SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLIES

IN SEVERAL OF CHURCHES ON SUNDAY.

Novel Service in Queen Street Methodist—School Organized Into a Battalion—A Cannon Was Loaded With Cash. The Rally Day service of Queen Street Methodist Church Sunday afternoon. The floral and flag decorations were choice and the attendance unusually large. The classes were quite full and much interest was manifested throughout the service. The cradle roll membership was well presented and was heard at times. The superintendent said he expected this and was glad the little ones had come. The Adult Bible Class and the Home Department had splendid representations. The service was novel in that it was military in character. The school was made into a battalion, and the happy little soldiers heard the bugle calls of first post, reveille, tattoo, last post, lights out, saluted the flag, came to attention and generally responded to the orders of the commanding officer, Col. R. Meek; the Chaplain General, Rev. J. D. Ellis; the Adjutant, F. Paynter, and the sergeant-major, Sergt.-Major Platt. The chaplain said the prayers and gave the orders of enlistment, commands, uniforms, rations and marching orders by means of scriptural passages. There were numerous military hymns sung, led by a very fine orchestra under the leadership of W. J. Allen, and the scholars loaded a cannon with cash as the ammunition. The whole event was orderly and entertaining. The school starts on its winter campaign under fine auspices.

At Cooke's Church.

In spite of the inclement weather, there was a very good Sunday school rally at Cooke's Church. W. Newman, the superintendent, presided, and the programme included a special chorus by the entire school, a selection from a male quartette composed of A. B. Haffner, W. Thompson, S. J. Wilson and H. W. Newby. A recitation entitled "The Land of Our Birth," was given by Ethel McMahon, and a dialogue, "The Hope of Missionary Lands," was rendered by the teacher, Miss Leshmann, and three scholars of the junior department, Bery Percival, Emma Horn, and Iva Lewers. The address for the occasion was delivered by Rev. H. F. Curry, of Princess Street Methodist Church. An interesting feature of the proceedings was a roll call by classes, each class responding with a statement of its enrollment and attendance. The service closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

First Baptist Bible School Rally. The First Baptist Bible School held its fall rally yesterday afternoon. In spite of very unfavorable weather, there was a good rally of the scholars, with many of the parents present. Dr. E. J. Lake, superintendent, presided, and successfully carried through a special programme provided for the occasion. Solos were sung by Miss Edna Singleton and Master Stuart Salisbury. There was a missionary exercise in which the following pupils took part: Misses Helen Murphy and Ada Turner, Vincent McCullough and Arthur Salisbury. A recitation was given by John Girling. The special address was given by the Rev. Capt. Fairful. He hung practical lessons on the letters of the word "Wanted," in such a way as to make them interesting to the young people. A number of boys and girls graduated from the Craik Road Department, and were presented with neat diplomas by the pastor of the church. The interesting session was closed by singing the National Anthem and the benediction by the pastor.

Heard Fine Address.

The First Congregational Sunday school rally Sunday afternoon was of a very interesting nature. Capt. H. I. Horsey, of Ottawa, recently home from the front, was the speaker, and he delivered a fine address, telling of many incidents that came under his notice overseas. Rev. Mr. Rayner also spoke. In addition to the address there was a programme of songs, readings and recitations by the children, and musical selections by the Routley family.

AT SALVATION ARMY CITADEL.

Brigadier and Mrs. Miller Spent the Week-end in Kingston. The members of the Salvation Army in Kingston had as their special visitors over the week-end Brigadier and Mrs. G. Miller, of Toronto, who conducted special services which marked the harvest thanksgiving. There was a large attendance at all the services and the addresses were timely and the programme of music most delightful. Brigadier Miller is the architect for the army, and while in the city, in company with Adjutant Smith, made an inspection of the new drill hall. Brigadier and Mrs. Miller went on to Gananoque at noon on Monday.

BUILDING IN KINGSTON

More in September 1917 Than in Same Month Last Year. City Engineer McClelland reports that the building permits taken out at his office during September showed a value of $13,936 as compared with $6,971 for the same month in 1916. For the nine months of 1917 ending Sept. 30th the building permits totalled $118,639 while the permits for the same period of 1916 totalled $157,881.

REGISTRATION TOTAL IS NOT MADE UP

There May be a Slight Decrease in the Attendance.

As yet G. Y. Chown, registrar of Queen's University, has made no announcement as to the registration in the various faculties this year. It may be several weeks before the final total is made up, but it is thought that the registration is not much below that of last year. The freshman year in medicine is particularly large, and the other years in the same faculty are being maintained as in normal times owing to the insistent demand for doctors at the front.

Although there has been a relaxation in the strict regulations for entrance in the faculty of applied science the freshman year does not seem to be particularly large, and it is not uncommon for a lecturer to have only one student in his class. In the faculty of arts there seems to be no considerable diminution. The ladies are back in great numbers, and in the number of men there seems little decrease from the total at the end of last session. Many of the students enlisted just before examinations, and although there may be a decrease when this year is compared with last, there will be little when compared with the numbers at the end of the session.

As yet the faculty of theology has not opened, and will not do so until the middle of the month. Pianos to rent. C. W. Lindsay, Ltd.
