Military News

All men in Class One under the Military Service Act, who on Nov. 11 failed to report for service or to claim exemption will be prosecuted as deserters.

The Army Medical Corps will probably take over in the course of a few weeks the administration of the hospitals where returned soldiers are being treated, is an Ottawa announcement. The work is now being directed by the Military Hospitals Commission. The question has been under consideration for months, and it is understood that this will be done when Sir James Loughheed, chairman of the Hospitals Commission, returns from the west.

Carrying out of this scheme does not involve in any way the effacement of the Hospitals Commission. It is planned that it will go ahead devoting its attention to the vocational training of returned men and adapting them to new methods of employment. The Whig gave this information here two weeks ago.

Hon. F. G. McDiarmid, Minister of Public Works, has announced that the Ontario Government has decided to grant free registration to all returned soldiers who choose the profession of a chauffeur on their return to civil life. It is also expected that the examiners before whom chauffeurs must pass for a test of qualifications before a driver's license is granted will also remit the usual fee of $100 in the case of men returned from the front. The usual registration fee as demanded by the province is $2.00, and this test of the province in favor of the returned soldier will amount in the aggregate to a large sum annually.

Drafts from the Depot Battalion and the Depot Batteries will be leaving the city in the near future.

Over 2025 men have been examined by the medical board at the Base Recruiting Office. It has been estimated that fully 2000 men will yet be examined there. A great number will be men who have applied for exemption or service, but have not had their papers accompanied by their Medical History sheet, in which case they will be notified by the District Registrar to report to the board.

Major Good and Capt. Randall have returned from Ottawa, where they were engaged in vocational duties.

Lieut. H. M. Wanamaker, 67th Battalion, Brighton, was a visitor at headquarters on Thursday.

Brig.-Gen. G. S. Maunsell left on Friday for Ottawa, where he will meet his son and daughter, who have been engaged in patriotic work in England. His son is Lieut. Maunsell, Royal Canadian Engineers, who since his recovery from wounds received in France has been with the engineer training depot in England.

The men of the batteries will from now have the use of the riding school for equitation lessons. There are some fifty horses for each battery and splendid equipment.

Due to the fact that the armouries' floor will be very useful for training the artillery guns which have been stored there are to be moved. Those not in actual use will be stored temporarily.

With reference to the changing of the Military Hospitals' Commission, the military authorities explain that the "command," which is in the jurisdiction of military district No. 3, will become part of a new branch of the adjutant-general's department. The Military Hospital Commission, which is made up of civilians for the most part, will be disbanded. The change will have no apparent effect here except in the interior administration, the officers of which here have been very efficient and satisfactory.

Lieut.-Col. J. N. S. Leslie, inspector of artillery, left on Thursday for Halifax on duty.

Capt. C. F. Williams has been taken on the strength of the Army Medical Corps Training Depot.

Nursing Sister F. M. Connerty has been taken on the strength of the C.E.F.

Sergt. H. H. Weese, Depot Battalion; Corp. J. C. Taylor, Depot Battalion; Corp. J. E. Harten, 14th Regiment; Ptes. C. H. Robertson, Special Service; H. McMillan, Depot Battalion; H. Lear, Depot Battalion; J. Gilbey, 2nd Battalion; and Fairbairn, Special Service, have been granted certificates of military qualification as sergeants.

Forty-nine invalided soldiers left Halifax for the city at 11.30 a.m. Thursday, under Lieut. H. F. Arthur.

The following convalescent soldiers who have arrived at Quebec will probably be leaving Quebec for Kingston about Saturday: Corp. M. R. Pow, Pte. J. Conway, G. Hollis, C. H. Murphy, T. Smith, Ottawa; Corp. F. A. Dainton, Pte. J. E. Brady, J. McCormick, Peterboro; Sergt. H. H. Barker, Brockville; W. J. Andrews, Norwood; C. Armitage, S. Duntobin, P. E. Skuce, Barry's Bay; S. Mallett, Hull.

