A YOUNG MAN IS GUILTY

OF CHARGES OF THEFT AND FORGERY MADE AGAINST HIM.

Cashed Cheque That Did Not Belong to Him and Given Him to Post—Was Remanded for a Day—A Thirsty One Was Fined.

"I am guilty, sir," said Douglas Franklin Eastman, arrested for theft and forgery, when arraigned in police court, Friday morning. In the absence of Magistrate Farrell, who is in Toronto, Mayor Hughes handed the scales of justice.

Eastman was handed over to Constable Samuel Arniel Thursday afternoon by the military authorities. He was employed in one of the offices at the armouries, and secured a cheque for $33, which was made out to a Mrs. Usher, and cashed it at the office of one of the local express companies. The letter was given to him to post, and he took the cheque out of the envelope.

The accused said that he was willing to refund the money to the express company. He was remanded for a day.

Michael O'Neil, who felt the pinch of the "dry" spell here yesterday, hit up a lively pace with whiskey he had shipped in from Montreal, and was fined $10 and costs.

A CIVIC WELCOME FOR MAJOR BISHOP

The Famous Canadian Aviator to Arrive in Kingston on Saturday Afternoon.

Major W. A. Bishop, of Owen Sound, the Royal Military College graduate who holds the Victoria Cross, besides other decorations, for his marvelous exploits in the air over the western front, and who has brought down forty-seven German aeroplanes during the past two years, is to arrive in Kingston at 1.40 o'clock Saturday afternoon from Toronto to be the guest of Col. C. N. Perreau at the annual sports of the R.M.C.

The famous Canadian aviator will be tendered a civic welcome by Mayor Hughes on the steps of the City Hall, and members of the Great War Veterans' Association, the Army and Navy Veterans' Association and soldiers and citizens in general are invited to be in attendance to give Major Bishop a hearty welcome on his return to the city where he spent his military school days.

Major Bishop will be accompanied by members of his family, Sir Adam Beck, Mayor Church of Toronto and Major Macdowell, V.C., of Montreal. After the civic welcome the visiting party will proceed to the Royal Military College grounds.

WANTS REPRESENTATIVE

On the Exemption Board Regarding Military Service.

Kingston labor men will ask for representation on the exemption board appointed to deal with conscription.

The matter was under discussion at a meeting of the Trades and Labor Council held on Thursday night, when it was decided to make application to Judge Lavell for representation.

It was pointed out that Kingston was one of several places where labor had not been represented on the board and it was claimed that instructions had been given for the labor men to be represented, the local labor men could not understand why they had been ignored.

E. Cain, the president, who presided, submitted a report on the convention of the recent Dominion Trades Congress at Ottawa, and his announcement that President J. C. Watters had been re-elected by acclamation brought forth rounds of applause.

Hugh Ferguson, who attended the moulder's convention at Rochester, N.Y., also gave a report.

Will Act as Bishop.

According to Bishop Warren, he will act as bishop of the Holiness Movement while Bishop Horner will be permitted to retain his title until the final decision. The general opinion prevailing, however, as far as could be learned by questioning the ministers and sisters present, is that Bishop R. C. Horner will remain the head of the Holiness Movement church in Canada. When the final vote is taken, representatives of the church in Egypt, Africa and wherever the movement extends, will have to be present.

Those entitled to vote are those whose names appeared on the roll call at the Carleton Place conference held in December, 1916, plus the Rev. W. G. Ketcheson, W. G. Burns and G. L. Ralph. The latter names were added in the court after a dispute as to their right to have a vote.

New Sergeant At Arms.

While an appointment is not expected immediately, it is understood that Major Bowie, deputy sergeant-at-arms of the House of Commons, now overseas, will be promoted sergeant-at-arms in place of the late Colonel H. B. Smith. Charles L. Panet will likely be deputy sergeant-at-arms.

Military News

With a comparatively small crowd to greet them home, the largest number returned soldiers to arrive in Kingston in one party from the front, came here on Thursday afternoon. The detachment took place in front of Tete de Pont Barracks, where the military ambulances were drawn up to receive the sixteen cot cases. The soldiers were taken to Queen's Military Hospital, where their records were arranged. Leave was given those who wished to go to their homes in various parts of the district.

The road to Barriefield camp is in dreadful condition since the recent rains. Across the field where light cars now detour there is a sea of mud and many cars only narrowly escaped accident.

Work is being rushed ahead to prepare for the Military Service Act which will likely go into effect in the near future.

Ten men were examined on Friday morning by the medical board at the Base Recruiting Office.

The office of the Chief Recruiting officer is being closed with the advent of compulsory service.

The stenographers and clerks engaged for military service work here are very happy. They start work on the 9th and their pay begins on the 3rd.

The military patients at the Elmhurst and Richardson homes are to be transferred to the Queen's hospital, which is big enough to take care of all.

There is more trouble at the Mowat Hospital, and a number of nurses and others engaged there have sent in their resignations.

