Military News

Burrs are stickers. This saying came true last night at the military Y, the occasion being a "stunt" programme, and the winner was cheered to an echo as he sauntered off the platform bearing the prize. The lucky chap was "Sergeant" Burr. Every time the Y.M.C.A. has advertised an amateur night Burr has been the first to submit his entry, and although failing to find favor with the judges previously he has come up on each occasion. Last night he captivated the large audience with his recitations and singing, and although pitted against some fifteen odd contestants he easily held sway of the laurel wreath. John Kinch has been secured for to-morrow night at the "Y," and his discourse will be "The King's Last Fight." Frank Newman will lead the singing, while William Mack will render a couple of solos.

Arrangements are practically completed for Army Service and Army Medical ball teams to battle for supremacy at the fair on September 25th. Both teams will have plenty of time to settle down, and no doubt will make a close, hard struggle all the way.

An official of the Militia Department states that in the event of a senior officer refusing to accept a lower rank and returning to Canada, he would be liable to service under the Military Service Act. Any man, no matter whether he had gone overseas or not, if he had not actually seen service at the front and been discharged, would be liable under the Act.

Major George I. Campbell, C.R.O., returned from Frankford and Willard on Saturday morning. In Frankford on Thursday evening he addressed a meeting of 300 people who were very enthusiastic over the film, "Canada in Khaki," and the explanation of the war situation and the Military Service Bill. In Willard the fair was being held and the major gave an address there on Friday evening.

Asked as to the people's reception of the Military Service Act the major repeated a conversation he had with a farmer at the Willard fair. The farmer has two sons, one of whom is overseas. Next to his hundred acre farm is a forty acre farm, which is worked by the farmer and three sons, none of whom intend to enlist until made to do so. The unfairness of this situation was the farmer's comment upon the Act.

In all probability two medical boards, one for discharge and the other purely for enlistment, will be established. Alterations to the British American block are being made to accommodate these officers and their staffs.

Capt. McKenzie, McFarlane, McCammon, McDonald and Hooper are leaving Barriefield Camp for service in other countries next week.

Major R. D. Ponton, musketry officer at Petawawa Camp, during the summer returned to Barriefield on Saturday morning. He is being granted a month's leave and will then be struck off the strength.

Petawawa Camp will probably break up shortly after October 1st. The batteries will not be returning to Kingston. The 72nd Queen's Battery will be here but the 73rd goes to Belleville; 74th to Peterboro; 75th to Brockville and the ammunition column likely to Ottawa.

Lieut. T. Scott is now planning to finish the road from Barriefield village school-house to the bridge, and will put in a strip of concrete roadway for the last few hundred feet up the hill to the school building. The Government has not been granting very much money for the work, and Lieut. Scott can see his way to put in this kind rather than the macadam of the remainder of the road. He is to be commended for the enterprise as all credit for the work is the result of his efforts.

The following convalescent soldiers will arrive in the city from Quebec on Monday morning:

At the Theatres

At The Grand.
"Beware of Strangers", the big feature film that is causing so much favorable comment, will be shown for the last time at the Grand to-night. It is a feature that will grip you from beginning to end and one that you cannot afford to miss. The excellent vaudeville act and Pathe News will also be shown for the last time.

For the first three days of next week an excellent programme has been arranged. The popular star, Lionel Barrymore, will be seen in "His Father's Son," a Metro Vandyke play, mirth and millions. Adam Barron, disguised because his son seems to be worthless, discontinues his income, and bets the young man $5,000 that he cannot hold a $50 a month job for thirty days. The boy takes him up, and with his valet starts off in his racing automobile to look for work. This is the delightfully different beginning of "His Father's Son." It is just the kind of story that Channing Pollock and Renold Wolf like to write, that George D. Baker likes to direct, that Lionel Barrymore likes to act, and that the public likes to see. Dramatic incidents come.

At Griffin's.
George Behan the great character actor will be seen for the last time this evening in "A Roadside Impresario," one of the most wonderful photoplays in which this gifted artist has yet appeared, and one which no person should miss seeing. The third episode of "The Neglected Wife," will also be shown for the last time this evening, and should not be overlooked by those who have seen the preceding chapters, as this is one of the most exciting so far shown.

Our popular mind reading act which so highly pleased the audience last evening closes their engagement this evening also.

At the Strand.
One of the greatest events in the history of motion picture art will take place at the Strand on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, when Madame Anna Pavlova, Russia's dancer, will appear on the screen in a massive spectacle, entitled "The Dumb Girl of Portici." May McAllister in "Do Children Count," and a Musty Suffer comedy will also be shown. This programme will be shown at popular prices. Matinee ten cents and evenings fifteen cents.

Lake Ontario Park.
The closing entertainment of the season will be given at Lake Ontario Park to-night. A splendid programme of moving pictures has been provided for, and a large attendance is looked for. The park has been well patronized this year and the programmes given have been of the very best.

CHAMPIONED BISHOP
Fanatical Cossack Women in Wild Demonstration.

Petrograd, Sept. 8.—A crowd of fanatical and reactionary women at Taganrog, in the territory of the Don Cossacks, hearing that their champion, Bishop Loann, had been forbidden to preach in the cathedral, marched to his house and insisted that he preach. After the service, the women made a wild demonstration at the city hall. They complained that the building did not contain the portrait of a single Romanoff, and demanded that the bishop be given for his residence the place in which Emperor Alexander I. died. They marched through the streets crying: "Russia is perishing! Orthodoxy is perishing! Down with the synagogue!"
