LIST OF THOSE WHO GAINED DEPARTMENTAL EXAMS.

A Great Many Secured Their Standing Within the Institute—They Have Returned Invigorated and Healthier.

That the pupils as well as the staff of the Kingston Collegiate Institute have been in earnest co-operation with the Greater Production Movement during the summer months was learned from Principal E. O. Sliter on Tuesday morning.

Realizing the pressing need for larger crops not only to supply the soldiers at the front, but also the home population in this time of high prices, the provincial Department of Education issued instructions that students who engaged in greater production work during the summer would be granted their standing in their school work providing they were competent.

As a result of this the majority of the pupils of the local collegiate institute engaged in farm work during the summer, and now have received the fruits of their labors, not only in their advancement to a higher form, but also in a healthier condition derived from working in the fresh air.

A long list of six pupils who passed from one class to another could be compiled, but the names below will show those who secured their standing in various departments.

LATE SISTER ST. CHARLES

BURIAL SERVICE AT HOTEL DIEU TUESDAY MORNING.

Deceased Gave Her Life to Hospital Work, and Reorganized the Hotel Dieu at Windsor, Ont.

Sister St. Charles (O'Connor), whose death occurred Sunday morning, twenty years ago entered the Hotel Dieu, Kingston, and had been since a most active and self-sacrificing member, always deeply interested in the advancement of the hospital in which she took just pride.

She always proved herself heroic in the discharge of her duty, which to her was a labor of love, prompting her to give to it the great administrative facilities of which she was possessed.

Three years ago, in response to a call from Bishop Fallon, she went to Windsor, Ont., as Superior of the Hotel Dieu in that city. The Hotel Dieu Hospital capacities there were then very far short of the demand from the public and required a thoroughly experienced woman to build and renovate.

A happy selection brought Sister St. Charles to Windsor, and though she found it a great sacrifice, she willingly gave her services to this stupendous undertaking. Under her capable management she accomplished the task committed to her so that today there stands a monument to her untiring zeal, in the additions to the hospital. During her stay in Windsor she won all hearts and soothed all ills, thus fulfilling the duties of a perfect hospitalier. Her term of office just terminated one month ago, and she returned to her mother house in Kingston.

In recognition of her great work she was selected by the Community to fill the important office of Assistant Superior. It had pleased God to allow her to occupy this position for the short space of one month. The three years labor she had just accomplished told on her constitution, and she was unable to bear the strain of what proved to be her last illness. To the grief of her sisters in religion she peacefully passed away, leaving behind her the example of a devoted and sacrificing servant of God.

She was born in Deseronto, the daughter of the late Patrick O'Connor, and was educated at Loretto Abbey, where she graduated, and came immediately to enter upon her life's work.

She is survived by two brothers, Fred O'Connor and Frank O'Connor, of Toronto, and by an only sister, Mrs. (Dr.) Moher, also of Toronto.

The following relatives were present at the funeral besides the members of her family: Her cousins from Oswego, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. Quigley, and Mr. and Mrs. Downey, of Brockville. Several sisters from the various communities, besides many of her Kingston friends, attended the funeral.

Archbishop Spratt officiated at the solemn requiem mass in the Hotel Dieu chapel Tuesday morning at eight o'clock. He was assisted by Rev. A. J. Hanley as deacon, Rev. H. J. O'Farrell as sub-deacon, and Rev. J. P. Keogh as high priest. In the sanctuary were Rev. M. McDonald, Portsmouth; Rev. J. P. Fleming, Wolfe Island; Rev. R. Gray, Carleton Place; Rev. C. J. Duffus, Rev. C. J. Mea, Rev. D. A. Casey, Rev. W. Kingsley, Rev. J. V. Meagher, Rev. J. Keane, of the city.

The pall-bearers were: Messrs. O'Connor (her brothers), H. Ryan (cousin), Drs. R. Hanley, C. A. Morrison, and W. Gibson. The remains were interred in St. Mary's cemetery.

OBITUARY

The Late Wellington Young. On Monday night Wellington Young passed away in the Hotel Dieu after an illness extending over three years. Deceased, who resided at 12 Rideau street, was formerly a bookkeeper in the Canadian Locomotive Co. He was taken to the hospital on Thursday last in an effort to strengthen him, but it was unavailing and he passed quietly away.

