STIFF GALE ON THE LAKES

HAS BEEN HOLDING UP VESSELS AT ALL THE PORTS
One Hundred and Fifty Tons of Coal arrived in the City Off the Steamer Reported Along the Harbor.

A stiff gale on the lakes past few days has been playing "high jinks" and as a result, navigation has been given a severe setback. Some vessels have been tied up in Kingston for some days. It was expected, however, that the weather would clear and that the vessels would be able to get away on Monday.

It was reported on Monday morning that Oswego harbor was filled with boats, and that there was almost a general tie-up of navigation as a result of the wind storm.

The steamer Jaska, from Oswego, is discharging coal at Robert Crawford's wharf.

The steamer Jex went into Kingston Shipbuilding Company's dock for minor repairs.

The steamer Argo, from Cleveland, is discharging a cargo of coal for the Sowards Coal Company.

Canada Steamship Lines—Steamer Mapleton arrived from Montreal Saturday night; steamer Ames passed down with grain from Port Colborne to Montreal, Sunday.

Steamer Eagan passed down with coal from Erie to Montreal; steamer City of Ottawa arrived from Montreal Monday morning; the steamer City of Hamilton is due to pass down this afternoon.

A FINE SINGER.
He is Serving Country in the Flying Corps.

Cadet Lloyd, of the Royal Flying Corps, Deseronto, who sang, "Comfort Ye," from the "Messiah," so delightfully in Sydenham Street Methodist Church on Sunday morning, was at the beginning of the war attending Cambridge University, in England, and with a large number of students of that university, went to France. After some time he was granted a furlough to visit his father, who was seriously ill. When his furlough expired he transferred to the Royal Flying Corps. While at Deseronto he has had some thrilling experiences, but would not give it up under any consideration, despite its dangers.

WINDSOR TOWEL IS BACK FROM FRANCE
Was Found in Haversack of Dead Soldier—Convalescent Brought It.

How an ordinary towel with the words "Windsor Hotel, Ottawa," woven on it, was discovered on the battlefield after the engagement of Courcellette, was related by machine Gunner F. Grant, of a Montreal battalion, invalided home about six weeks ago and is at present an inmate of a Kingston convalescent home.

"After Courcellette we were hungry," said Gunner Grant, "and I started grubbing around in some of the boys' haversacks for something to eat, knowing that often the boys have canned goods stuffed away for emergency use. In the haversack of this dead soldier, I came across, along with some eatables this towel with the words, Windsor Hotel, Ottawa, woven on it. I stuffed it in my pocket without thinking, and brought it home."

As to the identity of the soldier who owned it, Gunner Grant was unaware. That the towel had seen service of some kind was shown by the mark of a bullet hole through it. The Windsor now has the towel.

Possibly the towel belonged to some former member of the hotel staff, thinks Frank Sheridan, clerk at the Windsor. "About thirty-eight boys from this hotel altogether have put on khaki," he said.

"IT'S JUST GRAND," SAYS MRS. O'BRIEN

Toronto Woman Tells of Her Wonderful Recovery With Tanlac.

It is not what the manufacturers claim for it, the testimony of the multiplied thousands who have been benefited by it that has made Tanlac the most famous medicine in the world to-day. Mrs. Amy O'Brien a resident of Toronto, whose husband is with the Canadian Expeditionary forces, "Somewhere in France," in an interesting interview at her home, 184 Lansdowne avenue, recently said:

"One day I saw in the paper where a lady who described my symptoms exactly had gotten relief by taking Tanlac, and that's what caused me to take in and find relief from my troubles. So no one knows the good they may do by telling what helped me. I have been afflicted with rheumatism for five years and my general health had become all broken. And although I spent lots of money for treatment and medicines of various kinds my condition grew worse until I began taking Tanlac. I would have attacks of acute rheumatism when it seemed like the pain would drive me distracted. Just sharp, shooting pains all through my arms that left me unable to touch them. I was swollen around my waist, my joints were swollen and so stiff and painful I could hardly bend them. There were knots puffed up on the backs of my hands as large as an egg and many a morning I have woken up with my fingers so swollen and hurting me I couldn't slice up the bread for breakfast. I didn't seem to have much strength, couldn't sleep well, and always felt tired and worn-out. I never felt like even getting out of the house and my work was a burden to me."

"Tanlac has certainly been a God-send to me. It is truly wonderful how the two bottles I have taken have helped me. I don't feel the rheumatism now at all, those ugly, slightly knots have disappeared from my hands and the pain and swelling has all left my arms and fingers. My sleep is sound and peaceful and I get up in the mornings feeling fine, and my general health has improved more than I can tell. I honestly believe my rheumatism is a thing of the past and my tired, worn-out feelings are gone, too. I really feel better than I have in many years and can not only do my work with ease but feel like getting out and going somewhere every day. Tanlac has been a grand thing for me and I would gladly tell anybody personally how it has helped me."

Tanlac is sold in Kingston by A. P. Chown.

REV. DR. BRUCE TAYLOR IS MOST AGGRESSIVE
Queen's Secures Principal Whose Ministry Has Been Marked by Wide Catholicity

Rev. Dr. R. Bruce Taylor, who is to be the new Principal of Queen's University spent six months at the front last year as chaplain of the 42nd Highlanders. He was born at Cardross, Scotland, and received his education in England; Glasgow University, of which he is an M.A.; the Free Church College, of which he is a Thomsomian; Göttingen University, Beirut and Damascus. He was ordained in 1896, and has since been minister of St. John's Wood, London, England. Since May, 1911, he has been minister of St. Paul's Church, Montreal, succeeding the Rev. Dr. Barclay, who ten became pastor emeritus. Besides being the author of a book on Economics, he has written for the Student Christian Movement, and has contributed largely to serial publications on religious and historical topics.

Since coming to Montreal six years ago, he has represented the most aggressive element of the church. His ministry has been marked by his wide catholicity and by his great interest in everything that could bring improvement of mankind. Since the war broke out his patriotic work has been very pronounced, while his interest in recruiting is indicated by the fact that he left his church and followed the 42nd Battalion to the trenches.

As a speaker at public gatherings he is extremely popular.

Wish Whig Success.
Mrs. C. English, Alliston, Ont., in sending in her subscription to the Whig for another year, writes: "Kingston township is my childhood home, and only for the Whig I wouldn't have the news from there. So many of my old schoolmates were gone. Mrs. (Rev.) J. E. Lidstone is one of my time friends. We were raised in the same neighborhood, went to school together, and were always chums. I wish the newsy Whig every success."

A Home For Soldiers.
The late Mrs. Isabella Miller, Perth, left many bequests of from $5,000 to relatives and institutions and gave her home—the late Hon. J. G. Haggart's place—to Perth to be used as a home for returned soldiers. The Canadian Red Cross and the Muskoka Sanitarium are also beneficiaries.

Mrs. Jean Baptiste Bigras, who died at Ottawa, aged ninety-eight, had 231 direct descendants.

"One Meatless Meal a Day" is a good food slogan for war time, or any time—better make it two meatless meals a day—it would mean health and strength for the nation. But be sure and get the right substitute for meat in a digestible form. Shredded Wheat Biscuit is the ideal substitute for meat. It is 100 per cent. whole wheat prepared in a digestible form. Two or three of these little loaves of baked whole wheat make a nourishing, satisfying meal at a cost of only a few cents. Delicious with milk or cream or fruits of any kind. Made in Canada.
