URNS TURTLE AND BURNS SOME PECULIAR PLEAS

A THRILLING AUTO ACCIDENT NEAR KINGSTON MILLS

Seeley's Bay Party Met With a Thrilling Episode—Lawrence Seabrook Burned About Hair and Hands.

With a flare that lighted the sky for a long distance, an automobile carrying Lawrence Seabrook and his two brothers and cousin, the latter, being Miss VanAlstyne, all of Seeley's Bay, turned turtle and burned up on Saturday night about 9.30 o'clock on the Kingston's Mills road near the foot of Tuttle's hill.

The four were coming to the city from Seeley's Bay, intending to return later in the night to their home. The weather was slightly cold for driving and the side curtains of the car had been put into place, completely enclosing the passengers. When the party reached Kingston Mills the back tire developed a leak and a temporary patch was put on. This did not hold and a second stop had to be made. A lantern was in the car and was left lighted in case a third stop would have to be made.

When the driver, Lawrence Seabrook, was speeding up for the hill he is supposed to have struck a hole in the road, which twisted his axle sufficiently to bend one of the radius rods. This threw the car completely out of control. The automobile swayed from one side to the other and when it reached a point directly opposite Potter's barn it went into the deep ditch and turned turtle with the four wheels sticking up in the air.

The four passengers were caught under the car but all had a miraculous escape, although Lawrence Seabrook was severely burned about the hair and hands.

The lantern started the fire which, within a very few minutes completely consumed every inflammable part of the car. The gasoline tank did not explode fortunately.

The car was such a wreck that the four people left it on the road and came to the city.

Miss Van Alstyne is a daughter of A. Van Alstyne, an employee of the Anglin Bros' garage.

ABOUT PTE. J. O. WAGER

Chaplain at Seaford Doing Good Work Among Soldiers.
Mrs. J. Overton Wager, Enterprise, has received a letter from Major A. D. Corbett, senior chaplain, Canadian Forces, Seaford and Capt. W. H. Wood supervisor of the Y.M.C.A., Seaford Area. The letter reads: "You will be interested to know that Pte. J. O. Wager, 6th Reserve Battalion, has attended the religious services conducted by Rev. W. A. Cameron, Toronto, and has signed one of the decision cards. This voluntary act on his part will indicate one of two things either that he has decided to become a follower of Christ, or having already made that decision, he has expressed a desire to take a forward step in the service of Christ's Kingdom. This letter is being sent at his own request."

TO INVEST IN VICTORY LOAN

Queen's A. M. S. Is To Help in the Campaign.

At the meeting of the Alma Mater Society of Queen's University on Saturday night a committee appointed at the last meeting to ascertain if an election poll could be established at the university, reported that only the Ontario students could vote in this city. A conference with Principal Gordon elicited the information that a move was about to be made to have examinations held one week earlier.

William Embury was appointed second vice-president of the society. A notice of motion has been given that $500 be invested in the Victory Loan. This constitutes the reserve fund of the society.

An election committee consisting of Messrs. M. Boe, H. B. Welsh, J. M. Hazlett, McKillop, T. P. Love and A. R. Garrett was appointed.

Alverson H. Aseltine.

The Economist of Baltimore, Md., has this to say about a former Kingstonian:

Alverson H. Aseltine, who recently resigned from the National City Company, has become identified with the bond department of the Equitable Trust Company of New York. Mr. Aseltine has a very wide acquaintance with bankers and investment firms throughout the United States and Canada, having been for over fifteen years traveling representative of the Commercial and Financial Chronicle of New York, and has visited many times every town and city in the country.

Some Small Gentlemen!

At a recent political gathering in Essex county, Thomas Rawley declared that Sir Robert Borden had been at the head of the "most corrupt, most rotten" government in the history of any nation.

"A government so rotten that it furnished rifles to our soldiers that were no better than clubs," Rawley said. "A government so rotten that the man in the moon holds his hand to his nose when passing over Ottawa, and so unpatriotic that it associated with Bourassa followers."

Fire Chief Improving.

Fire Chief James Armstrong is still confined to the General Hospital, as a result of the injuries he received in the fire at Boyd's garage, two weeks ago, but is reported to be doing nicely, and it was stated on Monday, that he may be able to go to his home the latter part of this week.

Drew Large Audiences.

"A Bird of Paradise" drew large audiences at the Grand Opera House on Saturday afternoon and evening. The company was not up to the standard of those that previously produced this interesting drama of Hawaiian life in this city during the past few years.

Lots of voters would have to think for themselves if it wasn't for their political bosses.

FARMERS IN THE NORTH DO NOT TAKE TO MILITARY SERVICE

Transferring Farms to Base a Claim For Exemption—Should Exempt All Farmers.

The Whig has commenced to hear some of the many expressions of opinion and pleas for exemption which are being made in the north country. These people are not living under the same educational conditions as the city and therefore do not take the world conditions in the same light. All seem to thoroughly understand that the war must be won but many prefer to have others to the winning for them.

One lady, an old resident of a place north of Sharbot Lake, said to one of the members of the tribunal, "Do you know what I think. I say that every pool room in the cities should be closed. Every moving picture theatre should be stopped, except maybe to men in khaki. Then if you exempt all the farmers Canada would be able to do its part in the war."

There is great scrambling through the country to have every farmer working "his own" farm. One case developed by cross examination showed that an eleven year-old boy owned a farm. This came to light when a farmer made the statement that his 1,000 acre was divided into three farms, each of which was owned by one of his sons. The transfer had been made about ten years ago, according to the father's statement. This would bring the twenty-one year old man the possessor and worker of some 350 acres when he was only eleven years old.

There are cases where the farmer should be exempt. Perhaps not enough consideration is shown. There are many cases however, where the attempts to "duck" the draft have to be exposed.

The Sentinel's Representative.
Miss M. C. Gill, assistant editor of the Sentinel of Toronto, the official organ of the Orange Order of Canada, reported the proceedings in the Basil-Spratt action for that paper. Miss Gill is a graduate of McMaster university. She commented upon the courtesies extended the press by the counsel in the case and went home with a fine impression of the city which once was called the Derry of Canada.
