CHINESE STUDENT PLAYS FOOTBALL. Pao-Shun Kwan Makes Place on the Polytechnic Institute Team.

The "Yellow Peril" is abroad again. If the news that comes from Troy, N.Y., is true.

Pao-Shun-Kwan, a full-blooded Chinese, is making the young fellows who play football at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute sit up and take notice. Kwan is a regular fellow. Possessing a smile that is "chick-like and bland" to use the words of the Rensselaer publicity bureau, the Mongolian is still as rough and ready on the football field. Kwan's regular job is running the second team in practice, but he's going so well of late that he manages to break into every game that Rensselaer starts. He was given his first opportunity in the game against New York University, and played in such brilliant style that the coaches complimented him. The Chinese athlete is the fleetest man on the Rensselaer team.

This is not Kwan's first year in football. He played as quarter on the Rensselaer freshman team a year ago, and before that he played at Mercersburg Academy, though he was not a regular there. Kwan, who is quiet and a first-class student, plays the game for the fun and exercise he gets out of it. His case is just one more example of what "plugging" will do in athletics.

The surprise occasioned by a Chinese making good in athletics is less now than it was a decade ago, and there's reason to believe that a few years hence the men from the great republic in the far east will be looked upon as among the world's leaders in amateur sports. The east is making large and rapid strides in all forms of sports. The far eastern Olympic games held each year in one of the capitals of the orient, are bringing out the young men of the eastern nations in thousands, and it's only a natural consequence that within another decade democratic China especially will be knocking at the door of big athletic achievements.

Quebec N.H.A. Prospects.
Quebec Chronicle: "So far as Quebec is concerned they have just as good prospects as any team in the league. For goal, if Moray should not be available, there is a bunch of young goal-tenders in line from which the locals can make a selection which will equal the work of some of the best in the league. On the defence, Harry Mummery of the Canadas is still Quebec property and is subject to recall. With Crawford as his side partner, Mummery will have more chance to shine than he ever did, while Crawford will be able to act as a fourth forward. Mummery's great blocking ability being as appreciated to lend more confidence to the offensive of the team. For the forward line, Dave Ritchie, George Carey, Joe Malone, Jack McDonald, Johnson, Walter Mummery and Jack Marks are still Quebec property, while 'Joe' Hall may be back. Add to this some city league talent which it is expected the club will bring out, and you have just as strong an aggregation of players as the Ancient Capital has ever had on their list at the beginning of a season."

To Coach Yankee Pitchers.
It is reported that "Paddy" Livingston, who succeeded "Bill" Friel as manager of the Milwaukee team late last season has agreed to join Manager Miller Huggins, of the New York Yankees, to act as coach for the Yankee pitchers. "Lefty" Liebold is slated to succeed Livingston at Milwaukee.

The War in Golf Terms.
The war will be over when the Allies stand three up and two to play. And if necessary, the bye holes will be played out, in case the Kaiser expresses any doubt about the final score.

The newest story out of the American Association is that if the proposed merger with the International falls through Louisville and Indianapolis will seek to transfer their baseball activities to the Southern League. It's a long cry from Indianapolis to Atlanta or New Orleans, but a worse move could be made at that. Louisville and Indianapolis in place of Mobile and Little Rock would give the southern class AA rating and make it as near a major league in the matter of interest and article of ball played as could be found.

FAVORS N.H.A.'S SCHEME.

Endorses Move to Reorganize—Agrees to Continue Pact.

The four-team hockey league which is reported as proposed for the east will be quite acceptable to the Pacific Coast Association provided the composition is the same, according to a wire sent east by President Frank Patrick. Patrick was asked by wire what the attitude of the coast association would be toward the new league if it were formed by the present clubs, especially in connection with the Stanley Cup and the signing of players.

Mr. Patrick stated that as long as the composition of the league is the same as formerly he will offer no objection, and adds that personally he would favor a four-team league as against one of five teams as operated in the east last winter. A five-team league is too difficult to handle, he said, and meant that one team was always idle, and he gave them all about three matches had to be played each week.

TENER WILL STICK

Will Remain at Head of the National League.

John K. Tener, whose five-year term as President of the National League of Baseball Clubs expires next month, has accepted an invitation to extend a week ago by three club presidents to remain in office. Those who extended the invitation were Presidents Hempstead, New York; Ebbets, Brooklyn, and Baker, Philadelphia. There is no other candidate for the presidency, and the election will take place at the annual meeting of the league in this city on December 11th.

