is that many cars in the city are being run by young people under eighteen years of age. They have not the presence of mind in an emergency that older people have although many of them show more sense in the speed they go. However, it should be the duty of parents to see that their children do not run the cars. The Whig has seen boys and girls of twelve years running cars.

SHOULD BE INVESTIGATED

Soldier Fined in Police Court

Revealed to be of Unsound Mind.

That a soldier who was fined $200 and costs, or three months last Saturday for bringing liquor into Canada from the States of unsound mind is the opinion of J. E. Jones of Lake Ontario Park. The man in question, Gus Torrie appeared in the Police Court on Saturday. His companion, James Jones, who was fined $10 and costs but Torrie admitted having brought some liquor from across the line with him.

Mr. Jones noticed the soldier in question at the park and says that he believes that his mind has become unbalanced. His manner and attitude was that of a person of unsound mind, and in view of this Mr. Jones thinks that he should be examined. He talked very much to himself and it is just probable that he should be in an asylum instead of a jail.

KINGSTON INDUSTRIAL FAIR

Many Inquiries Being Made to Secretary For Space.

Although the Industrial Fair is two months off, the Manager R. J. Bushell, is being besieged with inquiries regarding space and prize lists.

The Industrial Fair has a man at its head who works for the fair every day in the year, not the few days the fair is on, but 365 days in the year, and the same number of nights, "R. J." is the man with the result that the big exhibition is always a great success.

Mr. Bushell is at the present time, mapping out his programme and getting all the details ready. The prize list was issued some time ago and this entailed considerable work. The list of prizes being largely added to for this year. The fair is getting bigger and better.

JAILBREAKER FOR "PEN"

GEORGE BENSON GAVE THE POLICE AN INTERESTING TIME

Escaped From Jail at London While Awaiting to be Removed to Penitentiary to Serve Two Years For Forgery and Desertion.

Determined to turn over a new leaf, and to do his best to get good conduct marks, so that he will soon be free, a man named George Benson, commenced a two-year term in the Portsmouth penitentiary on Tuesday morning. He was brought here from London by High Constable Benjamin Waterworth. The officer arrived on the night train, and the prisoner spent several hours in a cell at police headquarters before being removed to the penitentiary on Tuesday morning.

Benson, who also went under the name of George A. Ruthven, had an interesting career. He enlisted at London with the 63rd Battery, under the name of Benson. He forged the names of some of his companions to checks on which he secured money and then deserted from the battery.

After being sentenced, he was confined to the jail in London awaiting removal to the penitentiary. While turnkey Thomas Spruce had him in charge doing some whitewashing, he made a dash up the jail steps, discarded his jail uniform, and was out of sight before his disappearance was noticed. Two weeks later, he was captured in Detroit. Extradition proceedings were instituted, with the result that the young man was brought back to London. His sentence was two years for forgery and desertion, and a similar term for jail breaking, the sentences to run concurrently.

THE VERY LATEST FOR THE TIPPLERS

Tiny Bottles With One Good Drink Provided For the Thirsty.

The Ontario Temperance Laws have brought about a great many changes. People who drink must have their refreshments, and the latest thing to appear on the market is a tiny bottle which contains one "swallow" as the tipplers refer to it, as just one drink.

The Whig was informed that these small bottles are carried on the boat by people perhaps a half dozen or so at the time, and when the person carrying the refreshment becomes dry he partakes of the contents of the bottle and then the "empty" is liable to be hauled into court for having liquor in his possession or bringing it into the country, as all evidence is destroyed.

QUESTION OF INTERPRETATION

The Officers Do Not Think as Do the Public.

Brockville Times.

Monday morning the Thousand Islander carried over 100 Brockvillians to Kingston on the regular weekly excursion. Last week it was announced that the customs regulations regarding the coastwise trade had been dispensed with for the present, and American steamers might carry passengers from one Canadian port to another. While the customs officials here are perfectly willing to grant this privilege to the officials of the Islander, the officers of the popular steamer do not seem willing to take the chance and state that their interpretation of the new ruling is that it applies to freight and not to passengers. Consequently the Brockvillians who wanted to leave the steamer at Kingston had to board the boat at Morrisburg, which caused considerable inconvenience to all concerned.

Undergoing Treatment.

A woman who was sometime ago sentenced to serve three months for having liquor in her home, is undergoing special treatment. It will be remembered that she appeared before the magistrate on a crutch. Dr. A. W. Richardson, who is acting as jail physician, has the case in hand.

Received No Notification.

The Veterans' Association met Monday evening and transacted routine business. Regret was expressed that no notice was given of the arrival of the returned soldiers who came Monday morning. The mayor also received no notification.

SHARP FACTS OF STAG SAFETY RAZOR SHARPENER

IT HONES $1.25 IT STROPS

It costs 35c per dozen to have your Razor Blades stropped. You can both hone and strop your own blades on the Stag. One blade will last you a year. The Stag is clean and sanitary. Beware of disease lurking on the old fashioned roller sharpening machines. These machines sharpen thousands of blades daily.

When you send your blades to be sharpened are you sure you are getting your own blades back? Any physician will tell you that diseases spread rapidly and germs and microbes thrive on steel. Don't allow your blades to come in contact with a uncleanly, unsanitary stropping device, on which thousands of other blades have been stropped. Use a Stag and you will know that you will always have your own clean sanitary blades.

It is no longer necessary to worry along with dull blades when it is possible to have a new edge for every shave and yet be free from the continuous purchasing of new blades. Send one of these to the men overseas.
