Sporting Notes

"Rob" Russell, Chicago Southpaw, who lasted about one minute in the series against New York will have an operation shortly to remove a growth from his salary wing.

Guesses at economy policy for the big leagues includes one to the effect that the National and American will return to the single umpire system. Why not cut out the shortstop as well.

A star of the 1914 world's baseball series is now said to be in the trenches in France. He is serving as a color sergeant. Name was deleted by the censor to prevent the German scouts gaining valuable information.

Hockey season in Detroit will open on Thanksgiving Day, November 29th, with a game between Detroit and Hamilton. Detroit is in fight again with the Ontario Hockey Association, so Ottawa and Montreal teams will likely be side-stepped.

Quebec Hockey Club appears to be imposing on good nature. The other clubs in the E.C.I. should hand them their hat and ask what's their hurry.

The death is announced of James B. McVey, one of the great Shamrock lacrosse players of Montreal two decades ago. He played on the home side, and did much to win the championship in 1892, which was one of the most brilliant years the Shamrocks ever had.

Joe Jenkins, a catcher of the world's champion Chicago White Sox, has arrived at Camp Gordon, Atlanta, Ga., as a select man.

Lieut. Earle MacCallum, a star hockey player of London, has been killed in action.

Many New York boxing authorities are of the opinion that there was something funny about the knockout administered by Mike O'Dowd to champion McCoy on Wednesday night.

President Charles Weeghman, of the Chicago Cubs, has purchased outfielder McCabe, of the St. Joseph club, of the Western League.

It is rumored that there may be two professional hockey teams in Winnipeg this winter, the promoters counting upon most of the amateurs to make the jump.

The annual financial statement of the National Amateur Athletic Association of Montreal showed that the lacrosse team lost over one thousand dollars last summer.

Intimations come of several changes in the National League status of umpires for next year. Two new candidates for positions are Chasley Moran, who worked successfully in the Southern League last season, and before that in the Texas circuit, and Bill Friel, veteran of the American Association, where he has a good record as umpire and manager as well.

Tilton Robertson, brother of Outfielder Dave Robertson, of the Giants, died on Nov. 5th at Anniston, Ala., where he was in camp with the Virginia National Guard. The next day Dave was called for examination under the draft, and he was quoted as saying that, even if he escaped service, he probably would quit baseball because of the death of his brother.

It's Aid Harry Davis now. At the recent municipal election in Philadelphia, the veteran captain of Connie Mack's Athletics was elected to represent his ward in the Quaker City Common Council. He ran on three tickets, Town Meeting, Republican and Democratic, says the report from Philadelphia, which leads one to wonder who and what opposed him anyway.

HARNESS MEN PREPARING

Walter Cox is Purchasing Grand Circuit Candidates.

Walter R. Cox, the leading driver of this season in the Grand Circuit, with more than $80,000 to his credit, is already collecting his candidates for next year's campaign. From James P. McNichol, of Philadelphia, he recently received the promising five-year-old trotting stallion, Belcham, by Belshire II, out of Wilhelmna, by Box Elder. Bred and developed by Henry Horn, a farmer, near London, Canada, this horse trotted a mile in 3:12 3-4, with the half in 1:05, on the two lap ring there, when purchased for Mr. McNichol a few weeks ago by C. J. Fitzgerald, press representative of the Jockey Club. Mr. Fitzgerald, who owned his sire and his grandsire, says Belcham is one of the best galloped trotters he has seen and predicts that Cox will drive him to a record of 2:05.

Pro. Hockey for 'Peg.

Winnipeg may have professional hockey this winter. The scheme is to comprise two city teams and the winners challenge for the Stanley Cup. It is understood that the series will be former, providing Laughlin, Dick Irvin, Stan Marples and "Cully" Wilson, four of the Coast League stars, remain in the city. It is said that the Patriots will not come across with enough money to take the Winnipeg players to the Coast this winter.

Latest Racing Story.

