KERENSKY IS IN CONTROL OF PART OF PETROGRAD

Gains Complete Victory Over the Maximalists - Lennie Has Failed To Form a Cabinet - The Maximalists Will Soon Be Driven Completely Out.

(Canadian Press Despatch) Copenhagen, Nov. 13.—Premier Kerensky's troops are in control of part of Petrograd, especially Nevsky Prospekt, according to a telegram received by the Stockholm News Agency and forwarded to Copenhagen.

Kerensky Gains Victory. (Canadian Press Despatch) London, Nov. 13.—A despatch from Copenhagen says that travellers arriving in Saporanda, Sweden, from Russia, confirm the report that Premier Kerensky has gained a complete victory over the Bolsheviks.

Failure of Lennie. Stockholm, Sweden, Nov. 13.—A bloody encounter has taken place near Gatchina between soldiers from the front, headed by Premier Kerensky, and Bolshevik forces from Petrograd, according to advices from Nelson Morris, the American Minister, from reliable sources.

Travelers arriving on the frontier from Russia report that the attempt of Nikolai Lennie to form a cabinet in Petrograd failed; that the Foreign Office officials refused to accept Leon Trotsky as Foreign Minister, and that in Moscow another government has been proclaimed, and it is feared there will be much bloodshed.

In Finland the travelers are reported as saying the situation is desperate. Anarchy is on the increase, and acts of violence and even murder committed on the streets by the Maximalists are a frequent occurrence.

Kerensky Too Weak. Washington, Nov. 13.—One of the encouraging signs seen here in the news from Russia is the mention of Prof. Paul N. Milukoff as one of those associated with the new Provisional Government rising at Moscow. Prof. Milukoff, who was Foreign Minister in the original Provisional Government, formed after the overthrow of the Czar, is well known in this country and is regarded as one of the strongest men in Russia.

Confidence is stronger than ever among officials and diplomats that the Bolsheviks soon will be driven out of control at Petrograd, and that in time a Government really representative of Russia's aspirations will take the reins with a firmer grip than the Kerensky regime was able to establish.

It is predicted that while Premier Kerensky will continue to be one of the chief figures in the reorganized Ministry, he will not again exert the almost dictatorial powers he assumed when he became commander-in-chief of the army.

Korniloff Leads Kerensky Troops. Washington, Nov. 13.—A cablegram received here to-day from Petrograd, via Paris, says that the National News publishes a cable by Kerensky dated from Gatchina, announcing his arrival there at the head of loyal troops and ordering all units of the garrison who had joined the Bolsheviks to return immediately to their duties.

Claims Kerensky's Defeat. (Canadian Press Despatch) London, Nov. 13.—Complete defeat of Premier Kerensky and General Korniloff is claimed in the Russian communication received here by the British Minister fighting near Tarskoo Selo, the revolutionary army completely defeated the counter-revolutionary forces of Kerensky and Korniloff yesterday, says the announcement. "The Soldiers and Workmen's deputies have ordered that all measures necessary to be taken for the capture of Kerensky, who is retreating before our offensive."

LYDD GEORGE CREATES STIR

By Referring to the "Incredible Blunders" of the Allies.

HIS SPEECH IN PARIS

ENDORSED IN THE MAIN BY SOME LONDON PAPERS.

Humor Has It That Field Marshal Haig and Gen. Robertson, Chief of General Staff are to be Retired. (Canadian Press Despatch) London, Nov. 13.—The speech made yesterday by Lloyd-George in Paris has made a stir in the local press where his references to the Allies' "incredible blunder" and other matters are printed under sensational headlines. Comment on the speech is mixed up with criticism of the new Allied War Council as announced here yesterday by Chancellor Bonar Law. Some of the newspapers endorse the speech in the main or are non-committal. Others criticize adversely the new military plan and accuse the Premier of wishing to take over the strategic direction of the Allied campaign.

Lloyd George's Address. Premier Lloyd George, at a luncheon in Paris yesterday, alluding to a centralized direction of the Allied efforts, said: "Unfortunately we did not have time to consult the United States or Russia before creating this council. The Italian disaster necessitated action without delay to repair it. This made it indispensable to commence right now with the powers whose forces may be employed on the Italian front. But in order to assure the complete success of this great experiment, which I believe is essential to the victory of our cause, it will be necessary that all our great Allies be represented in the deliberations. I am persuaded that we shall obtain the consent of these two great countries and their co-operation in the work of the Inter-allied Council."

Lloyd George discussed for considerable length the reasons for not taking the step earlier. He referred to "timidities and susceptibilities" when it came to treating questions of any front not commanded by generals taking part in the inter-allied consultations. The Allies had committed a great fault, he said, in not adequately assisting Serbia in holding her line, with the result that the Central empires broke the blockade and procured men and supplies from the east, without which Germany doubtless would have been unable to maintain the forces of her armies.

