May Close Town Hall.

Almonte, July 31.—The Town Hall may be closed down next winter. At a meeting of the Town Council to consider tenders for a new heating plant, the expense was considered to be so high that none were accepted and the closing up of the building during the coming winter was seriously discussed.

Church's 117th Anniversary.

Coburne, July 31.—On Sunday at Wicklow, Rev. A. S. Inrie, Toronto, preached at the 117th anniversary of the Wicklow Baptist Church. This is one of the oldest churches in Ontario, and it served as a place of worship for the early settlers for some years before any other church was erected in the district.

Cattle Killed in Storm.

Hastings, July 28.—Richard Coulson, Thomasburg, met with a severe loss during a recent electric storm by losing nine head of cattle killed, eight two-year-olds and one yearling. A tree near where the cattle were standing was shattered. The animals were estimated as being worth $700. They were insured for $200.

IN MEMORIAM.

In memory of the late Mamie Woods, wife of N. Whitty, who died April 18th, 1917.

Call not back the dear departed. Anchored safe where storms are o'er.

On the border land we left her, Soon to meet to part no more.

When we leave the world of changes, When we leave this world of care, We shall find our missing loved one In our Father's mansion fair.

We miss thee from the home, Mamie, We miss thee from thy place, A shadow o'er our life is cast, We miss the sunshine of thy face, We miss thy kind and willing hand, Thy fond and earnest care, Our home is dark without thee, We miss thee everywhere.

Peaceful be thy silent slumber, Peaceful in thy grave so low, Thou no more will join our number, Thou no more our sorrows know, Yet again we hope to meet thee, When the day of life has fled, And in heaven with joy to greet thee.

Where no farewell tears are shed, Farewell, Mamie, but not forever, There will be a glorious dawn; We shall meet to part no more, On the resurrection morn, Thy darling form lies sleeping In the cold and silent tomb, Thou shall have a glorious waking, When the blessed Lord doth come.

PIPING THE CAMERONS INTO A FRENCH VILLAGE

This picture, drawn for the London Sphere, shows men of the Cameron Highlanders, a regiment of the British army, which was first organized in 1793. This regiment has distinguished itself in all of Britain's wars and in the present conflict formed part of the first division of the original expeditionary force sent to France, and it has since maintained the sterling fighting qualities of this noted regiment.

WEALTH IN BABIES.

Germany's Eight and a Half Millions in Ten Years.

London Chronicle.

Babies as the most important of national assets were discussed in several places yesterday. In the general place yesterday, in the garden of Cam House, Kensington, at a festival connected with the five Schools for Mothers in Kensington, Mr. Herbert Samuel recalled his reign at the Local Government Board, and his innovations in persuading the Treasury to provide the cost of all Schools for Mothers approved by the Board.

In the ten years preceding the war, he said, the population of the British Isles increased by 3,500,000 people. That of Germany increased by 8,500,000, and the population of France remained stationary. Those were the kind of facts which, in the long run, determined the fate of nations, and of the ideas for which nations stood. If this country believed that it stood for great and worthy ideas it must organize itself so as to have behind those ideas sufficient numbers to prevail in any clash of nations.

Belgian boys and girls of the Poland-street colony which has been established in the heart of London's foreign quarter celebrated Baby Week yesterday by showing what little children could do to entertain a party of about 500 British Tommies from neighboring hospitals. The unaffected way in which the soldiers enjoyed a playlet wittily acted in English by Antwerp children, who had probably never heard the language three years ago, was pleasant to see.

Baby hints were showered from an aeroplane which circled over a Baby Week meeting in the Grimsby People's Park yesterday. The "bombardment" took place while prizes for the best-reared-for babies were being awarded.

Hints to Hostesses.

Everyone likes to be surprised, if the surprise is a pleasant one. Guests especially are pleased with novel, unexpected things.

Although there is nothing else in such good taste in the way of a plate card as a plain white one with the name of the guest written upon it, hostesses often wish for something new.

This is one novel way: Before giving a luncheon, borrow secretly from the families of the guests you expect to entertain their own baby pictures.

Announce as the guests enter the dining room: "Although there are no place cards, I am sure that each one will find her place without difficulty."

In an endeavor to do so much merit in caused.

Pretty souvenirs as well as place cards, may be gotten up in the following way, but must be planned for some time ahead:

With a kodak snap at different times pictures of your friends. You might ask them to arrange their hair in novel ways.

That their delicately and mount on cards like miniatures.

No names would be necessary, for each guest would recognize her own face before her plate at the table.

Garage Changes Hands.

Edward Walsh, who has been employed for some time as an expert machinist and auto-repairer at the Daly Garage, 335 King street, has purchased the business. It will be extended and known hereafter as Central Garage. The building will shortly be overhauled and decorated, and when completed will be one of the finest in the city. Mr. Walsh has had a lot of experience and will no doubt secure his share of public patronage.

A high official may be possessed of a low mind.