The latest rumor in racing circles is that horse racing will be resumed next year under a big Government scheme, with Chris Fitzgerald at its head. The report, of course, lacks confirmation. Nothing has yet been done, though the aforementioned plan has been suggested from several sources. If the sport is resumed the profits of the clubs will, in all probability, be restricted.

PROMOTERS' GREED IS BOXING'S RUIN

Ill-advised Tactics of Managers and Others Responsible for Sport's Downfall.

Professional boxing has gone into the discard in New York State, and henceforward it will be illegal to conduct professional boxing bouts within the confines of New York State, but already come the ill-considered promoters, sanguine that the authorities will be tolerant, are arranging to circumvent the law by holding bouts under the old "club" system in vogue before the passing of the Frawley law.

The Frawley law was repealed for practically the same reasons as the Horton law, which was revoked on September 1st, 1900. The passing of boxing was at that time attributed to lack of diplomacy and sharp practice by the boxing trust. In the old days coterie of promoters believed their rule of pugilistic entertainments would continue indefinitely and openly antagonized many persons in power in the State Government.

They permitted scenes of disorder and faked bouts frequently. Then the law stepped in and kicked them out. And, again, it was the ill-advised tactics of some promoters and some of those who had been appointed to administer the affairs of boxing that combined to encompass the downfall of boxing under the Frawley law.

When the Frawley law was enacted on July 26th, 1911, the future for the game in New was bright indeed. But eventually the pastime fell into ill-repute. The Frawley law was drawn and introduced by Senator Frawley on Wednesday, May 3rd. It had been framed with the assistance of a number of prominent sportsmen and was the first measure of its kind to be adopted. It provided for the appointment of a commission of three members to investigate the state of the sport, and in this body was invested the jurisdiction over all boxing exhibitions within the State, the bouts being limited to ten rounds, and no decisions. All boxing clubs were compelled under the act to file a bond in the sum of $10,000 with the State Controller, and the commission was also authorized to collect a tax of five per cent. of the total gross receipts from the sale of all tickets.

Boxing went along in the even tenor of its way until last winter, when the State investigation ordered by Governor Whitman into the Wenck case revealed such a condition in connection with the administration of boxing affairs that the Governor was compelled to remove Wenck, his own appointee, as chairman of the Athletic Commission. This followed the decision to put boxing under the ban.

ALL-AMERICA TEAM IN AMERICAN NAVY

Newport Naval Training Station Has Great Galaxy of Gridiron Stars.

The nearest approach to an All-America football team that has ever been seen in action on the gridiron is the eleven that "Cupid" Black is leading at the Newport Naval Training Station. Practically every man on the roster has been mentioned at some time as a selection for an all-something-or-other team. The line-up includes such well known stars as Callahan, once centre for Yale; Schlachter, who made quite a reputation as a guard at Syracuse; Green, who was a tower of strength as an end at Dartmouth; Barrett, All-America choice for quarterback in 1915 while playing with Cornell; Gerish, who won football fame playing in backfield of Michigan; Hite, who shone while chasing the pig hide for Kentucky University; Gardner, formerly of Nebraska, besides Black, who was the All-America choice for guard last season.

It is a powerful combination of football celebrities, and in spite of the fact that most of the players are great individual stars, there is no lack of team play to mar the work of the machine on the gridiron. No football team in the history of the sport has ever boasted a greater galaxy of real stars.

DETROIT HOCKEY SEASON

Anticipates Games With Teams From Various Ontario Towns.

A city hockey league made up of teams from various automobile factories is projected for the great Canadian winter pastime in Detroit this winter.

Manager Brown of the Arena, who recently made the trip through Ontario to line up games for the Detroit septette, visited Toronto, Hamilton, London and Sarnia and is confident his team will have plenty of opposition from the Canadian side.

Nothing new has developed during the past week regarding the formation of the Middle Western Hockey League to include Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago and Pittsburg, but a meeting will shortly be held to take definite action on the project.

Darcy Left $10,000.