"The war has been prolonged by partitionism. It will be shortened by solidarity. If the effort to organize our united action becomes a reality, I have no doubt as to the issue of the war."

TO ARREST ALL MEN NOT REPORTING

District Registrar Will Refer Cases to the Crown Attorney to Take Action.

Major Cooke, district registrar, is receiving anonymous letters from people all through this district giving him the names of eligible men under the Military Service Act who have not and do not intend to report for service. The Whig learns that it is the intention of the Department of Justice to take the strongest action in these cases as an example to the remainder. There are some regulations under consideration to allow a man to report for service at the Depot Battalion for the next few days. After that every man, whether medically unfit or not, will be subjected to the punishment which any other absentee from the Canadian Expeditionary Force receives. In all probability there will be some of these cases started by the crown attorney in the near future.

Renfrew, Nov. 13.—The Mercury learns that the contract has been let to a mill machinery company to repair and place in modern condition the stone and brick flour mills that were formerly operated by the Renfrew Milling Company and that have been out of commission for some years past. The mill will be owned and operated by M. J. O'Brien, Limited, but as this business will be one of a chain of three mills linked up in business—one at Saskatoon, Sask., one at Strome, Alberta, and one at Renfrew—it may be that the name of the Interprovincial Flour Mills will be used as the business caption. The mills are expected to be ready for operation early in the new year.

OVER $250,000 IS RAISED IN FIRST DAY'S CAMPAIGN

Big Victory Loan Parade on Monday Evening Followed by an Enthusiastic Citizens' Meeting in the City Hall, Where Patriotic Addresses Were Delivered.

More than half the population of Kingston was on the streets on Monday evening to witness the finishing touches put upon the inaugural of the Victory Loan campaign, and if organization, including demonstrations and addresses, will get results, Kingston should more than raise its allotted share of the Victory Loan, viz., $600,000.

Following the Monday morning inaugural of whistle-blowing, bell-ringing and gun-firing, and a day of successful canvass of portions of the city came the great military and automobile parade at seven o'clock in the evening when fully 15,000 people lined the streets to view the demonstration. With bands playing, bugles blowing, horns trumpeting their various sounds and hundreds of other noises to break any stillness which might still have been left in the night air, one of the biggest parades ever seen here moved through the streets to show the people that the launching of Canada's fourth and Victory Loan had taken place and that they should go to the big meeting that was to be held at the City Hall.

The route of the parade was from the market square, along King, up Princess, along University avenue to Brock street, along Barrie, down Princess, along Wellington, down Johnson street, along King street and to the market square.

Composition of the Parade. The parade was a magnificent success. It was headed by two trumpets which took their places a few feet ahead of the car which bore Brig.-Gen. T. D. R. Hemming, accompanied by Col. G. Hunter O'Leary, A.A.G., and Major T. Ashmore Kidd, D.A.A. and Q.M.G. The first two trumpeters were from the R.C. H.A., and immediately behind the car which bore the G.O.C. were four mounted trumpeters from the Depot batteries.

The next in the line were the cadets from the Royal Military College. Following the cadets came the band of the Royal Canadian Horse

Artillery and the Depot of that unit. These artillerymen and those of the Depot Batteries, which immediately followed were also heartily applauded for their splendid showing.

Lieut. T. Scott was in command of No. 5 Field Company, Canadian Engineers, which was in the line of march behind the artillerymen.

The returned soldiers, who were able to march, formed a gallant and well appearing body behind the Engineers, singing popular melodies. The crowd welcomed them in a most cordial way.

The First Depot Battalion, commanded by Major J. L. Newman, made a fine showing with its band to lead it. The battalion looks good, particularly in the thousands of young men along the line of march who will soon be wearing the uniform.

Major A. E. Bywater commanded No. 3 Special Service Company for the parade and it turned out well. The majority of these men have seen service and received the applause accorded to the other veterans on the march.

The Canadian Army Service Corps was a splendid feature of the parade. The men of the company were in front, and were followed by every available transport of the service. One of the big Kelly trucks was transformed into a tank as used in France, and this was certainly the best exhibition of the evening. Decorators on each side with flags and on the back with a big poster pointing out the duty of every person now—to buy a Victory bond—it was a credit to the designers.

Following the "tank," the Mowat Memorial Hospital boys had a car which blazed forth the picture of the trenches. It showed two big headlights striking their blazing illumination into the air to represent the parapet of the trenches of Flanders.

The Salvation Army band made its usual fine showing. J. Burns also had his boys in the line to furnish excellent music for the marching. The 14th Regiment band under Bandmaster Hunt was a pleasant surprise to the many friends of the regiment.

The veterans who were not in uniform and those unable to walk were in cars at this point of the parade. Under Lieut. Devlin, St. Mary's (Continued on Page 3.)
