Sporting Notes

New York Amateur Hockey League has suspended. Nearly all its players are in uniform.

Christy Mathewson evidently intends to have a new team of Reds for next year, for last week the Cincinnati club asked for a bunch of waivers on players. The Brooklyn club claimed Clarence Mitchell, southpaw pitcher. All major league clubs are said to have passed on Dave Shean, who at that looks better than some second basemen in the majors who could be named if it wasn't for hurting their feelings.

Veteran baseball writers "covering" the world's series formed a new organization during the series. It is composed of men who have been writing baseball for at least 15 continuous years. Out of some fifty or sixty who were on the job during the series but seventeen were found eligible for membership in the new organization of "Deans." Charley Dryden was elected supreme dean. He started writing baseball in 1884. Sam Crane, who started to scribble about the game in 1880 was elected super dean. The deans will meet again in Philadelphia in 1918 so it is announced, but whether they expect to see a world's series in the Quaker City is not stated.

Providence fans are awakening to the fact that in the pending baseball changes they may lose their franchise in Class AA league and have nothing better than Class A, possibly Class B, as their portion. It remains to be seen if the situation will awaken the Rhode Island fans. For several years they have been given a high grade of baseball, yet have failed to warm up to it. When their abbit was a dislike for alien owners the club was secured by local people, but the results were no better. The past season the team was handled by Jack Egan, than whom there is no more popular baseball man in Providence and Egan making his debut as an International League manager, was in the pennant fight all the way, yet the public continued lukewarm. Providence will have no one but itself to blame in case it fails to get consideration in any plans that may be in the making.

George Stallings has found something to be happy over, in spite of the poor showing of his Braves. At a live stock show in Georgia he took two first prizes with the cattle he exhibited from his farm near Haddocks and he was highly complimented on his exhibit by stock men from far and near.

HOCKEY PROSPECTS.

Believed That O.H.A. Team From Garrison is Sure.

The hockey prospects for Kingston are not pressing subjects of conversation just yet, but there are reasonable assurances that this city will not suffer greatly this season for want of the old game. The local batteries and other units contain some splendid players. These men have played O.H.A., and in other leagues before becoming soldiers. Their experience as players will be in great demand and at least one if not more garrison teams for the O.H.A. will be formed.

Major W. J. McManus is very anxious to start this matter now, so that all preparations can be made in plenty of time for the winter. To do so he is arranging for a garrison league. Any O.H.A. team or other aggregation to play outside games will be chosen from the best players in it. This garrison league will furnish many games and train the players and form the organization for the more important contests.

JUVENILE HOCKEY LEAGUE

Five Teams in Senior and Four in Junior Series.

An enthusiastic meeting was held on Thursday evening in St. George's hall to organize the Kingston Juvenile Hockey League for the coming season. The greatest efforts will be put forth to make this league better than ever. Another meeting is to be called to draw up a schedule and elect officers. Rev. C. Whalley presided.

The teams which will be entered this year will probably be as follows:

- Senior—Regiopolis, St. Mary's, St. George's, Wanderers and Collegiates.
- Junior—Collegiates, Regiopolis, St. Mary's and St. George's.

Baseball Merger Dead Issue.

The proposed baseball merger is now a dead issue, and the "Union League" is a thing of the past for this season at any rate. The Louisville convention has dealt the live baseball cities in the American Association and International a body blow, and for next season at any rate the local fans will have to put up with the same old faces, that is providing the International operate. It will be remembered that the magnates at a meeting held in New York during the world's series were in favor of disbanding until after the war. Toronto was the only club that made money during the season, but President Ed. Barrow will no doubt now hunt around and get good baseball cities to take over the franchise of the Richmond and Montreal Clubs. If he is successful the magnates are trenching to the very last ounce. In the meantime the clubs that were left out of the merger are enjoying a hearty laugh.

Renewed Lady Curlers.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Curling Club, Renfrew, was well attended, the outcome of which will be a largely increased membership this winter, and renewed enthusiasm. The following officers were chosen. Hon. President, Miss Martin; President, Cathie Barr; Vice President, Miss Fitzsimon; Secretary, Treasurer, Miss Eva Hynes; Committee, Mrs. G. French, Mrs. Dewey, Miss Grace Ritchie, Miss Corkery, Miss Kelly, Miss Martin.
