McGRAW SELDOM CALLS MAN BACK

Demaree's Return is Another Evidence of Giant Manager's Eccentricity.

Al Demaree's return to the Giants is another evidence of the eccentric whims of John McGraw, writes Jack Velock.

When Demaree went to Philadelphia in a trade with the New York club Gotham fans thought they had seen the last of him in a Giant uniform, for McGraw seldom turns a player loose unless he is satisfied that the player has outlived his usefulness as a Giant, and he seldom calls a man back.

Because of this Demaree's "come-back" marks a peculiar turn in the administration of the Giants. Only a few times in the history of the Giants under McGraw's management has a player been sold or traded and later brought back to the fold.

Charley Herzog is serving his third term as a Giant. He was brought back from Boston and later turned loose to manage the Cincinnati club. After being manager in Cincy Buck figured in the trade for Mathewson. Red Murray came back, having been sent to the Cubs, but at that was not considered as a likely candidate for a regular job.

CAN CANCEL DRAFT

Major League Clubs Have Right if Player Enters Military Service.

The enrolling of ball players in the United States army and navy will have little effect financially on those clubs desiring to purchase or obtain by draft the players in leagues of lower classification. The National Baseball Commission has issued a notice to the effect that the status of all players obtained by recall under optional agreements would remain the same, no matter when the player was recalled for military or naval duty.

With men drafted from the ranks of the minors the draft price shall not be paid over until the player actually enters the service of the club which purchased him. In case the drafted player enters the military or naval service between the time he is drafted and the time he is ordered to report, the club which would have obtained his services has the privilege of cancelling its draft.

Demmitt Back in Majors.

A deal has been completed between the St. Louis Americans and the Columbus American Association Club by which Earl Hamilton, pitcher; James Park, pitcher, and Grover Hartley, catcher, are exchanged by the St. Louis Club for Grover Lowdermilk, pitcher, Ray Demmitt, outfielder, formerly of Toronto, and Montreal, and Walter Gerber, shortstop.

George (Knockout) Brown, a Greek middleweight boxer, passed the physical examination and was accepted for military service at Chicago. He did not claim exemption.

ORDINARY BETTING ILLEGAL IN CANADA

The use of the expression "prohibition of betting" in connection with the reports of the operation of Sammy Holman's Maisonneuve meeting indicates a complete misunderstanding of the situation. Betting on horse races, commodities, values, produce, elections or anything under the shining sun is not prohibited in Canada, and never was. The order-in-council referred to did nothing more than withdraw the protection afforded to organized betting on racecourses during the periods fixed by the Miller bill. This left the situation as it originally was, and there is no law or prohibition of any kind against betting on any possible eventuality. On a racecourse or off is all one now. People who go to Maisonneuve can bet all they want to, and be within their legal rights, but no one can make a business of it, nor can on his trade there, or elsewhere.

Sporting Notes

Trying to escape from the cellar has developed into a three-cornered battle between the Browns, the Mackmen and the Senators, second in interest only to the big fight between the two Sox teams for the pennant.

Outfielder Camp, signed by the Yankees after the South Atlantic league blew up, has been turned over to the Newark club for further seasoning. He has made a pronounced impression with his new team and probably will be recalled at the close of the International League.

Amos Strunk, of the Mackmen, is one of the fastest men in the game, but he has done little this season on the bases. He has pilfered eight bases, as against twelve for his old team mate, Frank Baker. The latter has equalled Stuff McInnis's work on the paths.

The final heat of the school sculling championship at Eton College was a battle between P. G. Kennedy and G. O. Nickalls, sons of two noted rowing men, and both coached by their fathers. Kennedy won by several lengths.

"Ham" Hyatt, of Chattanooga, has widened the gap between himself and Covington, of Little Rock, for honors as leading run-getter of the Southern Association, Hyatt having scored eighty times.

Owner James T. Collins, of the New Haven club of the Eastern League announces the sale of Pitcher Harry Weaver to the Chicago Cubs.

Ray Demmitt, the former Toronto player, whom Columbus several days ago sold to the St. Louis Cardinals, is the leading hitter of the American Association, with a mark of .323. Jimmy Viox, another former Leaf, is second.

In Alexander and Evers the Phillies are carrying two of the highest salaried men in the National League. Alexander is drawing $12,000 and Evers $10,000.

Mooney Gibson's Thumb, Broken. Catcher Mooney Gibson, of the Giants, will be on the bench for some time. An X-ray examination yesterday showed that the thumb of his right hand had been broken by the accident in Saturday's game against St. Louis. Gibson hopes to be all right for the world's series in October.

Men of Action!

Are hurrying here to take advantage of the great savings made possible by this great sale which ends Sept. 1st. With good merchandise so scarce and no prospects of immediate relief, and with woolen prices doubling over night, it takes an unusual amount of courage for us to cut our former low prices as we have, but regardless of present or future conditions we are determined to make a complete clearance so that nothing shall be carried over to another season. Let every man and young man who needs clothing to wear take advantage of this extraordinary clothes event, for not in years to come—as it looks now—can even this live store offer such extreme values again. Come now, while the range of choice is still good.

This sale ends Sept. 1st, so hurry.