According to Australian papers, Les Darcy, the unfortunate Australian champion, left an estate of less than $10,000. Letters of administration were granted to the father, Edward Darcy, a Maitland farmer. The value of the estate was sworn at $1,715 of which $1,000 was represented by property. Darcy contended when he arrived in America that his object was to make enough to support his family and then he was going to the war. At the time he was rated as being worth anywhere from $50,000 to $100,000. It is evident that he did not accumulate the large sums that were credited to him.

CANADIANS BUILD GOOD FOUNDATION

Three Years of Baseball Missionary Work Earns Support of Americans.

In spite of the war, sport in England during the past summer has enjoyed quite the best season since the great conflict began. Baseball has proved a great drawing card, and interest increased by leaps and bounds. From small crowds of one or two thousand, the gates went up to as many as 15,000 people who witnessed some of the games.

A competition arranged on the knockout principle among the overseas military forces of Canada in the British Isles attracted the large number of 101 entries, and the final game was recently decided in London between the two survivors—the Epsom Canadian Convalescent Hospital team and the 198th Battalion (Canadian Buffs) from Witley. Although Epsom was by 7 to 1, due to some wonderful pitching by Serget. Doyle and the fine support of the catcher, Pte. G. Glover, the game was followed with intense enthusiasm by a large and noisy crowd.

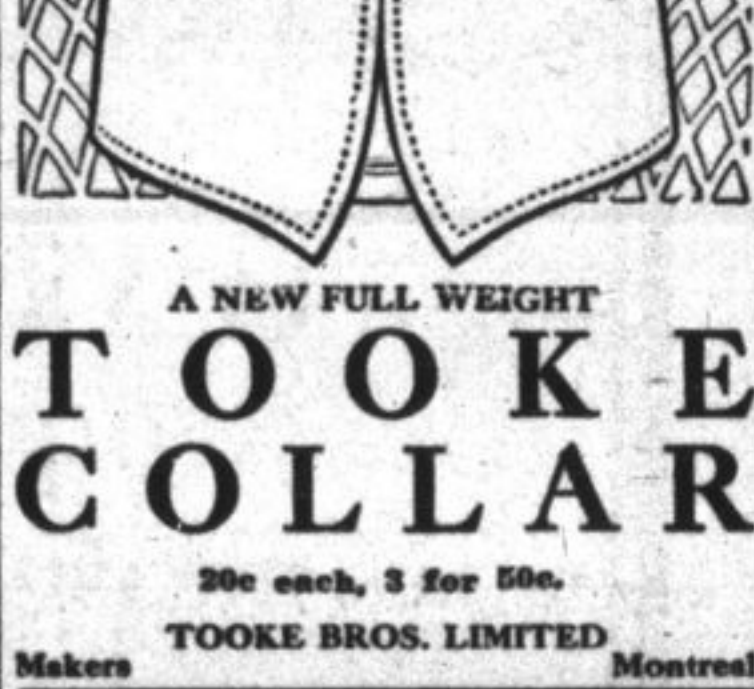

Next summer "ball" will carry every competition in the south of England drove the star players to the north, where the leagues arranged in Yorkshire and Lancashire attract a lot of attention. Golf has suffered more than any other sport, numbers of the prominent players being on active service. The exhibition games by the leading "pros" have drawn well, one played last month at Sunningdale, when Harry Vardon and James Braid opposed J. H. Taylor and Jack White, attracting 2,000 people, which, with donations and the result of auctions of clubs of famous players, benefited the Red Cross Fund to the extent of about $6,500.

Athletics had a good season, the leading clubs—Ranelagh, Blackheath, Finchley, Thames Valley and Shaftesbury—all enjoying attractive cards. The naval and military carnival netted $2,000 for the benefit of the disabled and wounded. Tennis retained its popularity, and was indulged in to a great extent all over the country. Dick Burge's ceaseless efforts to cater to followers of boxing have resulted in many thousands of dollars being added to the various war funds, and since the National Sporting Club opened its doors for the season last month many attractive bouts have taken place, and a fine schedule has been arranged for the coming winter.

John Teneff says he intends to crack the whip a little in the National League next year. The old National can certainly stand a little Simon Legree stuff.
