THE CONFESSIONS OF ROXANE

(By Frances Walter)

KENNETH MEETS FAILURE

(Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"What do you wish me to do?" asked Mr. Gordon presently.
"There is but one thing that I can ask you to do," I replied after a moment's reflection. "That is to release Mr. Higginbotham's property."
"I suppose it can be arranged through your husband," he replied carelessly. "We will talk about it when he returns, which I hope will be soon, for I shall have to leave here at once."
"I am expecting a telegraph or telephone message from him tonight," I told him. "If he succeeds in inducing some of his friends to stand sponsor for Mr. Higginbotham, I am sure he will return tomorrow. If he does not he may remain in Chicago several days."

"I shall see Mr. Holman in the morning, I hope," he said, as he moved toward the door.
"I am glad to hear of that," said Mr. Gordon promptly. "As I have said, the matter can be arranged without trouble. I shall tell him merely that I have changed my mind about the investment and that he can have the stock if he wants it."
"I assume that Mr. Higginbotham will be glad to take it off his hands when he can be found. If he isn't, then Mr. Holman can make whatever disposition of it he sees fit. In any case, I can do no more than follow your wishes in the matter. Later on, if you insist upon declining to accept the estate, I shall, as I have said, be compelled to turn it into court and when that happens its management will be out of my hands."

I opened my mouth to thank him but he held up his hand.
"You owe me no gratitude," he said. "It really was officious of me to undertake to manage your affairs without consulting you. My only excuse was that I wished to see that your investments were good ones and that you should get as much as possible out of them."
"But I do owe you a great deal of gratitude," I told him, my eyes shining and my face speaking my thanks very plainly.
"But he would not allow me to proceed."

Mother and Children Had Awful Coughs

Were Cured by DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP

Mrs. Arthur Appleyard, Novar, Ont., writes: "This past winter my children and I had awful colds and coughs which we got by being in drafts. I tried a number of different remedies for us, but got no relief. I thought I would try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and I found it a most excellent and sure cure. It gave relief to the tickling in the throat and stopped the cough and with a few bottles we were all cured."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is a remedy that has been on the market for over twenty-five years, and we can recommend it as being, without doubt, the best cure for coughs and colds that you can possibly procure.

There are a lot of imitations on the market, so when you ask for "Dr. Wood's" see that you get it. Put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark; price 25c a bottle; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

disconsolate voice came to me over the telephone I knew that he had failed in his search.
"Take the first train home," I cried to him excitedly.
"What do you mean?" was his anxious query in return. "What has happened?"

"Nothing," I returned illuminatingly, "but take the first train home. Everything is all right."
Of course Kenneth did not understand and as I could not explain to him in detail what had transpired between Mr. Gordon and me, it was a very much perplexed man who finally hung up the receiver with the announcement that he would take me at my word and return at once. And when he asked how I knew that Mr. Gordon had decided that he did not want Mr. Higginbotham's railroad and had decided not to squeeze Mr. Higginbotham and the other coal mine owners until they gave up as much of their wealth as Mr. Gordon wanted.
"Sufficient unto the day," I quoted at length, after toasting for an hour or two in bed. "If the worst comes to the worst I shall tell Kenneth everything. If it does not, then I shall get out of it the best way I can."
I turned over and soon fell into a sound sleep.

BATTERSEA'S YOUNG MEN

Are Hiding Themselves to Harrow-smith for Exemption.
Battersea, Nov. 13.—This beautiful fall weather is greatly appreciated by the farmers, and they are making good use of it by getting their belated ploughing done.

Ernest Traves and his men are also making up for lost time, and if the fair weather but last another week they will have the good road completed to the village.
Last week Battersea's hale and hearty young men were hiking to the city for registration and medical examination. This week they are hiking to Harrow-smith looking for exemption, with but two exceptions.