"Green Stockings" Caste. The following students have secured places on the caste of "Green Stockings," which is to be produced by Queen's University Dramatic Club: A. L. Blacklock, G. E. Kelly, J. M. Givens, T. P. Ove, J. M. Munroe, G. Stevenson, W. Friedgut, Miss May Gemmill, Miss Vincent Moffat, Miss Dorothy Mickle, Miss Gwen Gauley, and Miss Mabel Johnston.

Canadian Casualties. Died of wounds—W. A. Ferriter, Perth. Wounded—D. Cowhars, Burk's Falls; P. W. Laidley, Belleville. Wounded and gassed—W. Michand, Belleville.

Diamond Laxative Cold Tablets. Break up a cold in 24 hours. 25c a box. Frouse's Drug Store.

The Theatres

Censorboard Approves Nature.

In the matter of action, "The Spoilers" is most momentous. It is doubly significant that both the National Board of Censors, and the Chicago Local Board, which is very exacting, say the "reflex of nature so admirably pictured that it passed all these big events as worthy of saving, as showing the very atmosphere of the rugged life in the conquest of a new country where conditions were primitive, and the situations altogether unusual. It would appear that the ancient aphorism, "neither God nor law existed north of 53," had been tried out and banished, for this work was reformative, and led to the establishment of law and order, the recognition of the powers in civilization which bow to Divinity.

The gun-play in the streets of Nome, the ready resort to the good right arm to settle disputes, the tense and feverish crowds that hang over the gambling tables where fortunes in dust were swept away in a single night's play, all have their part in this big drama of realities. This mighty feature will be seen at the Grand for three days commencing Monday, November 5th.

At The Strand. Despite the unfavorable weather last evening a large and appreciative audience attended the Strand and viewed a bill of exceptional merit. Heading the boards, Madge Kennedy, the famous comedienne of "Twin Beds" and "Fair and Warmer" was seen to advantage in her first screen vehicle "Baby Mine" adopted from the international stage success by Margaret Mayo. "Baby Mine" is the first offering of the New Goldwyn productions in Kingston. It is a sweet wholesome comedy of the life of a misunderstood young wife who gets tangled up in the meshes of her own guileless deception, and has no end of trouble extricating herself. Comedy and tropical reels were also shown. This programme will be exhibited again to-night and Saturday.

At Griffin's. A marvellous photoplay production was the verdict passed upon "The Submarine Eye" by the large audience which packed Griffin's to the doors last evening, where this stupendous picture heads a most fascinating bill. "The Submarine Eye" is a deep sea romance of sunken treasure, men-eating sharks, and castaways. Thrills vie with the wonders nature has wrought beneath the waves for the spectators attention. "Buller" a native diver of the West Indies, braves a school of sharks to rescue the diver of the treasure hunting expedition, who is trapped under water at a depth of sixty feet. This is only one of the many enthralling episodes of this wonderful picture.

NEWSPAPER MEN EXEMPTED.

Operation of Newspaper Essential For Winning of War.

Joseph M. Stephenson, business manager of the South Bend (Ind.) News-Times was recently granted exemption from service in the draft army, on the ground that "the operation of a newspaper is just as essential for the winning of the war as fighting in the trenches, and that he could not be spared from his newspaper duties."

Gabriel R. Summers, father-in-law of Mr. Stephenson, and principal owner of the News-Times, made a written statement in which he claimed "discharge from liability for military service for the said Joseph M. Stephenson upon the ground that he is engaged in an industrial enterprise necessary to the maintenance of the military establishment or the effective operation of the military forces or the maintenance of the national interest during the emergency."

The above article is clipped from Editor and Publisher, New York, the foremost organ in the United States of the newspaper industry. From another source comes the information that Michael A. Gorman, city editor of the Saginaw (Mich.) Daily News, has been granted discharge from active service on the ground that he was necessary to a position considered to be essential to the successful operation of the nation in time of war.

On Exemption Board.

It was announced on Friday afternoon that Charles F. Smith, employed in the offices at the pentagon, had been appointed to serve on the exemption board in Kingston. He will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of B. Noble Steacy.
