

HOTEL FACILITIES LIMITED

REGULATION AFTER REGULATION LESSENING FUNCTIONS

They are Carrying Out Liquor and Food Orders to the Letter of the Law.

"The only thing that a hotel will be able to provide soon will be a bed for the night, and when that comes we shall give up business," was the somewhat astonishing statement made to the British Whig by a prominent hotel manager on Monday. It is quite true, however, that recent legislation has hit the hotel men very hard.

First there was the regulation that liquor could only be sold to soldiers in certain stated periods in the evening. This order cut off much of the revenue of the hotels and worked a severe hardship.

The Ontario Temperance Act was the next revenue-cutter that the hotel managers had to face. It required that on and after September 16th, 1916, no intoxicating liquors might be sold in a public place. This legislation was the direct cause of the closing of a number of local hotels among them the British American, an old established business, which could not continue with the reduced profits.

The latest regulations are those of Food Controller Hanna who has decreed that no bacon, ham or beef shall be served at any meal on Tuesdays or Fridays and that on any other day it will be sold only at one meal.

The hotel keepers have submitted to the ideas of the Food Controller in a patriotic frame of mind and are carrying out his regulations to the letter realizing that there is a pressing need for the conservation of food.

Nevertheless the man who wants a breakfast at least twice a day, and there are many who want the dainty dishes of beef and bacon, go perhaps to one hotel for lunch and another for dinner. In this way the hotels, which formerly served the man three meals a day, now serves only one or two.

Although the law compels the managers to obey orders there is a little business as to why only beef and bacon are the forbidden meats. "How are we to know that the beef and bacon we are doing without is not going into the hands of those cold storage profiteers who are living on our economies?" is the question asked by many a manager throughout the country. Who knows the answer?

COLLEGE GIRLS MAKE GOOD

On the Fruit Farms—Queen's Co-Eds Among Them.

In an article in the Hamilton Spectator on "College Girls Make Good on the Farms," one of our writers writes of their experiences. She says:

"And so Victoria College and Queen's University girls came to Winona, with each a small trunk bearing the necessities, and a khaki uniform. We anticipated first of all opposition to the uniform; we got it. But girls who are trained to exercise the prerogative of independent judgment never lose their night's rest over bickerings and tattlings of feeble-minded and narrow-minded and such like minded folk. Clothes do not make the lady, but clothes make ladies work more efficiently and effectively, when made in keeping with the best laws of utility and expediency. We wear our khaki and scarlet with as much pride and glory as any barrister, clergyman, doctor, or other man wear theirs in place of muffs, broadcloth or flannels in times like these."

"We anticipated physical collapse. That has yet to be! We expected monotony! That never shall be! We expected loneliness. That never could be! Every moment of our busy lives has been crammed full of incident—even if slipping from a ladder in a cherry tree has to be reckoned as an incident. We have enjoyed every minute of activity from the early morning ride to work until the return home to the club house—for that is our abiding-place under the guardianship of the Y.W.C.A."

HAVE STORED THEIR COAL

KINGSTON'S LARGE INSTITUTIONS ARE ABOUT SUPPLIED

Utilities Commission Will Shortly Have Its Needs Supplied For Winter and Spring—Present Prices Likely to Prevail.

Most of the large institutions and business places in Kingston have had their coal stored for the winter. The Kingston coal dealers are giving the people good service and the supply is coming along well. There was a scarcity during the early summer, as it afterwards developed that Toronto, Montreal and the other large cities were getting in an abnormal amount of coal. For instance on the first of August, Montreal had received twice as much coal as on the same date a year ago. The shipments to Kingston are coming along pretty steadily. There is not going to be coal in abundance, but a dealer told the Whig there would be enough for everybody.

The Utilities Commission will, after its next cargo arrives have all it requires till next May for the water-works and power plant. It has been receiving cargoes in 1,600 ton lots. The price of hard coal is likely to remain at the present figure, and it is pointed out that the dealers are not making as much profit as in normal years. It costs $1.35 to bring a ton of coal from the U. S. border to Kingston by rail and about the same by boat. Some dealers are paying seventy cents an hour for unloading coal here, while the wages of drivers have been raised considerably.

ONLY GERMAN RICH GET ANY GOOD

Serious Shortage of Necessities Confirmed by American Returned from Hamburg.

An Atlantic Port, Aug. 28.—The people of Germany are unquestionably facing a serious shortage of necessary food and the maximum effort of the authorities are now required to make what supplies they have go around, according to William Bartholomew, former representative of an American oil company at Hamburg, who arrived here on a Danish steamship.

Mr. Bartholomew said he left Germany July 31st and for eight weeks before he was allowed to leave the country he was compelled to live in a small village some miles out of Hamburg, where he was effectually cut off from all means of learning what was going on at the seaport city.