Brockville will again become a garrison centre, starting with 400 members of the Railway Construction and Forestry Corps, which will come here from Ottawa to form the basis of a mobilization depot, under command of Major Tidy, M.C. The men will be quartered at the barracks on the 10th and drafts will be sent overseas at intervals throughout the winter.

Dennis Hunt, a well-known young Kingstonian has arrived home, after three years service with the mechanical transport. His health is not of the best and he returned home to recuperate. He was gladly welcomed by his host of friends.

Mobilize Them.

This letter appears in the Belleville Ontario, signed by Walter Alford:

"Would it not be a fitting reward at the present time if the Government called back to the colors all those officers from lieutenant-col. down to second lieutenant, who have been to England and no farther, also all those who have been employed on staff billets, found to be of no further use. Mobilize them at a given point, equip them and send them to France to relieve all those men who have been serving their king and country for three years or more in the Canadian army? As these officers have all had training, they would be eligible for service, and would be only paying back some of the easy money they have had the pleasure of drawing from the public treasury. The men so relieved at the front could be granted six months leave, which would be a fitting reward for the services they have rendered Canada and the Empire."

WAS ONCE BLIND; NOW HE CAN SEE

Wonderful Recovery Has Been Made by Pte. Taylor at Queen's Hospital.

"Why doctor, I can see you this morning all right," said Pte. G. Taylor, as Dr. J. C. Connel called to see him at Queen's Military Hospital on Thursday.

And the fact was revealed that this young soldier, who became blind can see once more, thanks to the good care and attention given him by the specialist, Pte. Taylor, whose home is in Milton, was a member of the Canadian Railway Construction Corps. As he had lost an eye, he was unable to get into the infantry, so took on the next best thing to do his "bit." He was in the hospital owing to illness, when he met with an accident that almost cost him the sight of the good eye. While repairing his boots, his awl slipped, and pierced the member. At first it was thought that he would be totally blind but now comes the encouraging report that he can see, and that he has every chance of having the full use of the one eye.

The Theatres

Great Magician To-night.

Carter, the magician, who will appear with his own company and fifteen tons of accoutrements and apparatus at the Grand to-night and Saturday matinee and night, Oct. 5 and 6, is conceded by all who have seen him to have no rivals, and to even be the peer of all prestidigitators, past and present. Carter, who is visiting the United States for the second time after a two years' tour of the world is a student of the occult; his entertainment is weird and at the same time instructive; old tricks he makes new, he fills his performance with the funniest scenes and most astonishing situations till his audiences everywhere convulse themselves with laughter. Carter's masterpiece is said to be what he calls levitation, described as the most astute, bewildering and hazardous illusion known to magic.

"Sky Pilot."

Popular as Ralph Connor's "The Sky Pilot" and "Black Rock" are, the two novels having sold more than two million copies, the play, which has been adapted from them by Frank Mandel and George H. Brennan, seems destined to enjoy equal public favor. The adapters are reported to have been successful in transferring to the stage some of the most striking situations and characters in these two stories. Many familiar Ralph Connor creations appear in the play. "The Sky Pilot" will be presented at the Grand Opera House on Wednesday, Oct. 10th, matinee and night, with a cast of stellar quality, including Brandon Tynan, Regina Wallace, Ernest Anderson, Harry D. Southard, Eddie Heron, Louis Leon Hall, Eliza Frederic, Isabelle Winlocke, Edwin Caldwell, Joseph Lawrence, Thomas Wall and Edward Broadley.

At The Strand.

"The Innocent Sinner," which opened at the Strand last evening was exhibited before a capacity audience. "The Innocent Sinner," is a William Fox production, a powerful drama with many heart throbs depicting how the human heart can forgive an innocent sinner—a girl who had been led into wrong doing by the lying tongue of wickedness. "Fatty" Arbuckle in "His Wedding Night" also held the boards and furnished much amusement for the large audience present. This programme will be exhibited again to-night and Saturday.

At Griffin's.

A capacity audience last night greeted the first presentation of the remarkable double bill, and one and all pronounced the headliner "The Crisis" an accurate and highly artistic reading of Winston Churchill's novel of the Civil War. The Selig company has made "The Crisis" the most brilliant production of its active career, showing the wonderful scenes in a superb and spectacular manner with accuracy and the effectiveness that comes from real creative realization. Sessue Hirakawa is co-starred with winsome little Vivian Martin in a second feature picture "Forbidden Paths," which is delightfully charming from beginning to end. The seventh episode of "The Neglected Wife," balances out one of the best programmes ever seen at this theatre. To-night and to-morrow matinee and night patrons will have an opportunity of witnessing this bill.

Victorian Order of Nurses.

The Victorian Order of Nurses Committee met in St. George's hall Thursday afternoon. The nurse reported having made 162 visits during September. Religious denominations of patients: Anglicans, 14; Roman Catholics, 4; Methodists, 4; Salvation Army, 2; Holiness Movement, 2.

The annual collection is now being made and the committee hope that the collectors will meet with the usual generous response that the people of Kingston give to this worthy cause.
