SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray.

This great man says the affectation of the tremulous is not natural, and surely singing that is unnatural does not amount to much.

Music in the Home

Oh! That Tremulous Voice.

The funny papers have lost many an opportunity to tickle the public's fancy by concentrating on the Farmer-Corn-tassel and mother-in-law puns to the neglect of the way in which young ladies aim at imitating the tremulous stop on the organ when they "come out" in the singing world.

By that he means the forced tremulous so frequently heard among amateurs. Why they do that is hard to say. Back of the practice is the same amount of reason there is in some of our current fashions; and what that is, is past explanation.

Modern Tales of a Wayside Inn. Muskoka is a great meeting place. At one of the summering places there, there chanced to meet the Organist, the Choir Soloist, the Piano Teacher, the Orchestra Player and the Outsider.

gan was a boy of fourteen. At first he would fill the air chests as full as possible, rest until they were empty, then suddenly go at it with short, noisy jerks again.

Then came The Choir Soloist's turn. He said: "You all are familiar with that class of touching songs, the chief ingredient of which is a mixture of religious and sentimental mush. They are often submitted to our publishers and indeed, sometimes one gets through. I shall recite a typical verse.

Then spake The Orchestra Player: "A certain rich man once had a swell party. He engaged an orchestra on the spur of the moment, agreeing to pay handsomely for their services.

up your cheeks, and move the slide in and out, keeping time with him. You won't be any help, but the other trombonist will play for you both, and nobody will be any the wiser."

When the third round of applause had subsided, The Piano Teacher proceeded: "Brahms was noted for his biting and sarcastic remarks. Once though, he met his mark. A great banquet was given in Vienna. Among those in attendance was Popper, the cellist and composer. Called on for a speech, Brahms responded lamely.

While the party was giving outward evidence of their enjoyment of the story, The Outsider was making ready for a quick departure to avoid having to tell one. But he was not quick enough, and under threats The Outsider went on: "A lady who was much annoyed at the unvarying monotony of the repertoire of the hurdy-gurdy that played in front of her house, one day asked the organ grinder if he could not play something by Wagner."

KNEW BEFOREHAND OF U-BOAT POLICY

Von Bernstorff Never in Ignorance of Germany's Intentions.

Washington, Sept. 27.—Further evidence that Count von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to Washington, knew of his Government's intention to inaugurate a campaign of unrestricted submarine warfare prior to his request for money with which to influence Congress, is in possession of the State Department.

Answering enquiries the Secretary made this statement: "In view of enquiries which have been made as to whether Count von Bernstorff knew of the purpose of his Government to renew relentless submarine warfare when he sent his message of January 22, 1917, asking authorization to expend $50,000, I can state that the Department of State possesses conclusive evidence that on or before January 19 Count von Bernstorff had received and read the Zimmermann telegram to Minister von Eckhardt in Mexico, which contained the following: 'We intend to begin on the first of February unrestricted submarine warfare. We shall endeavor in spite of this to keep the United States of America neutral.'

EXTREME WEAKNESS AND SUFFERING

Read How Mrs. Goodling got Relief and Strength.

York, Pa.—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and found it to be all you say it is. I was so sick that I could not stand any sink to wash dishes and I could not sit without a pillow under me. I had the doctor every few days but since I have taken the Compound I don't have to send for him. I have had three children and could not raise any of them, but since I have taken the Compound I have a bright baby boy. I advise every suffering woman to try it and get relief. It has done wonders for me."

Mrs. CATHERINE GOODLING, 138 E. King Street, York, Pa.

When a medicine has been successful in bringing health to so many, no woman has a right to say without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me." There must be more than a hundred thousand women in this country who, like Mrs. Goodling, have proven what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound can do for weak and ailing women. Try it and see for yourself.

British Columbia's new prohibition measure is considered "alright" by the Vancouver city prosecutor, and the mayor and chief of police have assured the police of their backing in its strict enforcement.

SINN FEIN LEADER STARVES TO DEATH

Inaugurated Hunger Strike in Prison Which Proved Successful.

Dublin, Sept. 27.—Thomas Ashe, a Sinn Fein leader, has died in a hospital here as the result of a hunger strike upon which he entered some time ago.

Ashe commanded the rebels in the Eastern riots at Ashbourne in 1916, when several members of the congress were killed. He was sentenced to penal servitude for life but was released last June under amnesty arrangements. Recently he was again sentenced by court martial to a year's imprisonment for a seditious speech, but immediately upon being imprisoned began a hunger strike which resulted in his death.

MUST HAVE PEACE WITHOUT FETTERS

Aspirations and Liberties of Nations Must be Respected, Says Asquith.

London, Sept. 28.—"Any peace worth having cannot be found in a cessation of active hostilities followed by a process of territorial bargaining to be embodied in protocols and pacts and still less in an arrangement imposed either by victors or vanquished which sets at defiance the traditional aspirations and liberties of the people affected."

EX-PRESIDENT TAFT SAYS

"Peace Now Would Mean Another War."

Montreal, Sept. 28.—"Those who favor permanent world peace must oppose with might and main the proposals for peace at this juncture in the war whether made in Socialistic councils, in pro-German conferences, or by Pope Benedict," declared William H. Taft, president of the League to Enforce Peace, in an address he delivered before the General Conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches.

President Wilson has requested Col. E. M. House to organize and direct American activities in relation to the coming peace conference. Britain and France are making progress with their plans.

AVIATOR DROPS FROM SKY TO VISIT COL. SAMPLE

Former Student at Sackett Harbor Training Camp Creates Excitement.

Watertown, N.Y., Sept. 27.—Sackett Harbor, near here, was aroused yesterday morning when Lieut. A. W. Young, of the Royal Canadian Flying Corps, dropped from the clouds to pay his respects to Col. W. R. Sample, whose student he was at the training camp this summer. The lieutenant flew about sixty miles from the flying school at Deseronto, on the Bay of Quinte, to make the call. The trip was made in one hour.

Excitement was created at Cape Vincent and other towns as the machine went over. The machine was taken to the parade grounds at Madison Barracks, where it was well looked over by the officers and enlisted men. After filling his gasoline tank Lieutenant Young took the air for the return trip. Lieut. Young, who is twenty-two years of age, resigned from the summer training camp at Madison Barracks to enter the aviation school at Deseronto.

BRITISH OFFENSIVE VERY SATISFACTORY

In Main Battle The Australians Are Pressing the Germans Hard.

(Canadian Press Despatch.) British Front in France and Belgium, Sept. 27.—The British are making their new line strongly. The main battle to-day was in the neighborhood of Calonne house, south of the eastern extremity of Polygon Wood, where the Australians are pressing the Germans hard. The situation as a whole is virtually unchanged.

YANKEE AVIATOR KILLED

As Mother Travels 6,000 Miles to Greet Him.

Paris, Sept. 28.—Behind the bare official announcement that Sergt. Douglas MacMonagie of San Francisco has been killed in aerial encounter with two German machines, lies one of the most poignant tragedies of the war, says the Herald.

Sergt. MacMonagie, who was in Paris a few days before he was killed, seemed to have a presentiment of his fate. He said to friends: "Well, fellows, if they get me you may look on it as mother will have the consolation of knowing that I passed out fighting and doing my best, as she would wish it."