"If you have money and influence," Mr. Bartholomew said, "you can get good food in Germany, for there are ways to do it despite the strict control exercised if you know how. I managed to get enough to eat, but I know plenty of others who do not."

Regarding Germany's manpower, Mr. Bartholomew said there seemed to be plenty of men out on the firing line, but the past six months that he was permitted to see what was going on he could not fail to notice a considerable reduction in the number of men drilling and being prepared for war.

MONTREAL STEEPLEJACKS DO DARING FEATS

The Pinnacle of St. Mary's Cathedral Was Their Stage.

Some of the steeplejacks from Montreal, who have been working on the pinnacles of St. Mary's cathedral, the highest building in the city, gave a free performance of thrills to a great crowd of spectators on Monday afternoon after five o'clock.

One woman screamed as one of the workmen took a dive at a rope which could scarcely be seen at the great height and slid down for a short way. She thought sure that he was going to be thrown to the ground and her agitation brought a great crowd to witness the exploits of the daring men.

"Gee, this has got a drowsy beat," was the appreciative comment of one small boy as he watched the manoeuvres of the men.

STIFF FINE AT BAY

The Sorrows of a Gananoque Motor Boat Owner.

A short time ago Don McKellar, Gananoque, visited Alexandria Bay in his motorboat. While there he took a few friends out for a spin and because he did not have "approved" life preservers for each individual he was taken to task by the inspector and a few days ago was notified that for the offense he was penalized $100. Nor was that all. Previous to leaving Gananoque he had cleaned up his boat and overlooked his fog horn in restoring things to their places, and for not having a whistle another $100 was added to the bill of damages. But the worst is yet to come. His pilot rules were destroyed by water which had sprayed the boat in a heavy sea, and not having them aboard $200 additional was placed in the reckoning, making a total fine of $400.

A Sermon Correction.

The last paragraph of the short synopsis of Dr. Macgillivray's sermon in Monday's issue was a little mixed. It should read:

Two things come out of this lesson; one, God's thought of man, the other, the value of man. To realize these, let us get hold of the Christian ideal and spirit, and without fear condemn such selfishness, and darkness, and foulness and waste as we may see anywhere. Then God, and brotherhood and right will come to their own. Hidden souls will be lifted up into the liberty and love of the sons of light, into:

"The freer step, the fuller breath,
The wide horizon's grander view,
The sense of life that knows no death,
The life that maketh all things new."

Lieut. H. T. Dean Wounded.

The official casualty lists bring the notification that Lieut. Henry Thomas Dean, M.C., has been severely wounded at the front. Lieut. Dean was taken on the strength of the C.E.F. at Kingston. His next of kin is a sister, Miss Maude Dean, Newcastle, Eng.

KINGSTON EVENTS 25 YEARS AGO

The attendance in the junior class of Queen street Methodist church was larger than was ever known before.

Alfred Mexam died after a long illness.

The little daughter, Maggie, of Capt. and Mrs. T. Donnelly died.

Suffered Terribly FOR FOUR DAYS AND NIGHTS FROM DIARRHOEA

Diarrhoea arises from many causes such as change of diet, change of water, change of climate, catching cold, the eating of unripe fruits or anything that will cause an excess of bile.

On the first sign of any loosening of the bowels it should not be neglected, but should be looked after immediately, for if not diarrhoea, dysentery or some other serious bowel complaint may ensue.

Miss Florence Harfield, 325 Lander Ave., Toronto, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with a violent attack of diarrhoea. I suffered terribly with it for four days and nights, and finally I became so weak I did not think I could stand it any longer. My sister advised me to try a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I did so, and after I had taken three doses I felt a whole lot relieved. I kept on taking it and by the time I had taken six doses, the diarrhoea had completely stopped. It did not leave me constipated. I think it a wonderful remedy, as it is so quick to act. I will recommend it to all my friends."

There are many spurious "Strawberry" preparations sold that you should see that the name "Dr. Fowler's" is on every bottle you buy. Price 55c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

CANADIANS WHO ESCAPED DRAFT ASKED TO ENLIST

Britain Seeks as Soldiers Watertown Subjects of King George.

Hundreds of Canadians in Watertown, N.Y., many of whom escaped the draft because they were aliens, soon be urged to enlist in either the British, Canadian or American service, the committee on English enlistments announced to-day.

The committee appointed several weeks ago, has been unable to take up active measures toward securing British and Canadian subjects for war service because of the draft authorities. Within a week, however, they expect to be in a position to begin an enlistment campaign.

Names of British and Canadian subjects in Watertown and surrounding towns who were forced to register June 5th, but who escaped service by their exemption pleas, will be received from New York within a few days, it is expected. These men and many others who have settled in Northern New York will be urged to enter one of the three armies. Details of the campaign will probably be outlined at a meeting this week.