The term of Mr. Tener's new contract has not been decided on, it was announced, but either a two-year or a five-year contract will be signed, the question having been left for Mr. Tener. John Heydler, Secretary-Treasurer of the league, also was invited to continue in office.

DEPENDING ON SOLDIERS.

Hamilton Hockey Club Offered Services of Enlisted Men.

Lieut. Glazier will assist the Hamilton Hockey Club in putting a strong team on the ice this winter. He claims that there are a number of good players in the ranks of the soldiers quartered at the barracks, and he thinks that he will be able to fill the gaps caused by members of last year's team going overseas or preparing to go to a nicety.

Lieut. Glazier is the leading officer, so far as sports are concerned, and he leaves no stone unturned in his efforts to supply the boys with all kinds of clean recreation. Among the athletes quartered here are some good boxers, and Lieut. Glazier is arranging to have some of them appear at the Mounted Rifles' show later on.

STANDS NO SHOW

At All With Young Woman in Real Court Battle.

Jim Coffey, the Roscommon Giant, may be all right in the heavyweight class, but he certainly looked like thirty cents when he stacked up against the young lady who brought suit against him for breach of promise in the New York courts the other day.

Jim went down and out for the count, and it was a contest in which the loser not alone got nothing, but had to pay besides.

The purse in this case was $50,000 and evidently the young lady shot in some hefty punches, because Jim decided to quit, and, it is said, is willing to be let off if she'll just take $10,000 and forget it.

Ty Cobb Not for Movies.

Ty Cobb's one whirl at the movie game convinced him that an outfielder's place is the outfield—not in front of a camera. "Two more days," says Tyrus, "and I'd have been hearing funny noises or headed for the nearest river." A world series or a pennant race is no strain at all to this movie game, where the average waste is 17 hours a day, not including the seven for meals and sleep.

Christy Mathewson's week as a Liberty Loan bond salesman got a big start. The first man he signed up was Max Fleischman, young Cincinnati millionaire and baseball fan, who took $50,000 in bonds at Matty's request. Fleischman is doing more than give his money to the Government, for he has enlisted in the aviation corps.

Sporting Notes

Harry Greb, the Pittsburgh middleweight, has offered Al McCoy $1,000 to sign articles calling for a battle to a referee's decision.

Howard Drew, the great negro sprinter, has entered Drake university and joined the variety football team.

Harry Hyland, the Montreal Wanderer hockey player, has passed the medical board, and is listed in class "A" under the Military Act. He will not claim exemption, and the Wanderer squad looks very poor for the start of a season.

Champion Henry Leonard has been matched with Sailor Kirke for a ten-round bout at Denver, Col., on Thanksgiving Day. Kirke is the best lightweight in the Rocky Mountain region.

"Mike" O'Dowd, of St. Paul, out-fought Frank Carbone, of Brooklyn, in every round of a ten-round bout in Brooklyn.

It is estimated that almost a mile of thread rubber is necessary in the making of one of the little white golf balls.

Chattanooga automobile enthusiasts are talking of forming a tri-state association to hold automobile races at county and state fairs in the south.

Gaston Etrobino, of Paterson, N.J., who finished third for the United States in the 1912 Olympic Marathon race at Stockholm, Sweden, has enlisted in the United States army.

It didn't take President Garry Herrmann of the Reds long to spike the yarn that Charley Herzog might return to Cincinnati as a second baseman.

What with his salary as a baseball player and his interests in business

AS CHARLIE SAYS:

If your purse deny you two ARA-BELAS a day, smoke but one. At least you will get one good cigar a day.

enterprises. Poor Ty Cobb the Detroit Demon, only makes $50,000 a year. His salary as a player is $20,000 per season. Who couldn't play ball for that kind of a salary.

Rupert Mills, first baseman for the Denver club last season and rated about the best in the western loop, has joined the army as a volunteer. Mills is the former collegian who won notice by his insistence that the Newark Feds keep a contract with him. The club refused to meet its obligations unless Mills reported every day at the ball park for practice, and for almost an entire summer following the collapse of the Feds he showed up as ordered and took his daily workout. Seeing that he meant business the Fed backers settled with him.
