ARMORED WARRIORS OF ITALY CAPTURING AN AUSTRIAN POSITION.

These modern Italian soldiers, drawn by F. Matania for the London Sphere, are shown wearing the new breast plates and shoulder pieces which vividly recall the armor of ancient Rome. The resemblance of the soldiers of classic days is enhanced by the use of a head dress which closely follows the lines of the ancient galea, which came down to the shoulder, but left the face bare.

"SEE YOU IN FRANCE."

Brothers' Farewell an Interesting Scene at Niagara Falls.

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 20.—An interesting scene was witnessed at the New York Central Station, Niagara Falls, N.Y., when the two sons of Samuel S. Greenwood, proprietor of the Imperial Hotel, formerly of Chippawa, bade good-bye to each other. Arthur was in the uniform of the British Royal Flying Corps, while his brother Sam wore the khaki of a United States artilleryman. The two fine-looking young fellows made a striking appearance on the station platform, and there were many words of admiration from the bystanders. "Well, good-bye, Art," said Sam, as his brother stepped on the train on his way back to Toronto. "I will see you in France." Sam's battery was being mobilized yesterday, and soon both the Greenwoods will likely be doing their bit in France.

All our thoughts are original—either with ourselves or others.

Building For To-morrow

THE prudent man looks ahead and provides. Preparedness forestalls defeat and, when reverses come, provides a haven of refuge. The young man who carries an Endowment Policy with the Manufacturers Life Insurance Company is building for to-morrow. He knows that if he lives to his allotted span, he is systematically providing for his unproductive years. If he dies, he is leaving his dependents in a position where they will not be compelled to seek charity. There is no better way of building for to-morrow than by an Endowment Policy.

The Navy's Brand of Efficiency

covers everything afloat, from manoeuvring battle-cruisers, training great guns, and spotting "subs" to keeping brass-work "bright", decks spotless and faces clean-shaven. The naval life, with its training and traditions, develops men who are never satisfied with equipment that "will do", but only with that which will do best.

In this atmosphere the Gillette Safety Razor most emphatically "makes good". Always keen—always ready for instant action—swift and workmanlike—the Gillette commands the respect of the most exacting naval man, and the affection which every real man feels for a good tool.

The man ashore who shares the clean-cut efficiency of the Navy is equally enthusiastic over the Gillette Safety Razor—or will be the morning he tries it first. He will realize then what comfort and genuine satisfaction a man can get out of a three-minute Gillette shave!

These are days when no man should waste unnecessary time or money over shaving, particularly when so quick, so clean and so smooth a shave waits at home for every owner of a Gillette. If you are not already one of them, join their ranks to-day!