The late Mr. Young, sixty years of age, had been a resident of Kingston practically all his life, and was well and favorably known.

He is survived by his second wife, one son, Frank, in Toronto, and three daughters, Mrs. Saul Monck, Toronto, Mrs. Charles Scouten, Cleveland, and Mrs. James Milion, Peterborough.

LAD ADMITS THEFT; GAVE MOTHER MONEY

Story Told by Youngster Arraigned Before Magistrate in Juvenile Court.

Faced with a charge of stealing $20 from a neighbor, a small boy admitted the charge before Magistrate Farrell in the Juvenile Court on Tuesday, and declared that he had given the money to his mother. Questioned closely about the matter the youngster stood by his story. As a result the case has been laid over for further investigation.

The boy who lost the money went out into her barn to gather some eggs, and was only gone a few minutes. During her absence the boy slipped into the house and stole the money out of her purse. The case was given over to Constable Arnel, and the latter rounded up the boy as the guilty party.

LEGACIES TO HOSPITAL

Nurses Are Receiving Fire Drill—Vote of Thanks to R. J. Bushell—Finances in Good Condition.

An interesting meeting of the Board of Governors of the Kingston General Hospital was held on Monday afternoon, the following members being present: A. F. Chown (chairman), R. E. Kent, F. G. Lockett, James Crawford, William Anderson, James Berney, Dr. J. C. Connell, N. C. Polson, Jr., R. J. Carson, James A. Minnes, Mayor Hughes and Elmer Davis.

The Committee of Management in their report mentioned that arrangements had been made for the supply of coal during the winter, amounting to fully seven hundred tons.

Special mention was made of the satisfaction the garden had given this season, and a vote of thanks was passed to Robert J. Bushell, the well-known manager of the Kingston Industrial Exhibition, who provided at his own expense all the plants. He and his men set them out, as well as planting all seeds, and refused to take any remuneration whatever.

This being the closing meeting of the financial year, special interest centered around the financial report. Every one present felt exceedingly thankful at the splendid showing. Indeed, it was so satisfactory that the management feel that the public should be more specifically informed concerning it, and this will be done at a very early date.

It was announced that the nurses were now having special lectures as to what they should do in case of fire, and these will be followed by practical drill assisted by one of the fire brigade. The medical superintendent is determined that the nurses shall be well instructed and drilled in this matter.

A nominating committee was appointed composed of the three past and the present chairman to nominate the officers for the coming year, and present their report at the annual meeting which will be held early in November.

Dr. J. C. Connell when discussing the financial statement, used the occasion to call attention to the necessity which is growing more apparent every year for still further accommodation for both public and private patients, and a very interesting half hour was spent in discussing this matter.

R. J. Carson announced to the meeting that in the will of the late William Fee, of which he is one of the executors, $1,000 had been left to the Kingston General Hospital, with the condition attached that it be used towards the furnishing of a ward to be called the Fee Ward. This makes $5,100 left in legacies during this year.

It is one of the rules of the hospital that unless otherwise specified these legacies go to capital account, and are expended on improvements and additions, and not used for current expenses.

The visiting governors were unable to bring a report owing to absence from the city, and were reappointed.

Police Shot Dog That Made Attack on Little Girl.

The soldier felt sorry over the shooting, which was done on the orders of the magistrate, who heard the facts of the case.

The soldier brought the dog to the station, and declared that it was a fine watch dog, and that it would not attack any person unless someone annoyed it.

Special Features

There are certain features — special exclusive features not found in other Player-Pianos — that make the

Heintzman & Co. Player-Piano

"The Different Player-Piano," a distinctive musical creation.

One of these special features is its patented Aluminum Player-Action. The great trouble with the ordinary wooden action player-piano is air leakage in the valves which swell and shrink according to weather and climatic conditions. Being cast from a solid piece of aluminum without joints or seams, this is impossible with this instrument. This feature ensures absolute

PERMANENCE OF TONE and volume under any condition, and makes the player-piano practically "wear-proof" and "trouble-proof." A thorough examination and comparison is invited.
