Lieut. Robert D. Webster 8th Battery, attached to "C" Battery, R.C. H.A. has been returned to civil duties with the Customs department, his attachment to the above unit having been cancelled.

Lieut. I. P. Hinds, 110th Regiment and G. H. Murphy, C.A.S.C., have been appointed lieutenants to the Railway Construction Battalion.

Lieut. F. de H. Cunningham, G.G. P.C., is to be struck off the strength of the C.E.F. from August 31st.

Lieut. R. L. C. Meron of the 5th Dragoon Guards is seconded.

The undermentioned officers of the 16th Prince Edward Regiment are permitted to retire: G. S. Strawbridge, L. B. Kerr, G. B. McMullen, B. F. Whitney, T. F. Love, A. J. Curdick; also provincial lieutenant L. B. Palmeter.

J. H. O. Gouvin, C. E. Belanger, J. A. Groulx and J. C. D'Aoust of the 70th regiment are permitted to retire as officers of the Canadian Militia.

Nursing Sister E. L. Bell, R.R.C. Army Medical Corps, whilst performing the duties of matron of Queen's Military Hospital, has been granted the temporary rank of nursing matron.

The following men have been granted their discharge for various reasons: Gr. S. W. Lebecu, 75th Battery, Pte. M. L. Smith, A.M.C. Depot, Corpl. G. Paudash, "C" unit, M.H.C.C. Pte. J. Cleary, M.D. No. 3, Pte. C. Deline, A.M.C. Depot.

The prevailing cool weather does not appear to affect the sports committee at the camp as that organization has already arranged a big programme for Wednesday. There are seven field events—150 yard race, 1 mile relay race, (4 teams) of 4 men each, running broad jump, high jump, shot put, sack race, foot race, besides bayonet exercises by platoons, zig-zag baseball, throwing, musketry competition, and to cap all, a soccer game between teams representing the I.S. of I. and Eastern Depot Battalion. If Mister Weather Man will only loosen up a bit, and shed a few warm rays on the "Commons," keen pulsating competition is looked for. The soccer game is expected to be more of a business affair as neither team has reached the perfection stage, but in any event, it will be a good drawing card, and make a fitting close to a good day's sport.

"Punch" Derry and "Attaboy" Stagg, the smooth working battery of the "rations" squad, made a fine pick and shovel act. Both are in hard training for the big event at the fair on Wednesday the twenty-sixth. Speaking about the ball game at the "Ex," it looks from the interest now being created that both teams will present formidable line-ups. Sergt. Minnock who is scouting for the Medical team, is daily uncovering new material, and already has signed up three new faces, whom he claims will swing on the pill so hard that Derry and his squad will be hopping over the diamond like flies on a hot griddle. The Service boys are as tight as a steel trap, but secret word their camp leads one to believe that a general shake-up in the team is about due. The fair officials have offered silver medals to the winners and this inducement has keyed the players to such a pitch that many spend sleepless nights contemplating the outcome of the play. Some of the players are so keen on the base sliding practice that they have almost worn their "pillows" to a frazzle. Great excitement was caused in the Medical area to-day when it was learned that Capt. McGregor would be available for the game. "Mac" is as popular with the boys as an orchestra at a new summer hotel, and some claim that he would sooner play ball than shoot the needle into fifty green recruits. There is one conclusion—both teams are out to win, and the lucky one which "brings home the bacon" will know the joy of a home run.

Last night the warmest spot in camp seemed to be the large marquee at the "Y". Indeed, it must have been, as the seating capacity was fully taxed. A comic "Love and Business" and a five reel drama entitled "Quality and Faith" kept the audience in both high glee and silent contemplation. "Sergeant" Burr's rendering of a couple of dialogues added materially to the successful evening.

Two teams from the Eastern Depots kept "warm" last night in a soccer practice game, while a number of the other boys "wound up" with the baseball.

Green apples in July to a school boy. Yes, that's what a gold medal looks like to an athlete and already one of them precious trophies has been donated for competition at the camp. Mr. Art Watson of Crawford and Walsh has "put up" the bullion and the sports committee will hand it to the athlete making the highest tally on Athletic Day, September 19th. There are a number of local merchants who already have consented to make it "interesting" for the boys, and any others who feel so inclined can hand their "bit" to the "Y" secretary.

Recruiting officers will be in attendance at the Ottawa fair in an endeavor to drum up recruits. Major G. I. Campbell, chief recruiting officer for the third military district is to-day that an active campaign would be conducted at the fair. The officers who will go up from Kingston are Lieuts. E. Lussier and W. Young and Sergt.-Major Beall. They left for the capital to-day.

At the Theatres

A thoroughly enjoyable programme was offered at the Grand last night, and made an instantaneous hit with the large audience present. Lionel Barrymore appeared in "His Father's Son," a Metro wonderplay of love, mirth and millions. The situation presented is catchy and unusual. A millionaire's son is "burning up" his father's money. The old gentleman closes the treasury. He tells the son to get to work, and bids him $5,000 he can't hold a job for thirty days. Then Young Mr. Max gets a job as butler. He falls in love with a pretty girl. He prevents a bogus lord from committing a big owl robbery. And he wins the $6,000 and the girl. It takes a star of Mr. Barrymore's rare ability to fittingly combine humor and pathos on the screen. The rest of the bill is varied and excellent, and includes a Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew comedy, two-reeler, "Her Great Dilemma."

THE TRIBUNAL TO CHOOSE

KINGSTON MEN WHO WILL SERVE UNDER CONSCRIPTION

Every Man Between Twenty and Thirty-five Will Have a Chance to Explain Why He Should Not Be Called.

To three Kingston men Judge Lavell has granted a responsible task. Postmaster James Stewart, J. B. Walkem, and George Y. Chown, have now the weighty task of choosing from the eligible young men in the city those who are to serve the Empire's cause in the front line trenches in France.

This is not an easy burden to bear. The intention of the Military Service Act is not and was never framed with the intention of tearing young men from their home ties and flinging them ruthlessly into the melting pot of war. Some men will bear their burdens in the trenches, some on the harvest fields of Canada and some in the grimy factories of the cities. Every man who has passed his twentieth birthday and who has not reached his thirty-fifth will be allotted to his task by the tribunals.

It is upon the men appointed by Judge Lavell that the work of selecting the men from Kingston will devolve. Postmaster Stewart's two sons have bravely borne their part in the struggle. Major James Stewart is now fighting "Somewhere in France" and since war was declared he has been on active service with the Canadian forces. Lieut. Rodgie Stewart, the postmaster's youngest son, lately left in action.

J. B. Walkem, K.C., is represented, too, among the fighting forces. His only son, Lieut. Harry Walker, M.C., has been wounded in action and his bravery won for him the Military Cross.

The young men of Canada are saying nothing against conscription, and will say nothing as long as it is carried out fairly. It behooves those behind the scheme to see that absolute fairness prevails, and that there is no "wire-pulling" at Ottawa.

Familiar Quotations

Rejoice, lest pleasureless ye die,
Within a little time must ye go by,
Stretch forth your open hands, and
While ye live,
Take all the gifts that Death and
