FORCED TO IMPOSE FINE

OF $200 UPON A HIGHLY RE- SPECTED CITIZEN

Because He Had Liquor For Medicinal Purposes in His Private Residence Over His Store.

A well known and highly respected citizen, whose reputation in the business section is untarnished, was fined $200 and costs on Tuesday morning by Police Magistrate Farrell for having liquor in his dwelling apartments above his place of business. The police magistrate said he had no other course left open to him under the interpretation of the Ontario Temperance Act than to impose the minimum fine.

The business man in question stated that he had ordered the liquor from Montreal last week. Several years ago a local doctor recommended a mixture of rye whiskey, Canadian wine, and quinine as a tonic. It was for this medicinal purpose that he had brought in the liquor. The law, however, says that no liquor may be kept under the same roof as a place of business, and the magistrate could not even give a suspended sentence. He was compelled therefore to fine him $200 and costs or three months in jail.

Gifts For a Couple.

A very pleasant time was spent on Monday night at Dr. C. C. Nash's, 366 Albert street, when a number of the members of Brock street Methodist church met there and presented Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Fursey with an illustrated Bible and cut glass bowl. It was a complete surprise, as the recipients knew nothing of the gathering until they drove in the yard. Mr. and Mrs. Fursey leave for Cornwall to-morrow, where he has taken over the McLaughlin garage.