A few local gun men who went simply down to the foot of the lake to stalk for big game instead of away in the northland, returned with three deer, three foxes and a weasel. How's that for local shooting.
A quartette of city sports en route to the lake in an automobile on Saturday night recently, well supplied with arms and ammunition for a duck hunt the next day, while speeding along at a forty-mile clip suddenly came to grief by their car turning turtle in the ditch.
The occupants were badly shaken up. One of them, said to be a barber, had his hip broken and had to be conveyed to a nearby farmer's house while help was summoned from the city. The car was also badly broken.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Ervin Caird, of Keelerville, who died after undergoing an operation in the General Hospital recently, was held on Tuesday, the service being conducted in the Methodist church here by Rev. Mr. Collins.
Miss Ethel Clark has purchased the general store of Mrs. Mary Lake. The latter has removed to the residence of Mrs. Annie Knapp. Mrs. Collins and Miss Ethel Ormabee were the delegates representing our Sunday school at the P.E.S. convention at Peterboro last week.
Charles Holder has purchased sixty-five fine ewe sheep from W. McAdoo for a handsome price.

HEPBURN HAS RESIGNED

As the Conservative Candidate for Prince Edward.
Picton, Nov. 14.—A cable has been received from the military authorities overseas definitely refusing to release Lieut.-Col. B. R. Hepburn, the former member for this county, from his duties as second in command of the Forestry Division, in view of the fact that Canada for the approaching election campaign. Col. Hepburn has therefore decided to resign his nomination as candidate for Prince Edward and has forwarded his resignation in favor of a Tory candidate for the seat. In view of the fact that a Unionist mass meeting has been called for Saturday next, Nov. 17th, to be held in the Town Hall, Picton, for the purpose of nominating Col. Hepburn as a Unionist candidate who is an absolute supporter of the Union Government.

It's Great To Be Married.

Jane Doe, in Pearson's Weekly, "It's great to be married. Isn't it just!"
Especially when you feel like a rainbow.
Ever get like that?
Blue with the pip.
Brown with boredom.
White with anger.
A nasty salmon pink with remorse.
Green with envy.
Well, when you get that colorful feeling all in one it is nice to know there's one nice man, with a nice strong face, who will give you a nice, big hug, and say in a nice quiet way:
"Buck up, kiddie."
And you buck up.
And lots quicker if he tells you how sweet-tempered you are, how lovable, patient, and big-hearted.
With all of which you agree and sit on his knee and brazenly fish for more.
When I come to think of it, I don't think there is any more contented person on this earth than the Happy Married Woman.
Other folks nudge each other and say:
"What could he have seen in her. Such a good-looking man, too. Why, she hasn't even got a decent skin, let alone a figure."

DIED OF SHRAPNEL WOUND.

The Late Pte. William Turand, a Delta Young Man.

Delta, Nov. 12.—A message re-shrapnel wound in the stomach. Deceased was a native of England and came here to Delta, Ontario, where he had died in France from a wound received here during the war. He was a member of the Delta Young Men's Association, and was a very popular man. He was married to Miss Atkins. He resided in Soperston where he enlisted. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife and four small children, who reside here.

Miss Irene Brahman, Athens spent the week-end the guest of Miss Gladys Kilborn. A large congregation gathered to hear Miss Parker in the Methodist church on Sunday evening. She very ably spoke on missions and aroused much enthusiasm. Misses Lucile Whitmore, Laura Hayward and Loren Phelps visited relatives on Sunday last week. Miss Florence Simms, Lyndhurst, is the guest of Miss Vera Whitmore. Miss Mary Roddick is spending a few days with her aunt, Mrs. H. N. Phelps. A number from here attended the funeral of Dr. Bright at Athens on Sunday. Special meetings are being held this week for the young people of the Methodist League. Dr. I. Wood called on friends here to-day.

Hagerty-McKane Nuptials.

