The Theatres

At The Grand.
The tremendously vital feature that is proving such a popular drawing card at the Grand will be shown for the last time this evening. It is a production that you should take the time to witness, as it is both entertaining and instructive. The biggest single factor in the world today is the food supply of the United States and Canada. The terrible conditions that actually exist in the U.S., where tons of food stuffs lie rotting in the farmers' barns because the freight takes away all their meagre profit, or in store houses while the trusts are forcing the prices up and the poor people are dying by thousands, is graphically shown in "The Public be Damned". The Pathe News is very interesting, while La Dar & Williams provide a very pleasing vaudeville act. Their various handcuff escapes are truly marvelous. For Friday matinee and evening an exceptionally fine programme has been secured. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw will be seen in a five reel feature, "Threads of Death". A two reel Travelogue, a good comedy and the Pathe News will also be shown. Feature vaudeville will hold the boards.

"Flora Bella."
"Flora Bella," which will be the coming attraction at the Grand on Thursday, Sept. 20th, matinee and night, with a splendid cast and a gorgeous production, was this season's Casino Theatre, New York, musical triumph.

The wonderful hit scored by this play in New York during its six months run, was due to the general excellence in which it was produced. The producer who discovered the play in far off Munich, held faithfully to the original scenic display for the American presentation.

In the cast, too, he spared no expense, as will be seen when the "Flora, Bella" company comes to town. The story deals with the return of the Russian Princess returning to her old stage life for one night only, to win the love of her husband. It is a unique idea.

"The Love of a King."
The public has heard much of George III's errors of statesmanship, but little of the qualities which as a young man made him the idol of the British people. George as a high-minded prince and lover is shown as the leading figure in Paul Koster's romantic drama "The Love of a King," which Albert Brown will be seen at the Grand, Saturday Sept. 22nd, matinee and night. No playwright of the day is so happy in dealing with romantic themes as Paul Koster, as was amply proven in "When Knighthood Was in Flower," and other plays which have won him a fortune. His latest effort deals with the love of Prince George for the lovely Quakeress, Hannah Lightfoot, and he has produced a drama, exquisite in its appeal to the finer emotions, and filled with vivacious action. It will show a new phase of the art of Albert Brown, and will prove that he has powers far beyond the comic roles he has played. It is the belief of his friends that it will stamp him as a second Mansfield in the minds of the public.

At the Strand.
"Idle Wives," delighted a large and appreciative audience at the Strand last evening. This production will be exhibited for the last time to-night.
"Womanhood," Coming to Strand.
For the last three days of this week the Strand has booked J. Stuart Blackton's soul-stirring production; "Womanhood," featuring Alice Joyce, Harry Moray, Peggy Hyland and an all-star Vitaphone cast. "Womanhood," is the supreme revelation of the three noblest passions in a woman's life. Rightly called "the Love Epic of the Screen," depicts the love of a man for a man, the love of a mother for her child, and the love of a woman for her country. So vivid is the story, so gripping is the intensity of the action, that it conveys to the mind and heart action so vital and thoughts so powerful that its presentation will leave its indelible impress on your memory. "Womanhood" is the film of the hour. At a time when the big world movements are converging to a greater democracy, this highly dramatic spectacle will be a moulder of sentiment of the country, an inspirer to the people and perhaps the mightiest force to strike home the imperative needs of the moment.

At Griffin's.
To-night will be the last opportunity to witness the winsome little favorite Anne Pennington, in "The Little Boy Scout," which has proved such a delight to patrons for the last two days. Her adventures point form a sequence of events both humorous and dramatic. Don't overlook the eleventh episode of "The Mystery of the Double Cross," brimful of exciting adventures. The vaudeville act is a real musical treat. For the best half of this week the features will be Mae Murray in a modern romantic comedy, "At First Sight."

A REAL LIVE DEER
A Strange Visitor at Jones' Falls Recently.
The people of Jones' Falls were treated to a surprise on Sunday last by seeing a full grown deer in their midst. It was first seen by John McGuire standing on the road nearly opposite his house and in plain sight of the hotel and post-office and the docks. After squaring around and looking up and down the road for a few minutes the animal quietly walked away. It was afterwards seen by others in other parts of the neighborhood. It is some time since Jones' Falls had the pleasure of entertaining a visitor of this kind and the great wonder of all is how it got there. It must have passed through a number of miles of old settlement to reach the falls and there is no previous account of its movements.

Military News

A garrison board with Lieut-Col. George H. Gillespie as president will examine the barrack stores in Kingston on Wednesday morning.

Capt. G. S. Cronk, C.A.M.C., has been taken on the strength of No. 3 Field Ambulance Depot, C.E.F.

At Camp Borden, Lieut. V. C. Kerrison with four N.C.O.'s will form the establishment of a permanent military cooking school for the whole of Eastern Canada. It will form part of the Canadian Permanent Army Service Corps. Lieut. Kerrison was formerly of Kingston.

BATTERIES TO ARRIVE HERE NEXT TUESDAY.
A message to the Whig from Petawawa Camp says:
The 72nd, 73rd, 74th and 75th Batteries and Nos. 1, 2 and 3 sections D.A.C. and also D.A.C. headquarters are to leave for Kingston next Tuesday for winter quarters. The R.C.H.A. depot and "C" Battery, R.C. H.A., will leave on the 27th.

The sergeants and officers of Army Medical Corps met in an exhibition ball game last evening. Officers took the field with Major Mundell on the mound. Chapman for sergeants circled the bases once in the first innings, then officers went to bat but failed to register the first time up. The "Chevron" boys made it three in the next innings and from then on started to climb. Dubau pitched good ball for the sergeants and was well supported. The officers' twirlers put over some good ones but lacked backing in the field. When time was called the score stood 8-6 favor of the sergeants. The teams lined up as follows:

Officers—Cronk, ss; Porter, 1b; Mundell, p; McFarland, 2b; Willoughby, 3b; McKenzie, rf; Roney, c; Tett, lf.

Sergeants—McCartney, ss; Chapman, cf; Anderson, 1b; Woodley, 3b; Dubau, p; Hendry, 2b; Neilson, rf; Wilson, c.

Umpires—Lister and Simms.
To-nights show at the Military "Y" promises to eclipse anything attempted so far this season. Ten male artists from Kingston have the programme in hand and from all accounts will give the "boys" the best. Brig-Gen. Hemming has consented to present the prizes won in the afternoon sports, while a great many of the staff officers will be present. His Worship Mayor Hughes will also put in an appearance. Col. W. Macneil will be chairman for the evening.

The athletic field at the camp was a hive of industry last evening. Everybody was putting on the final touches for to-day's big sports. The bombing competition promises to be good. Lieut. James Bews and staff were busily engaged putting up barricades yesterday.

While drilling was going on yesterday afternoon, an aeroplane kept circling the field and occasionally would almost touch the ground. The aviator's features were quite easily distinguished.

Brig-Gen. Hemming has declared this afternoon a half-holiday, so that everybody in camp may be able to take in the games. A full report of the sports will be in to-morrow's edition.

Last evening was open house at the Military "Y". A great number gathered around the "Booth" to look at the prizes on exhibition and many were the remarks passed. The whole camp is keyed up with excitement and great sport should be seen to-day.

Lots of Money.
The championship game on Saturday is creating even bets with the local fans and a large crowd is expected as this is the game of the season.
