It is understood that Capt. Carl J. Kane, who went across to England with the 14th Battalion, but had to return because of sickness; Captain W. E. Swaine, who has been doing splendid work as musketry officer at Barrieffield Camp, and Captain L. C. Lockett, who went to England as quartermaster of the 80th Battalion, have been appointed as the military representative of the Exemption Tribunals to sit in the city of Kingston.

Postmaster Stewart is still busy receiving applications for exemption. He has received but very few offers for service overseas. One Mennonite has applied for exemption. According to the regulations, Mennonites are exempt from military service.

By next Saturday at the outside calculation Barrieffield Military Camp will once more become a plain dotted only by a few isolated closed buildings. By next week every soldier who has spent the summer under canvas will be in the city and sleeping either in barracks or at his home.

This year's camp has been small in comparison with that of last year. During the winter months the volunteer recruiting system went down to a very low mark. When this happened the authorities and Parliament commenced the discussion of conscription. After months of waiting the Military Service Act came into force. In the meantime the summer camp has been held "full of potential possibilities," as one officer described it. The possibilities were not realized, however, and only the few men who volunteered under the old system received their training. Things have been at a standstill, and the camp has been very small.

There may probably be a class for N. C. O.'s at the Royal School of Artillery this winter, but it has been practically decided that no officers' class will be held. There is a vast surplus of artillery officers, but qualified N. C. O.'s are urgently needed.

Trumpeters J. D. Sabourne, H. Dooley and A. Buck, 72nd Battery, and C. Hawkins, 73rd Battery, have received their certificates of qualification as first class trumpeters, having qualified at Petawawa Camp.

Sergt.-Major W. G. Bailey has been appointed a first class staff sergt.-major in the Corps of Military Staff Clerks. He is now overseas as a lieutenant of the C. E. F.

Six invalids and twenty-seven men for permanent base duty at Barrieffield Camp and in the city arrived on Saturday morning. An address of welcome was given by the Mayor, Ald. H. W. Newman, acting on behalf of the mayor, who is away.

Major W. H. Magwood has been appointed the military representative on the exemption tribunal for the Cornwall district under the Military Service Act. He went overseas with the 154th Battalion and was invalided home.

The Theatres

At the Grand.
Despite the rainy weather, a large audience witnessed the initial showing of "Aladdin's Other Lamp" at the Grand last evening, and left the theatre highly enthusiastic over the splendid feature. The story is delightful, suitable for young and old, and it cannot be too highly recommended. It is the best production that Viola Dana has ever made. Bessie Eyton was seen in a two-reel jungle picture, "The Sole Survivor," and little Bobby Connelly is delightful in "The Meeting." The latest Pathe News and Miss Phyllis Devlin in several of the latest songs of the day complete as high class a programme as could be wished for by anybody. It will be repeated to-night.

At Griffin's.
Mme. Petrova, the accomplished and world famous artist, will be shown the last time this evening in the highly dramatic photoplay "The Law of the Land." At great effort and expense we have secured this prototypal adaptation of George Broadhurst's famous play, and wish all our patrons to have the pleasure of witnessing the brilliant star, Mme. Petrova at her best in "The Law of the Land." "Little Miss Optimist" featuring Vivian Martin and the eleventh episode of "The Neglected Wife," make up the balance of our programme for this evening.

Coming to Griffin's.
Delightful, piquant Billie Burke in her latest Paramount picture, "The Mysterious Miss Terry," will headline the bill at Griffin's for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next, and is as whimsically charming as ever. From the very first scene that flashes across the screen the picture holds the breathless attention and interest of the spectator. "The Mysterious Miss Terry" is fully up to the Paramount standard, and will undoubtedly prove one of the sensational releases of the season. This is one of the pictures you can't afford to miss. Everyone in the big cities has been talking about Billie Burke in "The Mysterious Miss Terry." This picture is full of romance, but is at the same time one of the funniest, most entirely "human" pictures ever produced.

At the Strand.
For the first three days of next week an exceptionally attractive programme of high-class vaudeville and feature photo-plays has been selected for this popular playhouse. Miss Winifred Evans, Toronto, as Nurse Cavell, will be heard in patriotic songs. Hear her sing the latest patriotic song hits, "Liberty," "When We Wind Up the Watch on the Rhine," and "Nurse Cavell." Bryant Washburn will be seen in his latest Skinner production entitled, "Skinner's Bubble." Mary McAllister in "Do Children Count," a "Musty Suffer" comedy and Gaumont's World Tours will also be shown.

Has Remarkable Career.
No girl in the motion picture realm has had the meteoric rise of Priscilla Dean, who has the principal feminine role in the new Universal serial, "The Gray Ghost," which will be shown for sixteen consecutive weeks at the King Edward Theatre, beginning Monday and Tuesday. Ladies free in the afternoons. (Continued on Page 7.)
