Sergt. Dutler, Arden, who went to England first with the 146th Battalion and then re-enlisted here to go over the second time as a member of the Forestry Company under Capt. Freeman, is now at the Forestry base headquarters, Sunningdale.

Wednesday's ball game between Engineers and Army Service promises to create intense interest, inasmuch as Engineers have to win to be in the final league championship. Should Engineers win their two remaining games there will be a three-cornered tie, leaving Medicals, Engineers and Army Service to fight it out for the shield. Each player on the winning team will receive a significant medal, and from the "dope" it looks like a real battle all the way. If Army Service win today's game they will clinch the championship, but the way the Engineers are hitting the ball makes the "Service" boys none too sure. If on the round a tie is made the "Medicals" have a good chance to pull out victors.

The Engineers held a fast work-out last night for to-day's game. They look to have the "goods."

Soft ball was again in evidence Tuesday evening, two picked teams causing real excitement.

Rev. James Pötter, of Montreal, arrived at the camp yesterday to take hold of special work at the military "Y."

Bert Ayhart came in from Toronto Monday to take charge of the refreshment booth at the military "Y." Mr. Ayhart is a returned veteran, who is thoroughly acquainted with the many needs of "our" boys, and being well versed along business lines, his efforts should meet with success.

Generals John Hughes and Newburn are on a tour of inspection of the military districts in Canada, and in their path there have been innumerable changes in the personnel of the official staffs and in the various departments. Though there are rumors and rumors, and changes will take place in this district, it is not believed at the camp that these two officers will be coming here.

Major G. S. Bowerbank, son-in-law of Brig.-Gen. T. D. R. Hemming, is now in hospital recovering from an attack of trench fever. He was conducting a school in trench warfare just prior to his illness.

There are many visitors at Barrfield camp every day. Automobile parties, which come from almost every province in Canada and every state in the United States, have been coming. They are shown the many points of interest in the camp, and leave with a splendid opinion of the Canadian officers.

Capt. J. A. Billings, president of the local branch of the Great War Veterans' Association, received a telegram from friends in England on Tuesday that his brother, Hugh Billings, had been made a prisoner of war. Hugh went overseas several months ago, and transferred there to the Royal Flying Corps. The home of the family is at Billings' Bridge, near Ottawa.

Lieut.-Col. R. W. Smart, commanding the Eastern Ontario Battalion at the camp, is rounding his small unit up rapidly. More men are arriving daily, and should before the end of the week reach a strength of 200 or 300.

The roadway from the base of Barrfield Hill to the new causeway is nearing completion. A heavy layer of coarse rock has been rolled into place and the upper layers will now be added. The road is still diverted over the commons.

Sergt. Grady, mechanical transport, entertained a number of friends at his quarters at the camp on Monday afternoon.

Capt. Simpson, C.A.D.C., has been transferred to Cobourg for duty there.

At the Theatres

At the Grand.

To-night will be your last opportunity to witness the mighty moral pantomime, "One of Many," with the beautiful emotional actress, Frances Nelson, in the leading role. For the last three days of the week George Walsh will be seen in his latest five-reel gloom chaser, "The Book Agent." In "High Finance" he registered such a decided hit that he will doubtless add many new laurels to his crown in this better production. A seminary escapade serves as an introduction for the hero and heroine. After that they are thrown into all sorts of hair raising adventures, because where there's a will there's always a bunch of people fighting to be remembered in it. Smile you certainly will when you see this picture brimming over with care free love and fun. And when you stop smiling you will laugh. The Pathe-News, first-run comedy reels, and feature vaudeville will round out the programme.

At Griffin's.

To-night will be the last opportunity patrons will have of witnessing the charming star of a hundred photoplay successes, Fannie Ward in "Unconquered," a drama of mother love. The display of beautiful morning, afternoon and evening gowns worn by Miss Ward in this production are a delight to the feminine patrons of this theatre. Don't miss the last chance to see the sixth chapter of "The Mystery of the Double Cross" to-night, and our excellent comedy picture.

At Lake Ontario Park.

The cool, refreshing breeze off the lake as well as the very attractive programme drew a large crowd out to Lake Ontario Park last evening. In the vaudeville Marion Drew received much applause for her juggling act, as well as her impersonation of "Gambler Jim," while May McKay, with her singing and her playing of the bagpipes and Scotch reels, won repeated applause. The films were all that could be desired, especially "The Pathe," picturing "South-Western Texas." The same bill will be repeated to-night.

DRAGGED TO DEATH AT END OF CHAIN.

Amsterdam, Aug. 15.—Les Nouvelles, of Maastricht, says that a well-known athlete of Ghent named Van Rentergem, who recently was condemned to death for espionage, was dragged at the end of a chain of twenty metres long through the principal streets of the city to the place of execution, being grossly mistreated by the soldiers who were guarding him. He met his fate with the utmost courage, without a word of complaint.

WONDERFUL WHEAT CROP.

M. Clow Says It is the Best in Years.

Speaking to the Whig on Wednesday morning, M. Clow, who travels considerably in the country, made the following statement: "Never in my life have I seen better crops in this district. I was out to Seeley's Bay, and it is certainly the best crop they have had there in years. They have already started thrashing and the shocks of grain are very close together. It is really an exceptional wheat growth, and I don't think they can beat it in the west."

It is encouraging to know that the patriotic efforts of the farmers of Ontario to have a bumper crop to feed the soldiers who are fighting so valiantly at the front have been so heartily rewarded.

All over Canada the call is still going out for men to harvest the crop, and Sir William Hearst, Premier of Ontario, has declared emphatically that "it will be a crime if one sheaf of the bountiful harvest is lost."

Donald Hankey's New Book.

No book since the war has made so deep an impression on the English-speaking race as the now world-famous, "A Student in Arms." A new volume, the "Second Series," has just been issued, containing a long biographical sketch of Donald Hankey, by H. M. A. H. Price, $1.50. Now on sale at R. Uglow & Co's.
