BRILLIANT ACHIEVEMENTS OF CANADIANS IN THE FIGHTING AROUND LENS

Where the Circle is Being Drawn Tighter and Tighter—The Official Report Issued by the Militia Department.

(Canadian Press Despatch.) Ottawa, Sept. 28.—Many brilliant achievements of the Canadian corps in fighting around Lens, are detailed in a report given out by the Militia Department to-day. The statement tells of gallant work of Canadians from all parts of the Dominion in carrying by assault the formidably defended position known as Hill 70. The casualties inflicted by the Canadian troops were quite exceptionally heavy on this occasion, including the taking of 1,378 prisoners, with a large number of machine and trench guns.

Apart from the military value of the ground gained, said the report, such results represent no small addition to the growing strain imposed on the enemy by our offensive and must contribute materially to the exhaustion of his reserves. The report adds that Canadian casualties were light.

During weather unfavorable for major operations the Canadians distinguished themselves as usual with raids and reconnaissances. On the night of August 9th a small party of twenty Canadians surprised an enemy outpost and accounted for the whole garrison.

Describing the big battles about Lens, in the middle of August the report says that the Canadian infantry attack admirably supported by Canadian artillery, was immediately successful. Our progress continues, continues the report says and at very moderate cost to ourselves. The circle is being drawn tighter and tighter about Lens.

HUSBAND AND WIFE MADE SUICIDE PACT

Daughter of Former Toronto Alderman Killed Herself in Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Sept. 28.—With a 45 calibre revolver bullet in her forehead, the body of Mrs. W. H. Mather, daughter of ex-ald. Edward Hewitt, Toronto, was found in a room in the Royal Alexandra Hotel yesterday. The woman had been dead for three days and mortification has set in. In the same room was the woman's husband, W. H. Mather, B.A., a returned veteran of the Army Service Corps and formerly professor of literature in Simpson College, Iowa. Both his wrists had been slashed by the blade of a safety razor, and although he is in a greatly weakened condition from loss of blood he is expected to recover.

The Winnipeg police believe that the tragedy was brought about by a suicide pact. Mather, they allege, was in fear that under the description act he would again be called to the colors and this fear preyed upon the minds of his wife and himself. The couple resided in Vancouver for several years and two years ago went to Omaha. Some time after that it is believed Mather joined the C.A.S.C.

Feeding Old Silage.

J. E. Huff, of Bloomfield, is feeding three-year-old silage, and finds it as good as it was the first winter. He has had so much each year that it was not fed out before the new crop came along. The first summer he tried covering it with clover chaff to prevent waste, but it was not satisfactory, and so this year he tried sawdust, spreading about seven inches over the top of the silage and keeping it wet. About twice a week was often enough to sprinkle it, and the ensilage kept without any waste whatever.

Familiar Quotations

It was not hers to stir the world
With some great deed, or on
Fame's scroll
To write her name, yet day by day
She helped one weary soul.
Not hers to lead an army vast,
Or place her name all names above;
But hers to guide one heart aright—
Simply to live and love.
—A Wife's Epitaph.

The Theatres

At the Grand.
To-night will be the last chance to see bewitching Emmy Wehlen in the splendid Metro wonderplay, "The Duchess of Doubt." It is truly an exceptional picture, and deluged a large audience at the Grand last night. Other interesting features and the act of feature vaudeville will also be repeated for the last time this evening. For the first three days of next week charming Mary Miles Minter will be welcomed back to the Grand in the startling Metro wonderplay, "Somewhere in America," a picture that is timely, true, picturesque and exciting.

Jimmie Hodges in "Pretty Baby."
Musical comedy fans will read the announcements of the coming of Jimmie Hodges and Jean Tynes in the big musical revue, "Pretty Baby," the same as a lover of the national pastime reads of a double header for one price of admission. The big show, which has two of the season's best songs, hits the stage on Saturday, Sept. 29th, matinee and night. Comedy predominates throughout, and Mr. Hodges, around whom the show is written, is ably assisted by a large cast of musical comedy favorites, including Elmer Coudy, Blech Sisters, Geo. Graves, Al Garbelle, Ollie Hodges and a real beauty chorus of Broadway show girls.

At Griffin's.
A packed house last evening greeted the first presentation of the special programme for the last half of the week. The famous mystery play, "On Trial," swept the house off its feet. It is one of the really great plays of the year, and Sidney Ainsworth and Barbara Castleton added to the fascination of "On Trial" by creating beings that feel, that act, that live. Pauline Frederick in the newest characterization, "The Love That Lives," is in itself a great picture, and received much favorable comment from the large audience. It is the story of a scrub-woman who sacrifices all in order to get money to give her only son some of the advantages she had never been able to secure for herself. The fifth episode of "The Neglected Wife" is another important feature. Taken on the whole, the programme is one which cannot be surpassed for length and excellence.

At The Strand.
The George Walsh smile and the George Walsh personality once more combine with a corking good story to make "Some Boy" an assured success. "Some Boy" is the latest William Fox production starring George Walsh and played to capacity business at the Strand last evening. "Some Boy" is a story of a press agent, a courageous young man who conquers all obstacles and succeeds in winning a fortune and a girl. A Keystone comedy and other good reels were also shown. This programme will be exhibited again tonight and Saturday.

Monster Silage Corn.

While corn for the most part in Prince Edward is a poor crop this year, some corn that stood fully 14 feet high, or perhaps more was shown at the county fair. This was called "Pride of Nisba," and the seed was brought in from the States, selling at various prices around $2.75 per bushel, shelled. Quite a few farmers in the county planted it, and it has made a good impression so far. The ears are well formed and well filled. For this reason it is expected by the growers that it will make as good ensilage as the smaller varieties. This may not prove the case, in the Sun's opinion. It is well known that the best feed values in the ensilage come from the ear, and in this case the percentage of ears in the total silage will be very small, as a result of the rank growth of stalk and leaves.

Getting Out From Under.

Brookville Recorder. Evidently W. F. Nickle, M.P., Kingston, sees the debacle coming for he has sent a letter to the Conservative Association of that riding stating that he will not again be in for the Tory slaughter at the hands of an outraged people.

Thieves Still Busy.

Justice of the Peace George Hunter has received a report of another theft at Findlay Station. This time a bicycle was taken off. Just a few days ago a resident lost a gun.

Senator and Mrs. Taylor, Gananoque motored to Westport on Tuesday and spent the day with friends.