The marriage took place on Nov. 8th at St. James' rectory, Kingston, by Rev. T. W. Savary. Mrs. Olive May, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. McKane, became the bride of H. J. Hagerty, son of Mrs. E. Hagerty, Brewer's Mills. The bride wore a charming suit of navy blue serge and that of grey and silver lace, and the groom's gift a set of red fox furs. The bridesmaid, Miss Margaret E. Arniel, was attired in a suit of Russian green with hat to match. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a beautiful cameo brooch, and to the best man, H. A. Milburn, a pair of gold cuff links. After the ceremony the happy couple returned to the home of the bride, where a luncheon was served. The happy couple left for Toronto and Hamilton, and on their return will reside in Belleville.

Bath Road Young Man Killed

Bath Road, Nov. 13.—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Redmond, Bath Road, received a letter from William Parker, Leicester, England, stating that his son, Gunner S. W. Parker, had been killed in action on Oct. 20th. The dead hero, who was only nineteen years of age, enlisted in Kingston with the 53rd Battery, C. F. A., in July, 1915, and went overseas in October of the same year. He had been in Mr. Redmond's employment some time previous to his answer to his country's call, for which he gave his all. He was a very promising young man.

Given a Farewell.

Misses G. Thompson and V. Woodrow were hostesses at a very delightful farewell dance given in honor of Pte. Sammy Hall, who leaves for overseas shortly. Dancing and singing were indulged in. Refreshments being served at eleven o'clock. Those present were: Misses Bertha Hall, Myra Bennett, Vera Campbell, Hilda Leach, Annie Edwards, Lulu Tisdale, Ina Campbell, Flo Woodrow, Flossie Sherman, Mrs. McDonnell, Sergt. Redd, Sergt. Murray, Pte. Bruce Hall, Sergt. McCready, Reg. Beamsell, Eason Freeman, Mr. Murray, Sergt. Smith, Vin Fowler, Pte. Whitman, Henry Barnes, Jack Bauden.

A little learning is a dangerous thing—especially if it is something a man's wife has learned about him.

Face Peeling Habit Becoming Fashionable

Women of fashion had returned to this country as in Europe seem to have been acquiring the mercurized wax face peeling habit and have upon cosmetics for their complexion difficulties. It does seem a lot easier to just peel off the worn-on skin than to use cream, applying at night, washing it off next morning. The wax takes off the old scurf skin in tiny flakes, a little each day. This new under-skin which gradually appears, is brightly soft and beautifully white, radiant with girlish loveliness. Any surface blemishes, like chaps, pimples, red or yellow patches, freckles, etc., vanish of course with the discarded cuticle.

If your home is well-furnished

AND you are planning to buy a phonograph, you will appreciate the beautiful appearance of the Pathephone, for nothing is more discordant—more jarring, than a plain, often ugly, cabinet in a home that is otherwise tastefully furnished. In attaining the supreme achievement in musical perfection, the makers of the Pathephone have also produced art objects of beauty in the Pathe cabinets—worthy temples of the music that pours from them. The very loveliness of their artistic appearance is a delight to their aesthetic sense, and enhances the pleasure of their possession. In addition to the regular Pathephone models designed by men with life-long experience in producing high-class furniture, exquisite examples of furniture periods most famous in history have been selected as models for Pathe Period cabinets. If your home is not already furnished in period design, a Pathephone would make a most excellent beginning. Choose from one of the following designs: Queen Anne, Louis XVI, Sheraton, Adam, William and Mary.

Pathephone

The Supreme Achievement

Supreme Musically
With its wonderful, rich tone, enhanced by the Pathe method of recording and the reproducing by means of a smooth, Saphire Ball that never wears out, instead of cheap, scratchy needles. The Pathe is equipped to play all makes of disc records. All disc-playing machines may be equipped to play Pathe records.

Supreme in Appearance

The new Pathe Cabinets should be seen to be fully appreciated. We heartily invite all those considering a talking machine to write for literature containing interesting chats on Period furniture, as well as scientific data on the Pathe method of recording and reproducing sound.

Supreme By Pathe Records

The Pathe records are the world's best music—best in the reproduced—best in the extent of the repertoire. The Pathe methods of recording differ from that of any other records, while the number of great singers and musical artists famous in all lands is most extensive and complete.
